To our Readers:

This is a "working copy" of the Legislative Manual for the Tennessee House of Representatives, 100th General Assembly. I am told that long ago this Office produced a somewhat similar document.

Based on numerous requests for Legislative information, we felt it was appropriate to revive this Manual with an updated format and updated information. Some of the information in this Manual is in direct response to inquiries frequently made by legislators, staff, and the public. Other portions contain information we felt would be helpful or of interest to our readers. It is by no means exhaustive. As the manual evolves over time, we hope to include additional information based on responses we receive from readers.

Should your review of this working copy reveal that any information is inaccurate or needs to be updated, please feel free to contact us. Readers should be aware that the legislative process is continually evolving. Rules, procedures, policies, and personnel can change. Any comments you have will be welcome.

We hope you find this Manual helpful.

BRANCHES OF TENNESSEE STATE GOVERNMENT

Under the Constitution of Tennessee, the powers of Tennessee State Government are divided into three distinct or separate, but equal, branches or "departments": the Legislative, the Executive, and the Judicial. (Likewise, under the Constitution of the United States, federal government is divided into the same three branches.) None of the powers properly belonging to one branch can be exercised by any person in either of the other two branches -- "separation of powers".

THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

"The Supreme Executive power of this State shall be vested in a Governor," according to Article III of the Constitution of Tennessee. The Governor is the highest state official. He heads the executive branch of the state government, and in this capacity as chief executive he is generally held accountable for overall administration during his term of office. He must see that the laws are enforced, that the taxes are collected, that public money is wisely spent.

He is the recognized leader of all the citizens in the State, and in addition, is the state leader of his political party. As such, the Governor has a strong voice in shaping the policies of the national party of which he is a member. The Governor is the spokesman for all the people of Tennessee in national matters and their representative where a single voice is needed in matters of concern outside the boundaries of the State.

The Governor is commander-in-chief of the "Army and Navy of this state" and of the Tennessee National Guard. The Governor has the power to grant reprieves and pardons, except in cases of impeachment.

The Governor is elected by the people of the state, specifically by the electors of the members of the General Assembly. He must be at least 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and a citizen of Tennessee seven years preceding his election. The Governor's term is four years, and he holds office until a successor is elected and qualified. Tennessee governors can now serve for additional four-year terms but are limited to no more than two consecutive terms. The succession provision was added to the Constitution in 1978 while the governor's term was increased from two to four years in 1953. The Governor is paid a salary of $85,000 and is furnished an official residence and expenses for its operation.

While the General Assembly has the sole power to pass bills, the Governor must receive every bill before it can become law. He then has the right to approve a bill by signing it into law; he can refuse to sign a bill, returning it with his objections in writing to the house in which the bill originated (that is, he can veto the bill); or he can fail to return a bill with his objections during the ten-day period he has to consider a bill after it is presented to him and the bill will become law without his signature. Every joint resolution, except those dealing with adjournment of the General Assembly and those proposing specific amendments to the Constitution (such as the tax relief for the elderly, low-income homeowner proposal which was approved by the electorate in November of 1982) must likewise be presented to the Governor for his consideration.

He has veto powers on joint resolutions as well as on bills. In addition, the Governor may reduce or disapprove sums of money appropriated in bills, while approving other portions of such bills. The portions approved become law, while the portions reduced or disapproved are void to the extent reduced or disapproved unless both houses of the General Assembly "override" such "item vetoes" by repassing the bill or specific item, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding. A majority of the members to which each body is entitled is required to override veto (50 of the 99 members of the House and 17 of the 33 members of the Senate).

The Governor also has the right to call a special session of the legislature and to appoint judges and chancellors to fill vacancies caused by death or resignation.

To assist him in the operation of the government, the Governor appoints commissioners to head the various departments. These commissioners, plus some of the highest ranking members of the Governor's own staff, constitute the "Governor's Cabinet". Commissioners do not receive legislative confirmation. They report directly to him or to him through one of his staff members. While the commissioners are located in offices generally near Capitol Hill, the Governor and his staff are located on the ground and first floors of the Capitol.

If a vacancy occurs in the office of Governor during the first 18 months of the term, the person succeeding to the office vacated holds office until a successor is elected for the remainder of the original term at the next election for members of the General Assembly. If a vacancy occurs in the office after the first 18 months of the term, the successor holds office until the expiration of the original term.

When a vacancy occurs in the office of Governor due to removal, death, or resignation, the order of succession to the office is Speaker of the Senate (who serves statutorily as Lieutenant Governor of the State of Tennessee), Speaker of the House of Representatives, Secretary of State, the Comptroller of the Treasury, then the Treasurer.

THE JUDICIAL BRANCH

The Constitution provides that the judicial power of the State is to be vested "in one Supreme Court, and in such Circuit, Chancery and other inferior Courts as the Legislature shall from time to time, ordain and establish." The function of the judicial branch of government is to "interpret" the laws. The judicial structure of the State consists of the courts with purely local jurisdiction, such as justice of peace courts, courts of general sessions, and county courts; regional or district courts of original jurisdiction empowered to adjudicate civil and criminal cases and cases in equity, such as circuit courts and chancery courts; and appellate courts, including the court of appeals for civil cases, the court of criminal appeals, and the State's highest tribunal, the Supreme Court, which hears both civil and criminal cases. The Constitution also provides for an Attorney-General and Reporter for the State in the judicial department and a district attorney for each circuit for which a judge having criminal jurisdiction is provided by law.

TENNESSEE COURT SYSTEM

The Supreme Court

The Supreme Court consists of five judges, of whom not more than two shall reside in any one of the three grand divisions of the state. The justices are elected in statewide elections for terms of eight years. The justices designate one of their members to preside as Chief Justice. The designation and duties are usually rotated among the five members during the eight-year term. The Supreme Court is required to meet in Knoxville, Nashville, and Jackson.

Every judge of the Supreme Court shall be at least 35 years of age and shall have been a resident of this State for at least five years before his election. The Supreme Court has jurisdiction to review all cases appealed from lower courts. Such appeals do not have to be granted, except for capital punishment cases. Supreme Court decisions are intended to resolve controversies arising out of questions of Tennessee law and serve as guidelines for future cases in lower courts. (In addition to the qualifications listed above for Supreme Court justices, there are additional qualifications of United States citizenship, Tennessee citizenship, and a license to practice law in this State.)

The following are currently members of the Supreme Court:

E. Riley Anderson., Chief Justice
Adolpho A. Birch, Jr, Associate Justice
Frank F. Drowota, Associate Justice
Lyle Reid, Associate Justice
Janice Holder, Associate Justice
The Administrative Director of the Court is Charles Ferrell, phone number 741-2687.

The Lower Courts

Judges of circuit, chancery, and other lower courts are elected by the voters of the district or circuit involved. Such judges must be at least 30 years of age, shall have been a resident of the State for 5 years before his election, and shall have been a resident of the circuit or district one year. Terms of office are eight years. Chancery Courts are the traditional equity courts in Tennessee. Circuit Courts have jurisdiction to hear law cases and are not limited by a maximum monetary jurisdiction; circuit courts also have appellate jurisdiction over most minor courts. Criminal Courts have jurisdiction over cases involving persons charged with commission of a crime; they have appellate jurisdiction for misdemeanor appeals from lower courts. The next level includes courts of limited or special jurisdiction, such as Probate Courts, Juvenile Courts, and General Sessions Courts. The lowest level courts in Tennessee are Municipal Courts which primarily handle municipal ordinance violations.

There are two intermediate appellate courts established by law -- the Court of Appeals and the Court of Criminal Appeals. The Court of Appeals hears appeals only in civil cases from the lower courts. The Court of Criminal Appeals can hear most felony and misdemeanor appeals from general trial courts, as well as post-conviction petitions. The Court of Appeals has 12 judges while the Court of Criminal Appeals has nine. These judges shall be not less than 30 years of age, shall have been a citizen and resident of the State for at least five years prior to appointment or election, and shall be licensed to practice law in Tennessee.

Attorney General and Reporter

The Attorney General is the State's chief legal officer. The Supreme Court appoints the Attorney General and Reporter for the State of Tennessee for an eight-year term.

The Attorney General is probably best known for representing officers and agencies of State Government in all civil litigation in state and federal courts. The Office of Attorney General also prosecutes all criminal cases in the appellate courts and has original prosecution rights in the areas of securities and state contract frauds. The Office also institutes civil actions for antitrust violations and consumer fraud. Besides courtroom duties, the Attorney General provides legal advice to state officers and members of the General Assembly. Opinions on interpretation or constitutionality of statutes are rendered to state and local officials on request.

The present Attorney General and Reporter is Knox Walkup, who was sworn in February 14, 1997.

THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The legislative authority of the State of Tennessee is vested in the General Assembly, which consists of a Senate and a House of Representatives, both dependent on the people (that is, popularly elected). The name of the legislative authority may vary from state to state, but usually it is called the Legislature or the General Assembly. The official title in our state is the "General Assembly of the State of Tennessee", but it is entirely proper to refer to the "Legislature".

In general, the functions of the Legislature are to enact, amend, and repeal the laws of Tennessee. Some of the specific powers granted to the General Assembly by the State Constitution include: the appropriation of all money to be paid out of the State treasury; the levy and collection of taxes and the right to authorize counties and incorporated towns to levy taxes.

The Senate is sometimes referred to as the "Upper House" while the House is referred to as the "Lower House". Each house is the judge of the qualifications and election of its members. A quorum of two-thirds of all the members to which a house is entitled is required to transact any business; a smaller number can only adjourn from day to day and may compel the attendance of absent members. Each house determines the rules of proceedings of its body, punishes its members for disorderly behavior and can expel a member.

Members are, except for treason, felonies, or breach of the peace, privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly and in going to and from session. Members shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech or debate in either house. Neither house can adjourn for more than three days without the consent of the other (gained by concurrence in a joint resolution).

The number of Representatives shall be 99 and shall be apportioned by the General Assembly among the several counties or districts as provided by law, within certain guidelines handed down by the courts since the Baker vs. Carr decision in 1965.[1] Each district shall be represented by a qualified voter of that district.

No person may be a Representative unless he is a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, a citizen of Tennessee for at least three years, and a resident in the county he represents one year immediately preceding the election. The term of office of State Representatives is two years; and Representatives hold office for two years from the date of the general election, except the Speaker who holds office beyond the general election and until his successor is chosen even if he does not run for re-election or is defeated in the primary or general election.

Many of Tennessee's 95 counties have one or more direct representatives but smaller counties are combined into multi-county districts.

The House of Representatives shares the powers and duties of the General Assembly with the Senate, except that the House has the sole power to originate impeachment proceedings which are prosecuted before the Senate.

The number of Senators shall not exceed one-third the number of Representatives and has remained at 33 by law since 1883 when the number of Representatives was increased to 99. Senators, too, are apportioned by the General Assembly among the several counties or districts substantially according to population.[2] Each district in the Senate shall be represented by a qualified voter of that district and, by law, each Senator must have been a qualified voter of his district for one year immediately before he seeks election therefrom. Also, no person may be a Senator unless he is a citizen of the United States, at least 30 years of age, and a citizen of Tennessee for at least three years.

The term of office of State Senator is four years, with those from districts designated by even numbers running in one general election and those from odd-numbered districts running in the next general election. This process is generally referred to as "staggered terms". Senators represent one or more counties, or in the case of the four urban counties, represent a senatorial district within the county.

The Senate shares the powers and duties of the General Assembly with the House of Representatives, except that the Senate has the power to try impeachment proceedings initiated in the House. The Speaker is elected in a manner similar to that described above for the Speaker of the House.

When the seat of any member of the House or Senate becomes vacant and less than twelve months remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor is elected by the legislative body of the replaced legislator's county of residence at the time of his or her election. The term of any Senator or Representative so elected expires at the next general election for legislators. When twelve months or more remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor is elected by the qualified voters of the district of the replaced legislator. An interim successor can be appointed by the replaced legislator's county legislative body until such time as the election is held to elect a successor.

The General Assembly convenes on the second Tuesday in January of each odd-numbered year for an organizational session of not more than 15 calendar days, during which time no legislation may be enacted to re-convene no later than the Tuesday following the organizational session adjournment to commence its regular session. The General Assembly may then recess or adjourn from time to time as it shall determine. Members may receive their expense and travel allowances for not more than 90 legislative days of a regular session, nor for more than 30 legislative days of a special, or called, session. The Governor or the General Assembly, by proper petition, can call the General Assembly into extraordinary session at any intervening time. Special sessions called by the Governor were held on Education in 1984, Corrections in 1985, Education and Finance in 1992, and to celebrate Tennessee's Bicentennial in 1996.

When the Legislature initially convenes, the first order of business is the swearing in of the members-elect. The two bodies meet in their respective chambers and the members take an oath of office swearing to support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of Tennessee and to perform their official duties impartially without favor or prejudice and to always protect the rights of the people.

The membership of each body then elects a presiding officer or speaker.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives is elected by the entire membership of the House. However, the majority party's nominee for the speakership is usually elected. The minority party sometimes nominates candidates for the post of Speaker, especially if the membership of the House is fairly equally divided between the two major political parties.

The Speaker of the Senate is elected by the members of the Senate for a two-year term (the lifetime of a General Assembly); and he, too, holds office beyond the general election and until his successor is chosen even if he does not run for re-election or is defeated in the primary or general election. The Speaker of the Senate does not have to be a member of that body. The Speaker of the Senate is, by statute, the Lieutenant Governor of the State and first in succession to the Governor, should a vacancy occur. (Tennessee is the only state with this means of choosing its Lieutenant Governor.)

The Officers of the bodies are then chosen. In the House, the Speaker appoints a Chief Clerk, an Assistant Chief Clerk, a Chief Engrossing Clerk, and a Chief Sergeant-At-Arms. In the Senate, all officers are appointed by the Speaker.

Each body then adopts its rules of procedure and the speakers appoint certain standing committees to give initial consideration to proposed legislation and report recommendations to the full body for action.

CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS

There are three officers in the State commonly known as Constitutional Officers: the Secretary of State, the Comptroller, and the Treasurer. The Constitution provides that each shall be elected by the members of the General Assembly; the Secretary of State for four years and the Comptroller and Treasurer for two years each.

The Secretary of State is mandated by the Constitution to keep a register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor. That office also keeps all acts and resolutions adopted by the General Assembly and signed by the Governor. Statute also requires duties relating to corporate charters, trademarks, notary commissions, State Administrative Rules and Regulations. The Secretary of State serves on the State Funding Board, Board of Equalization, Board of Claims, State Building Commission, Library and Archives Management Board, School Bond Authority, Publications Committee, Public Records Commission, Tennessee Housing Development Agency, Board of Trustees of Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System, State Capitol Commission, Tennessee Competitive Export Corporation and others. The Election Commission and State Library and Archives are in this department. They have offices in the State Capitol as well as the James K. Polk State Office Building.

The Comptroller of the Treasury is responsible for audits of State and local government entities and participates in the general financial and administrative management of State Government. The Comptroller is a member of the State Building Commission, State Capitol Commission, Board of Claims, Board of Equalization, State Funding Board, Tennessee State School Bond Authority, Tennessee Local Development Authority, Tennessee Housing Development Agency, Board of Standards, Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System Board of Trustees, Health Facilities Commission, Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation, Publications Committee, Public Records Commission, State Insurance Committee, Local Education Insurance Committee, Local Government Insurance Committee, State Library and Archives Management Board, Tennessee Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, Information Systems Council, Tennessee Competitive Export Corporation, State Trust of Tennessee Board of Directors, Child Care Facilities Corporation, Governor's Council on Health and Physical Fitness, Sports Festivals, Inc., Utility Management Review Board, Tennessee Commodity Producers Indemnity Corporation, Worker's Compensation Insurance Fund Board, Wastewater Financing Board, Council on Pensions and Insurance, Higher Education Commission, Task Force on Not-For-Profit Accountability, and the 1996 Bicentennial Commission. The Capitol Print Shop is part of the Comptroller's Office. The Comptroller has an office in the State Capitol and offices in the James K. Polk State Office Building.

The State Treasurer is charged with various duties including accounting for the receipt and disbursement of public funds, investing available cash balances, administering the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System and investing the pension fund, operating the State's Unclaimed Property Program, administering the State Employee's Deferred Compensation Program and directing the staff of the Division of Claims Administration. The Treasurer is a member of the Funding Board, Board of Claims, Board of Equalization, School Bond Authority, Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation, State Library and Archives Management Board, State Employee Group Insurance Committee, Tennessee Competitive Export Corporation, Tennessee Housing Development Agency, Local Development Authority, Defense Counsel Commission, Council on Pensions and Retirement, Public Records Commission, State Building Commission, Board of Trustees of the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System, Investment Advisory Council, State Capitol Commission. The Treasurer has an office in the State Capitol; staff offices are in the Andrew Jackson State Office Building.

CONSTITUTIONAL OFFICERS

There are three officers in the State commonly known as Constitutional Officers: the Secretary of State, the Comptroller, and the Treasurer. The Constitution provides that each shall be elected by the members of the General Assembly; the Secretary of State for four years and the Comptroller and Treasurer for two years each.

The Secretary of State is mandated by the Constitution to keep a register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor. That office also keeps all acts and resolutions adopted by the General Assembly and signed by the Governor. The Treasurer has an office in the State Capitol; staff offices are in the Andrew Jackson State Office Building.

LAWMAKING IN TENNESSEE

TYPES OF LEGISLATION

In Tennessee, formal expressions of legislative intent may be made in any of three ways: (1) bills; (2) resolutions; and (3) joint resolutions.

BILLS

A bill is a form in which a proposed law is drafted for introduction in the Legislature, and it remains a bill until final legislative and executive action is taken on it.

Acts, public and private, are the end results of bills and do not become acts until they are passed in identical form by both houses of the Legislature and are (1) signed by the governor; or (2) allowed to become a law by the governor's failure to return the bill stating his objections to it, within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it has been presented to him; or (3) passed by a majority of all the members of each house, notwithstanding the objections of the governor, where he has vetoed the bill.

In Tennessee, the terms--public acts, general acts, public laws and general laws--are used interchangeably in referring to legislative enactments of statewide application, although "public acts" is the official designation. There are three types of bills in Tennessee.

General bills apply to all areas of the state and amend the TCA, though the Attorney General has ruled that, in certain circumstances, counties may be excluded on vote of the membership.

General bills of local application are acts which amend the Tennessee Code but, rather than applying statewide, apply to only specific areas of the state. These areas are usually designated by population brackets.

Private, local, or special acts refer to acts applicable to one subdivision or part of the state and require approval of the legislative body governing the area to which the act applies.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions, unlike bills, do not become the law of the state when acted upon by the Legislature, but serve merely to express the will of the majority of the body by which they are adopted. Resolutions are termed House Resolutions or Senate Resolutions, depending upon the house in which they are adopted. Resolutions passed by both houses are joint resolutions.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Joint resolutions are a higher form of expression of the legislative will than resolutions, and, although they are not laws, they do have the force of law for certain limited purposes. If they originate in the Senate, they are Senate Joint Resolutions; if they originate in the House, they are House Joint Resolutions. Except for adjournment and constitutional amendment resolutions, Joint resolutions require the approval of the governor and are subject to the same rules as bills with reference to vetoes, passage over the governor's veto, and taking effect upon failure of the governor to sign or veto them.

THE STEPS IN PASSING A BILL

The following represents the normal procedure in transforming a bill into law. The steps below describe passage of general bills. The procedure is somewhat different for local bills. A simplified chart follows.

INTRODUCTION

A legislator may introduce a bill in the body of which he is a member by filing it with the appropriate clerk. Bills must be typewritten on letter size paper (8 1/2" by 11") and are introduced in the original and one copy. Both the bill and copy are jacketed in manuscript covers of different and distinctive colors. The signature or signatures of the member, or members, sponsoring the bill must be placed on the cover. It also must contain the caption of the bill.

NUMBERED BY CHIEF CLERK

The bill is then examined by the Chief Clerk of the House or Senate to see that it conforms to legislative rules, is given a number which is placed on all copies, and is then distributed as required under the rules.

Since the Tennessee Constitution provides that no bill shall become a law until it shall have been considered and passed on three different days in each house, a somewhat complex procedure then follows concerning the bill.

PASSED ON FIRST CONSIDERATION

A bill must be filed with the Chief Clerk no later than 4:00 p.m. on the day preceding the date of introduction. Any bills pre-filed in conformance with this House and Senate rule are introduced under the proper order of business, while any bills filed after 4:00 p.m. of the preceding day or during that day's session are held for introduction the next day the house is in session. There being no objection, the bill is passed on first consideration.

PASSED ON SECOND CONSIDERATION

The next legislative day following introduction of a bill, the bill is passed on second reading; and is referred by the Speaker to the appropriate standing committee under the proper order of business.

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

After the bill has been referred to committee, it will remain there unless one of the following courses of action is taken to bring it out: (a) the sponsor of the bill appears before the committee to explain the bill, and his motion to have the bill recommended for passage receives a majority of those present and voting in the committee; (b) after seven days in a committee without action being taken, the bill may be recalled from committee by a majority of the members of the Senate or House as the case may be; (c) if the bill is not considered controversial in nature, it is placed on a committee consent calendar and then reported as "recommended for passage" if objection is not raised; or (d) in the House committees, if the sponsor fails to appear before the committee at the scheduled hearing on two occasions and he fails to request that his bill be rescheduled, the bill is returned to the Clerk's desk where it is held pursuant to Rule 81(2); (e) in the Senate committees, if the sponsor fails to appear before the committee at the scheduled hearing and has failed to request that his bill be re-scheduled, the bill is returned to the Clerk's desk for the purpose of being withdrawn from the Senate.

The committee chairmen report committee action taken in reporting bills out of committee to the Chief Clerk. All bills being recommended for passage by the committee are referred automatically to the scheduling committee, which is the House Committee on Calendar and Rules or the Senate Calendar Committee.

REFERRED TO CALENDAR

The House Committee on Calendar and Rules is made up of the Speaker, the speaker pro tempore, the majority leader or his designee, the majority caucus chairman, the minority leader or his designee, the minority caucus chairman, two members each of the majority and minority parties, one chairman, one vice-chairman, and one secretary (appointed by the speaker), and the chairman of each standing committee. This committee sets the calendar and establishes the schedule of meetings of the various standing committees. Unlike the Senate Calendar Committee, the House Calendar and Rules Committee debates the merits of a bill or resolution. While the Senate Calendar Committee determines when a bill will reach the floor for debate, the House Calendar and Rules Committee determines whether a bill will reach the floor.

The Senate Calendar Committee is composed of a chairman and the majority and minority floor leaders. The Senate rules state specifically that the Calendar Committee "shall only act as a scheduling committee and shall not engage in the determination of the merits of a bill or resolution" but shall calendar every bill or resolution referred to it.

PLACED ON CALENDAR

Written calendars (lists of bills to be considered for third reading) are required to be posted in the Senate Chamber at least 24 hours prior to consideration by the Senate or in the House Chamber at least 48 hours prior to consideration by the House. Senate rules limit the Senate calendar to 14 general bills, plus holdovers, while House rules place the maximum at 25, including any bills held over from previous calendars or any bills set by special order and excluding only those bills "bumped" or objected to on a Consent Calendar. Consent Calendars are made up of those bills and resolutions considered non-controversial in nature and are required to be posted in the House at least three days in advance of consideration and in the Senate, by 2 p.m. of the day prior to consideration.

PASSED ON THIRD CONSIDERATION

On the day a bill appears "on the calendar," it is open to debate and amendment by the entire body considering it (House or Senate). This action takes place under the order of business now known as "Calendar".

The bill is then called up for passage, and after being considered the third time and discussed or debated, it may be passed with or without amendment by a majority of the members to which the body is entitled. (50 or more votes in the House of Representatives; 17 or more votes in the Senate.) When debate is over, a vote is taken on the bill; and the question is, "Shall the bill be passed on third and final reading?". Procedure reaches that point either by (a) debate being exhausted, i.e., all those wishing to speak have done so and the Speaker calls for the question; or (b) a motion for the "previous question," which requires two-thirds vote of those present, automatically stops debate and a vote is taken. If the vote on the passage of the bill carries, the bill automatically goes to the Chief Engrossing Clerk.

BILL IS ENGROSSED

The bill now having been passed in one body then goes to the office of the chief engrossing clerk, where it is retyped, without errors or erasures and is transmitted to the other body. The bill is "engrossed" by reproducing it with all the amendments inserted in the proper places.

COMPANION BILLS

It is customary to introduce identical bills in both houses simultaneously. When this is done, the bills are called "companion bills". When a companion bill is passed in one house, it then goes to the other house to await action on its companion. When the companion bill is called up, it is made to conform with the version already passed by the other house and the version first passed is substituted for the companion in the second house. The substituted bill is then considered on third and final reading. (The motion to conform and substitute is appropriate only on third readings where a bill would have already gone through the first two steps required by the Constitution and the rules.)

If a bill passes one house and is amended in the other, the bill goes back to the house where it was originally passed for action on the amendment. The first house may vote to concur or not to concur. If it concurs in the amendment(s), the bill follows through for the governor's approval; but if the first house refuses to concur, the bill goes back to the house where the amendment originated and the motion there is that that house recede or refuse to recede from its position in adopting the amendment(s). If there is a refusal to recede, it then becomes necessary to appoint conference committees, consisting usually of at least three members of each house, to meet and attempt to reconcile the differences between the two houses on the bill or to recommend a course of action agreeable to both houses.

BILL IS ENROLLED

After being passed by both houses, the bill is enrolled, that is retyped, without errors or erasures, on a heavy-weight paper, by the Chief Engrossing Clerk in the house of origin. This step involves preparing the bill in the exact form passed by both houses and in a format suitable for approval by the two Speakers and by the Governor.

SIGNED BY SPEAKERS

After the Speakers sign the enrolled copy, it is automatically transmitted to the Governor for his action.

SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

The Governor may sign the bill; veto it; or allow it to become law without his signature. The Governor is allowed ten days (Sundays excepted) after a bill is presented to him to approve or veto the bill; if he takes no action within that period, the bill becomes a law without his signature. The Governor also has constitutional authority to reduce or disapprove any sum of money appropriated in any bill while approving other portions of such bill.

If the Legislature is still in session, the Governor returns all bills and joint resolutions to the house of origin after he has taken action. After adjournment of the General Assembly, bills are returned by the Governor to the Office of the Secretary of State.

If the Governor has vetoed a bill or reduced or disapproved an appropriation within a bill, the veto can be overridden, or reduced or disapproved sums of money restored, by a majority vote of the membership to which each body is entitled under the Constitution.

SENT TO SECRETARY OF STATE AND ASSIGNED PUBLIC CHAPTER NUMBER

The Secretary of State's office assigns each general bill passed into law a public chapter number, while local bills are assigned private chapter numbers. The public chapters are published in pamphlet form soon thereafter for distribution to members of the General Assembly and other interested parties. Several months after the session, the public chapters, resolutions and joint resolutions adopted are published in bound volumes as the Tennessee Public Acts. The private chapters are similarly published in bound volumes as the Tennessee Private Acts.

INCORPORATED INTO THE CODE

In the meantime, the Tennessee Code Commission and the publishers of the Tennessee Code Annotated are busily converting and annotating new laws into the existing Code. The supplements and replacement volumes of the Code are usually available about six months after the adjournment of the General Assembly. (It should be remembered that private acts apply only to one city or county and do not become a part of the Code.)

LOCAL BILLS

The first three steps in passing a bill (introduction, numbered by Chief Clerk, and passes first consideration) are the same for local bills as for general bills. On second consideration, however, procedure changes and the bill is passed on second consideration and held on the Clerk's desk. Since local bills only affect one "locality," they need not be referred to a standing committee but, must meet the approval of the local legislative delegation. The Speaker may refer a local bill to committee in which case it follows the normal steps in the committee system.

After a local bill receives the signature of each member of the local delegation affected by the legislation, it is placed on the Consent Calendar

From the Engrossing process on, the procedure for local bills is the same as for general bills. These bills do not amend the code but, instead become part of the Private Acts of a particular year.

RESOLUTIONS

The following represents the normal steps in adopting resolutions.

Resolutions differ from bills in that they do not become law but simply serve to express the views of the majority of one or both houses of the Legislature.

Resolutions adopted in only one house are known as House or Senate Resolutions, depending on the house in which adopted or introduced. Resolutions adopted by both the Senate and the House are called Joint Resolutions. If they originate in the Senate, they are called Senate Joint Resolutions; and if in the House, they are referred to as House Joint Resolutions.

In the Senate, all memorializing resolutions are referred to the Calendar Committee; and all other resolutions, except joint resolutions proposing joint conventions, are referred to standing committees.

In the House, all resolutions except congratulatory or memorializing resolutions are referred to standing committees, while congratulatory and memorializing resolutions are placed on the Consent Calendar. All joint resolutions in either house calling for a joint convention of both houses are referred to a committee consisting of the Speaker, the majority leader, and the minority leader; this committee is known as the Committee on Delayed Bills.

No resolution, except one proposing an amendment to the Constitution, is required to be read three times. However, according to Article III, Section 18 of the Tennessee Constitution, all joint resolutions, except those calling for adjournment of the Legislature and those proposing specific amendments to the Constitution, must be submitted to the Governor for his signature. The Governor may veto a resolution, just as he may veto a bill; and the General Assembly may override the veto of a resolution in the same manner it may override the veto of a bill.

STANDING COMMITTEES

GENERAL

In the 100th General Assembly there are twelve (12) standing committees in the House, not including Calendar and Rules (see descriptions below): Agriculture; Children & Family Affairs, Commerce; Conservation and Environment; Education; Finance, Ways and Means; Health & Human Resources; Government Operations; Judiciary; Consumer and Employee Affairs; State and Local Government; and Transportation. Standing committees are created by the House Rules and the number and composition of the committees can be changed.

The Speaker and Speaker Pro Tempore are voting members of each standing committee; however, the Speaker Pro Tempore shall only vote when the Speaker is not present and voting, except on those two standing committees to which the Speaker Pro Tempore has been regularly assigned.

Bills are referred to committees upon second consideration, that is on the next Legislative Day following their introduction and passage on first consideration. Bills and resolutions are referred by the Speaker at his discretion to the appropriate standing committee.

The function of the standing committee is to consider the bills and resolutions referred to it and make recommendations concerning the bill to the Calendar and Rules Committee. Committees may report bills out with recommendation for passage or recommendation for passage as amended.

COMMITTEE STAFF

It is the function of the committee staff secretary, the committee intern, staff from the Office of the Chief Clerk assigned to that committee, staff of Legal Services and any other persons working with that committee to assist the committee in keeping up with the bills and resolutions referred to the committee and the committee action thereon, to assist the chairman in providing for the orderly flow of committee business, and to perform whatever research or furnish whatever information is requested by the committee.

Committee staff should be careful to preserve their dedication to the whole committee as well as the chairman. Committee staff should not in any way express or show their personal opinions, pro or con, on matters before the committee.

INTERNS. Generally the intern is an undergraduate student at one of the colleges in the state, who has been selected by his school for this program. Interns are expected to devote full time to their legislative duties (as assigned by the chairman) and function as a junior staff member of the General Assembly.

STAFF SECRETARY. The staff secretary acts as secretary to that committee as well as personal secretary to the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of that respective committee. She coordinates all secretarial and clerical duties in that office, attends committee meetings, and composes committee calendars.

GENERAL PROCEDURES

Basically, the committee staff works with the actual bills or resolutions referred to that committee, even though permanent custody of the original bill is in the office of the Chief Clerk of the House. Bills are referred to committee as they pass second consideration on the day following their introduction. Resolutions, when referred, are referred on the day they are introduced. When a bill is referred to a committee by the Speaker, it will appear each day in the House Journal, the "daily service", and in the bill tracking program of the computer system. Any of these sources will let you know what bills have been referred to your committee. Bills are sometimes transferred from one committee to another or withdrawn; this information appears in these sources also.

COMMITTEE CALENDAR

Bills and resolutions requested by the sponsors to go on the calendars (including those deferred at earlier meetings) and additional bills or resolutions placed thereon by the Chairman can appear on committee calendars.

Bill notice for hearing must only be filed one time and are filed in the standing committee office, even if the bill is in a subcommittee. Unless taken off notice, no further notice must be filed. Notice must be filed in the appropriate committee office by 3:00 p.m. Wednesday prior to the meeting; the committee secretary is required to have that calendar posted in the Chief Clerk's Office by 4:30 p.m. that afternoon. A weekly agenda of bills scheduled in committee will be compiled by the Clerk's Office on Wednesday and available Thursday for distribution.

SUBCOMMITTEES

Each committee chair is responsible for the operating procedure of sub-committees within the committee. If the chair of a standing committee deems it appropriate, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, to assign a bill to a subcommittee, said bill must be assigned to such subcommittee within five (5) legislative days after its passage on second consideration and referral to standing committee, or following the receipt of a fiscal note if said bill is referred to the committee on finance, ways and means unless otherwise provided by law.

The sub-committee chair's secretary is responsible for clerical support for the sub-committee.

RECORDS

Attendance records are kept by the clerk's office and the staff secretary. It is the responsibility of the staff secretary to send a copy to the Office of Legislative Administration for attendance purposes.

Roll Call Vote records are the responsibility of the Bill Clerk staffing that committee. There are three copies of this vote: the original to be included in the bill jacket; the second copy for the committee records; the third copy for the clerk's office files.

The Committee Report Form will be filled out by the Bill Clerk. It is the responsibility of the bill clerk to see that a copy is given to Calendar and Rules and the Office of Legislative Information Services.

HOUSE STANDING COMMITTEES

Under the rules of the House, the Speaker has complete discretion to refer all bills to "the appropriate standing committee". The following list provides a general guide to the various areas which may be appropriate to the standing committee under which they are listed.

HOUSE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE

The House Agriculture Committee is charged with two somewhat different responsibilities. The committee's first function is to process legislation which is agricultural in subject matter -- control of equine infectious anemia, euthanasia of animals, the use of state funds for cash awards at state and local fairs, etc. Other areas of concern are human nutrition and home economics and plant industry. Its second responsibility is to study the needs and concerns of Tennessee farmers and to address their problems and grievances with appropriate legislative remedies. These might include, but are not limited to, agricultural economics and research, production and marketing; animal industry and diseases of animals; dairy industry; livestock and meat products inspection. In this respect, the committee conducts public hearings with representatives from many farm groups appearing to present their views.

HOUSE CALENDAR AND RULES COMMITTEE

The House Calendar and Rules Committee schedules bills for consideration on third and final reading and entertains debate on the merits of legislation recommended for passage by the eleven standing committees. The committee consists of the chairman of each standing committee; the Speaker; the Speaker Pro Tempore; the Majority Leader or his designee; the majority caucus chairman; the minority leader or his designee; the minority caucus chairman; two members each of the majority and minority parties appointed by and to serve at the pleasure of the Speaker; and a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary as committee offices. This committee meets several times a week and acts on all legislation when requested by the sponsor.

HOUSE CHILDREN AND FAMILY AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The House Children and Family Affairs Committee considers legislation dealing with domestic issues such as divorce, child custody, and domestic violence. In addition to these issues, they also deal with legislation concerning juvenile crime, adoption, and any other bills dealing with children's issues as determined by the Speaker.

HOUSE COMMERCE COMMITTEE

The House Commerce Committee considers legislation which concerns insurance, state regulatory boards, taxes, corporations, banks and other financial institutions, general business, interest rates, utilities, communications (including telephone, telegraph, radio and television), and legislation impacting trade, etc.

HOUSE CONSERVATION AND ENVIRONMENT COMMITTEE

Most of the legislation referred to Conservation and Environment deals with energy, flood and drainage products, game and fish laws, strip mining and mineral resources; industries affecting natural resources; parks and recreation; pollution of air, water and land; soil conservation; tourism, vessels and small boats, waterways, lakes and streams, etc. This committee also holds public hearings relative to appointments to the Wildlife Resources Commission.

HOUSE EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The House Education Committee deals with all bills relating to education in general. This includes schools (kindergarten through university level, curricula, lunch programs); teachers, school employees, bus drivers and administrators (pay, benefits and retirement); vocational technical education; and adult education. The Chairman of this committee currently is also chairman of the Education Oversight Committee, set up to oversee the Better Schools/Master Teacher Education programs.

HOUSE FINANCE, WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

Much of the activity of the House Finance, Ways and Means centers around the preparation of the general appropriations bill, but any measure which has a fiscal impact of $100,000 or more under the rules of the House is referred to this committee from other standing committees.

Many subject matters are covered by the committee: bonds and bonding of revenue (including issuance and payment or retirement of bonds); tax-levying measures and the raising of revenue at the state level; tax-reducing measures; pension and retirement fund bills; the expenditure of funds; deposit of public monies, etc. The Committee also holds budget hearings on the general appropriations bill.

HOUSE HEALTH & HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE

Most legislation referred to the Health & Human Resources Committee is relevant to three major topical areas: mental health, public health, and human services. Bills relating to health care, AIDS, Aid For Dependent Children, mental health, pharmaceuticals, nursing, child abuse have been referred to this committee in recent years. They also have dealt with adoption procedures; hospitals (public and private), regulations, funding and financing; institutions related to health and welfare (geriatric, mental health, alcohol and drug abuse rehabilitation, mental retardation, nursing homes, tuberculosis sanitariums); health offices (administration and regulation); medical professions (licensing, regulations, training programs); public welfare in general; special assistance legislation dealing with the elderly, the handicapped, the homeless.

HOUSE GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS COMMITTEE

The Government Operations Committee has several ongoing tasks. The committee is responsible for the periodic review of state agencies and of administrative rules and regulations. Any fundamental changes in the structure of state government must be reviewed by GOC. All legislation which creates, modifies, or terminates boards or commissions must be referred to this committee in addition to the original standing committee of reference.

HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Many bills referred to this committee affect the civil law (including civil procedure, private and governmental civil liability, technical revisions in the Code); criminal law (including criminal procedure, criminal offenses and penalties, sentencing);, property rights, estate law, wills, executors; law enforcement officers; courts (juvenile, municipal, state, personal courts); judges (compensation, expenses, retirement); judicial proceedings; reapportionment legislation. Many bills dealing with corrections and correctional facilities are referred to this committee. A corrections Oversight Committee was created in 1987 and all legislation affecting this aspect of government must be first referred to this Oversight Committee for its recommendation prior to hearing by the Judiciary Committee.

HOUSE CONSUMER AND EMPLOYEE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Bills referred to the Labor and Consumer Affairs Committee usually relate to workers and unemployment compensation; wages; consumer protection and consumer affairs issues; occupational standards, regulations and licensing; labor and industrial relations (child labor, health and safety, minimum wage, wages and hours, retirement and pensions), employment insurance, etc.

HOUSE STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

The nature of the legislation referred to this committee is often very complex. Legislation addressing such matters as local and municipal affairs (forms of local government, powers to tax and raise revenue, local ordinances, local government employees, local government expenditures); cultural affairs; alcoholic beverage taxes and regulations of sale; election laws; holidays and celebrations; military parks and battlefields; museums; preservation of historical markers; private utility districts; public lands; state and public libraries; state government in general; Veteran's affairs; annexation; and penal and correctional institutions often appear.

TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

Legislation typically referred to the Transportation Committee deals with truck weights; safety regulation (motorcycle safety, motor vehicles, trucks, trains, airplanes, bicycles); highways, roads and bridges and railroads (maintenance, repair and construction); pipelines, public utilities, public works, motor vehicle registration.

HOUSE RESEARCH ANALYSTS

The House Division of Research is charged with the responsibility of providing technical expertise to House members and House committees on specific subject matter. Each analyst works closely with his or her respective committee officers. Not only does each analyst review and make recommendations with respect to legislation that has been filed, but also assists in policy development. The Director of the House Research Division is Brunswick Lowe, 741-3102.

Chief Sergeant-at-Arms	Robert Mosby	741-7004,7005

CLERK'S OFFICES

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK

The Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives is appointed by the Speaker of the House as one of the first orders of business during the Organizational Session every two years. The Assistant Chief Clerk is appointed, along with other officers of the House.

The Chief Clerk's Office of the House of Representatives is charged with keeping all official records of the House. This involves accepting legislation for introduction, keeping appropriate files of all bills and resolutions; providing clerking staff to standing committees; compiling and distributing a weekly agenda of committee meetings and scheduled bills; compiling a daily journal of activities of the House and distributing it on a weekly basis; providing vote information to members, the press and lobbyists; keeping accurate records of all committee proceedings; accepting all amendments filed by members; data entry of bill introductions and sponsors of legislation; keeping a bill and personal index of all legislation; and other clerical activities. In addition, the Chief Clerk performs other duties assigned to him by the Speaker. The current Chief Clerk is Burney T. Durham of Sumner County. The Assistant Chief Clerk is Eddie Davidson of Cumberland County. Other employees in this office include Kim Cox, Tammy Letzler, and Dena Scearce.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF ENGROSSING CLERK

The Chief Engrossing Clerk, one of the officers of the House, is appointed by the Speaker for the two-year period of a General Assembly.

The primary function of the Engrossing Clerk's office is to combine bill text and adopted amendment text; if passed by one House only, it is referred to as "Engrossing"; if passed by both Houses it is referred to as "enrolling" . Engrossing readies a bill for transmission to the second house; enrolling prepares a bill for transmission to the Speakers and/or Governor for their signatures.

This office also prepares photo-ready letterhead and newsletters as well as other documents, (such as certificates of recognition, proclamations, page certificates, etc.), and prepares presentation copies of resolutions and proclamations. The current Chief Engrossing Clerk is Betty Kay Francis of Rutherford County. Wanda Choate and Frances Warren are also employed in this office.

SERGEANTS-AT-ARMS

All Sergeants-at-Arms are responsible through the Chief Sergeant-at-Arms to the Speaker. The Chief Sergeant-at-Arms, the remaining appointed officer of the House, is appointed by the Speaker as one of the first orders of business during the organizational session of a General Assembly and serves for two years until the next general assembly. It is their responsibility to keep order in the Chamber, to secure the doors and admit only appropriate people to the floor while we are in session, and to perform other functions at the direction of the Speaker. The current Chief Sergeant-at-Arms is Robert Mosby of Shelby County.The current Sergeant-at-Arms are Art Beesley, Harold Cecil, William Howse, Kenny Rainey, Wayne Steele, and Victor Thompson.

OFFICE OF THE SPEAKER

Along with the legislative responsibilities of the Office of Speaker, the Speaker's office handles matters pertaining to the following:

The Speaker's office assists the legislators in many ways. Requests from members for office furniture, deductions from postage and printing for flags , etc, must come through this office and be approved by the Speaker. Per diem requests for House members, excuses for session attendance, must be approved by the Speaker.

The scheduling of committee rooms (for both state and private functions) is coordinated through the Speaker's office. The Secretary to the Speaker, along with the Chief Clerk of the Senate, approves any usage of hallways for displays or functions for both the Legislative Plaza and the War Memorial Building.

Staff requests for annual or sick leave must be approved by this office. Parking in the Legislative Plaza garage is coordinated by this office. The office phone number is 741-3774.

SPEAKER'S STAFF

PROCEDURES

SCHEDULING

HONORARY PAGES. Honorary pages are scheduled by the Legislator or staff through the House Chief Clerk's office. Usually one designated employee of the office is responsible for scheduling. There is a limit of two pages per day per legislator, with a total limit of twelve per day.

MINISTER OF THE DAY. The scheduling of the minister of the day is coordinated through the House Chief Clerk's office. The Representative or his/her staff member should provide the Clerk's office with the following information:

1. Date desired
2. Minister's Name
3. Name of Church
4. Representative's Name

HOUSE CHAMBER. The scheduling of the House Chamber is also handled through the House Chief Clerk's office. The legislator or staff will contact a designated employee in the office.

COMMITTEE ROOMS. Plaza House committee rooms (16, 29, 30, and 31) are scheduled through the House Speaker's office. Senate committee rooms (12, 14) are scheduled through the Lieutenant Governor's office. This is usually handled by one designated employee, CONFERENCE ROOMS - The House Speaker's Conference Room is scheduled through the House Speaker's office. The Lt. Governor's Conference Room is scheduled through the Lt. Governor's Office. The Conference Room on the first floor of the War Memorial Building is scheduled through the House Minority Leader's Office.

OTHER REQUESTS

LEGISLATIVE LICENSE PLATES. Forms for legislative license plates are distributed the first year of each general assembly by the Chief Clerk's office. The forms are transmitted to the appropriate individual in the Department of Revenue.

PARKING. Parking in the Legislative Plaza garage is coordinated with the House Speaker's office. Any questions regarding parking are referred to House Speaker's Office at 741-3774.

STATE FLAGS. State flags can be obtained through the Office of Legislative Administration, G-11, War Memorial Building.

STAMPS AND SUPPLIES. Stamps and office supplies are available through the Office of Legislative Administration.

PRESENTATION COPIES OF RESOLUTIONS. The Chief Engrossing Clerk's office is responsible for the "final" copy of resolutions.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST FORMS. Members of the General Assembly are required to file Conflict of Interest forms annually with the Registry of Election Finance. These forms are usually distributed during session and are due by January 31 each year - When a member becomes a candidate for office again, conflict of interest forms must be filed within ten days (10) of the qualifying deadline. These forms are kept by the Registry of Election Finance's office.

WRITTEN MOTIONS

Sponsor Additions

Pursuant to Rule 43, any member wishing to have his/her name ADDED to a piece of legislation as a sponsor may do so by completing a "Motion To Add Name As Sponsor" form. This form must be signed by the Representative adding his/her name as well as the first prime sponsor of the legislation and submitted to the Chief Clerk's office so that this action can be recorded in the journal , on the bill jacket, and on all appropriate records. IF THE BILL HAS ALREADY BEEN VOTED ON IN THE HOUSE AND/OR THE SENATE BILL HAS BEEN SUBSTITUTED, THE BILL IS CONSIDERED DEAD AND IT IS TOO LATE TO HAVE YOUR NAME RECORDED AS A SPONSOR FOR THAT PIECE OF LEGISLATION.

if you wish your name added as a PRIME sponsor, complete the form.

MOTION TO ADD NAME AS PRIMARY SPONSOR

MR SPEAKER: Pursuant to House Rule No. 43, 1 hereby move that my name be added as a PRIME sponsor of House Bill No., House Joint Resolution No., House Resolution No._____

Signed by Representative Adding Name _____

The undersigned, being the prime Sponsor of the above bill, agrees to permit the above Representative to become an additional PRIME sponsor of said bill.

Signed by Prime Sponsor: _____

Date

Sponsor Withdrawn

Likewise, if a member wishes to have his/her name withdrawn as sponsor from a piece of legislation, a form is submitted in the same manner on a "Request to Withdraw Name As Sponsor". A sample of the form follows. However, a sponsor may not withdraw from a bill if that person is the only sponsor, they can only withdraw the bill from the House.

REQUEST TO WITHDRAW NAME AS SPONSOR

I wish to withdraw my name as a sponsor of House Bill No., House Joint Resolution No., House Resolution No._____

Date: _____

Signed by sponsor withdrawing name: _____

Add Name to Presentation Copy of Senate Joint Resolution

Any member may have his/her name added to a presentation copy of a Senate Joint Resolution by completing a "Motion To Add Name As Sponsor" form. This is not an official action but a courtesy agreement worked out with the engrossing clerks. A sample of the form a member needs to fill out follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JIMMY NAIFEH

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

BURNEY T. DURHAM

CHIEF CLERK

STATE OF TENNESSEE
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK
2nd FLOOR, STATE CAPITOL
TENNESSEE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE 37243

Representative _____ requests that his/her name be placed on Senate Joint Resolution No. _____

Date:_____

Burney T. Durham, Chief Clerk

Present in Chamber

If a member enters the chamber after roll call is taken at the beginning of a session day, that member needs to complete a "Present in Chamber" form so that the records will reflect the member as present that day. This is extremely important in terms of the member being paid for that day as well as for voting information. Below is a sample of the "Present in Chamber" form.

PRESENT IN CHAMBER

Representative _____ was recorded as being present in the Chamber.

Date: _____ Time: _____

Request to Change Vote

Pursuant to Rule No. 31, any member not voting on a piece of legislation at the time the roll call vote was taken, or, any member voting but wishing to express a desire to change his original stand, may do so by completing a "Request to Change Vote" form. If desired, the member may submit a statement explaining his reason for the change. This motion will be recorded in the Journal. A sample of such form follows.

REQUEST TO CHANGE VOTE

MR. SPEAKER: Pursuant to House Rule No. 31 I wish to express a desire to change my original stand from _____ to _____ on (bill)_____ and to have this statement entered in the Journal.

Signed by Representative

Date: _____

Excused from Session

If a member will not be able to attend a particular day's legislative session, he should write a letter asking to be excused (pursuant to Rule No. 20), give the dates, and reason for the request. This letter should be taken to the Speaker's office. After approval, it is transmitted to the Clerk and then recorded in the Journal. This is for your protection if votes on that day are questioned.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Pursuant to Rule No. 73, a motion for the appointment of a conference committee must be submitted in writing, whether a House Bill or a Senate Bill. Although the forms are different for a Senate Bill or a House Bill, each states the purpose for the committee and requests the appointment of certain representatives. A sample of each form follows.

MOTION TO APPOINT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE (HOUSE BILL)

MR. SPEAKER: I move you, Sir, that the House refuse to recede from its action in nonconcurring in Senate Amendments Nos. _____to House Bill No. _____ and that, pursuant to House Rule No. 73, the Speaker appoint a Committee of the House to meet with a like committee from the Senate to resolve the differences between the House and Senate on House Bill No. _____ I request that the speaker appoint Representatives _____ to this Conference Committee.

Date:_____ Representative:_____

MOTION TO APPOINT CONFERENCE COMMITTEE (SENATE BILL)

MR. SPEAKER: Pursuant to House Rule No. 73, 1 move you, sir, that the Speaker appoint a Committee of the HOUSE to meet with a like committee from the Senate to resolve the differences between the two bodies on Senate Bill No._____;
I request the Speaker to appoint Representatives: _____ _____to this Conference Committee.

Date:_____ Representative:_____

Delayed Bills Committee

If a general bill is introduced after the tenth legislative day, it should be prefiled, then a "delayed bills committee report form" needs to be signed by the Speaker and the majority and minority leaders in order for the bill to be introduced. A sample of the delayed bills committee report form follows:

DELAYED BILL REFERRED

The following bill , House Bill No. ____, having been prefiled in accordance with Rule No 78, has been referred to the Delayed Bills Committee for approval.

We, the following, members of the Delayed Bills Committee unanimously approve this bill for introduction pursuant to rule no. 78

Jimmy Naifeh, Speaker Jere Hargrove, Majority Leader Steve McDaniel, Minority Leader

Objection to Bill on House Consent Calendar

If there is a bill on the Consent Calendar that you feel does not belong there (for example, needs to be amended) or which you may prefer to have debated on the House floor, you may "bump" it off that calendar. Under the rules, unless you request otherwise, it will be placed on the regular calendar for the next legislative day. This form must be signed and turned in to the Chief Clerk prior to the time the consent Calendar is called up on any given day.

OBJECTION TO ITEM ON CONSENT CALENDAR

MR. CLERK:
I object to (HB/ HJR/HR No. _____ which is on the House Consent Calendar for _____

PAGE NO:_____
ITEM NO:_____

Representative :_____ Date: _____

(Pursuant to Rule No. 50, the bill will be placed at the heel of the regular Calendar on the next Legislative Day.)

Local Bill Authorization Form

In order for a local bill to be placed on the Consent Calendar (or passed out of order), each member in the locality affected by the legislation must sign a local authorization form, a copy of which follows. When you file a bill, if you are aware it is a local bill, you might want to sign the form upon filing the bill if you are the only member whose signature is necessary. Or you may get the form ahead of time and submit it with the bill. A sample of the form follows:

AUTHORIZATION TO PASS LOCAL BILL

We, the undersigned Representatives of_____ do hereby direct the Clerk of the House to pass House Bill(s) No. _____ on third and final consideration.

Signed:_____

_____ Date:_____

MOTION TO RECALL A BILL FROM COMMITTEE

If a member wishes to call a bill to the floor for action by the House on any bill which has been in a standing committee for seven days, the member must sign a notice one day prior to making such a motion. It takes two/thirds vote of the membership (66) to cause the bill to be brought out of committee. A copy of the appropriate form follows.

MOTION FILED UNDER RULE NO. 53

MR. SPEAKER: I wish to advise the House that on (Date:) _____ I will make a motion to recall House Bill No. _____ from the Committee on _____ for the purpose of placing said bill on the Calendar for third and final consideration, as provided for in House Rule No. 53.

Representative:_____ Date:_____

Under the rules, the motion lies over.

NOTICE TO HAVE BILL HEARD IN COMMITTEE

If you wish to place a bill on notice in Committee to be heard on a committee calendar, you must file a written notice. This notice must be filed in the Committee office by 3:00 p.m., on Wednesday prior to the Committee meeting the next Tuesday or Wednesday, under Rule 80 (1)

A sample of the form follows.

48 HOUR BILL NOTICE

TO: CHAIRMAN_____
HOUSE COMMITTEE ON _____

I request that the following bills and/or resolutions be considered by your committee:

(List bills, resolutions or joint resolutions by number)

DATE TO BE CONSIDERED: _____

Representative:_____

NOTICE TO OVERRIDE VETO

If the Governor vetoes a bill and you wish to have the House take action to vote to override the veto, you must fill out the following form under Rule 78. That motion must be announced and lie over a day before a vote can be taken.

NOTICE TO OVERRIDE VETO

MR. SPEAKER: I hereby file notice under House Rule No. 78 that I will move to repass _____ Bill NO._____, the Governor's objections to the contrary notwithstanding, as provided in Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution of Tennessee.

Representative:_____

This, the _____ day Of_____,19__

REQUEST TO REFER CAPTION BILL

Once a bill has been deemed a caption bill and has been held on the desk following passage on second consideration, there are two methods to have it referred. If the text of the bill is not intended as a caption bill, the sponsor must file a form with the Clerk's office to that effect. A copy of the form follows.

REQUEST TO REFER CAPTION BILL

Date: _____

To: Burney T. Durham, Chief Clerk

From: Rep. _____

Subject: Caption Bill

House Bill _____ is being held on the desk as a caption bill. The text of the bill is what I actually intend to accomplish with this legislation. Please refer it to the appropriate standing committee.

Rep. (signature)

AMENDED CAPTION BILL

The other method for caption bill referral is to file an amendment to a caption bill along with a form stating that the amendment will make the bill. A copy of the form follows.

REQUEST TO REFER AMENDED CAPTION BILL

Date: _____

To: Burney T. Durham, Chief Clerk

From: Rep. _____

Subject: Caption Bill, House Bill _____

House Bill _____ is being held on the desk as a caption bill. The enclosed amendment makes the bill. Please refer it to the appropriate committee.

Rep. (Signature)

LEGISLATIVE STAFF AGENCIES

THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE SERVICES COMMITTEE

The Joint Legislative Services Committee is a special committee created in 1977 (TCA, Title 3, Chapter 10, Part 1). The Committee is composed of ten members, with the Speaker of each house serving as a co-chairmen. Two members of the majority party and two members of the minority party are appointed by the respective Speaker to serve on the Committee. The Committee makes recommendations on management, policies, and procedures to be employed in providing services to the General Assembly or either house thereof. POSTAGE AND MAIL DELIVERY. Each member has a set allowance for printing and postage. Stamps must be used for official mail only. Mailboxes are located in the Mail Room on the ground floor of the WMB (G-2). Emma Williams is in charge of the mail room (2438). For special items to be mailed, check with Mark Davidson (741-3569) to obtain the best rate available and instructions for preparing these items for mailing.

EQUIPMENT MAINTENANCE. All equipment maintenance is under state contract. This includes primarily typewriters and copy machines. Dale Barnes (3569) in the Office of Legislative Administration handles this. Typewriters and other equipment shall not be removed from the office. Any thefts of state property should be reported immediately.

PHOTOCOPYING AND SPECIAL MULTI-COPY NEEDS. Photocopying machines are available to the legislative staff in the following locations:

- Legislative Plaza
  - House Copier (near Suite 35)
  - Senate Copier (across from cafeteria)
- War Memorial Building
  - Ground Floor - This machine belongs to Legal Services; they have immediate priority during session.)
  - There are copiers on the first, second, and third floors of the WMB, primarily for the use of members' secretaries.

There is a maximum of 250 copies per job on the House copier unless otherwise authorized by the Speaker's office. For large copying jobs most members utilize the services of the Capitol Print Shop (741-2647) located on the upper level of the parking garage and accessed via the elevator in the first hallway to the left in the Plaza after getting off the escalator from the Capitol.

BUILDING MAINTENANCE. The Building Manager of the State Capitol is Ed Lenfant He handles those items directly related to the Capitol itself. The Facilities Manager, who handles the operations involving the legislature, the Plaza and the War Memorial Building, is Skip Butler (741-3631).

CONFERENCE AND COMMITTEE ROOMS. Conference and committee rooms are available for use and are reserved as follows:

LP House Hearing Rooms (16, 29, 30, 31); Speaker's Conf. Room	House Speaker's Office	741-3774
LP Senate Hearing Rooms (12, 14); Lt. Gov. Conf. Room	Lt. Governor's Office	741-2368
WMB Conference Rm. 116	Minority Leader's Office	741-3771
House Chamber	House Clerk's Office	741-2901

Senate Chamber Senate Clerk's Office 741-2730

PARKING GARAGE. In 1997 the parking garage and all requests relating to it are handled out of the House Speaker's Office (741-3774). Members and certain staff have assigned locations on the upper level. Full time staff have assigned locations on the lower level.

LEGISLATOR'S PAY AND EXPENSES. Legislator's pay and expense reimbursements are processed through the Speaker's office and the Office of Legislative Administration. During session the representative's attendance at session and committee meetings will assure his receiving compensation. The House Clerk's office keeps attendance records for session times and takes attendance in the Committee Meetings, which the Committee Secretary then sends to Lynn Callarman (741-3569) in Legislative Administration.

Beginning with the November, 1996, election, member's compensation is as follows:

Compensation	$16,500.00/year
Home Office Allowance	$525.00/month
Per diem	$120.00/day
Mileage	.24/mile for 1 round trip/week
Postage
Senator	4225.00/year
Representative	1955.00/year

RETIREMENT. Members of the General Assembly are eligible for membership in the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System. Members are eligible for retirement benefits after age 55 and four years vesting in an amount of $70 per month times the number of years of service (i.e., for 10 years of service, the monthly amount would be $700). This amount became effective with the 96th General Assembly members. The retirement system is noncontributory. Members of the retirement system contribute to and are covered by Social Security.

INSURANCE. Members of the General Assembly are eligible to participate in the State's group insurance plans which include hospitalization, accident and life insurance, and dental insurance.

JOINT SELECT COMMITTEES

Select Oversight Committee on Corrections

The Select Oversight Committee on Corrections (created by TCA, Title 3, Chapter 15, Part 1 in 1987) is responsible for reviewing all correction-related legislation and providing to the standing committee appropriate background information on the bill or impact of the bill on the correction system. A specific set of procedures is set out in the Public Chapter creating this Committee. Claire Drowota is Executive Director; the office is located in Suite 5, LP, phone 741--1546

Senator Kyle, Chairman
Rep. Pinion, Vice-Chair

Tenncare Oversight Committee

The TennCare Oversight Committee is a special committee appointed by speakers of each house to oversee the TennCare Program. The committee consists of eight Senate and eight House members.

The TennCare Program, initiated by former Governor Ned McWherter replaced Medicaid, the state's health care system for the poor, with a managed care system. TennCare also offers a health care program for the working uninsured, who pay for their health care benefits on a sliding scale basis. The executive director of the TennCare Oversight Committee is Ginger Parra (741-8697 3rd Floor, James K. Polk Bldg.)

Senator Herron, Chairman
Rep. Jackson, Vice-Chairman
Rep. Walley, Secretary

Senators: Atchley, Crutchfield, Ford, Kurita, McNally, Rochelle
Representatives: L. DeBerry, Hargrove, McDaniel, Rhinehart, Whitson

OTHER AGENCIES

FISCAL REVIEW COMMITTEE

The Fiscal Review Committee was created by statute in 1967 (TCA, Title 3, Chapter 7) as a special continuing committee of the General Assembly. The Committee is composed of six senators and nine representatives, elected by the members of the Senate and House of Representatives, respectively. The ex-officio members are the Speakers of each house and the Chairman of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee of each house.

The function of the Committee is to conduct a continuing review of such items as revenue collections, budget requests, the recommended executive budget, appropriations, work programs, allotments, reserves, impoundments, the state debt, and the condition of the various state funds. The Committee is required to submit quarterly reports to the General Assembly and to make special reports to legislative standing committees.

The committee staff is responsible for preparing a fiscal note on every bill having a fiscal impact; and this activity comprises most of the staff's work during the early part of the session. The fiscal note process involves some detailed paperwork (e.g., keeping records of all bills as they are introduced); the analysis of legislation; and the analysis of support forms received from departments and agencies affected by proposed legislation. Support forms contain comments from departmental spokespersons relative to the expected fiscal impact of legislation but are not always consistent with the committee staff's own analysis.

When fiscal note production is completed, this committee returns to its official capacity as the "budgetary watchdog" of the legislature. This oversight function might involve an analysis of the department's fiscal practices, an accounting of vacant positions in state government, or even an analysis of certain programs and expenditures.

The Director of the Fiscal Review Committee Staff is Jim Davenport (741-2564), Room G-19, War Memorial Building.

Fiscal Review Committee Membership

Representative Rhinehart, Chairman
Senator Burks, Vice-Chairman

Senators: Cohen, Cooper, Crowe, Haun, Williams
Representatives: Clabough, Cross, Givens, Kent, McKee, Odom, Pruitt, Wood

JOINT FINANCE, WAYS AND MEANS STAFF

The Office of the Comptroller of the Treasury provides the General Assembly with additional staff each year. The Senate and House Finance, Ways and Means Joint Staff assists the Committees with budget hearings, reviewing the state's annual budget, researching fiscal matters, and providing fiscal data to the General Assembly. The Chief of Staff is Allen Barron, Suite 3, Legislative Plaza, 741-4805.

THE COUNCIL ON PENSIONS AND INSURANCE

The Council on Pensions and Insurance was created by statute in 1971 (TCA Title 3, Ch. 9, Part 1) to develop and recommend standards and state policy on pensions and retirement; to study and analyze pension and retirement developments in governments, industry and business and recommend any necessary changes in the state's law; and to review and make recommendations to the General Assembly on any introduced bills proposing changes in an existing pension and retirement system.

Public Chapter 179 of 1989 changed its name to Council on Pensions and Insurance from Council on Pensions and Retirement, provided that "all bills pertaining to retirement and state insurance programs shall be referred to this committee for recommendation", and provided that all bills dealing with pensions and retirement or TCRS "shall be referred to the Council and to a standing committee;" and that no action can be taken on that bill in the standing committee until the Council makes its recommendations. (TCA 3-9-101-104). The Council must act within five weeks of a bills passage on second consideration.

The Council is composed of the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, and three members of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee of each house. The other ex-officio members are the Speakers of each house, the Comptroller of the Treasury, the Commissioner of Finance and Administration, the Commissioner of the Department of Personnel, the State Treasurer and the Director of Retirement.

Senators: Atchley, Crutchfield, Ford, Henry, McNally, Rochelle. Lt. Governor Wilder, Womack
Representatives: Ronnie Cole, Head, Kent, Kisber, McDaniel, Speaker Naifeh, Rhinehart

THE OFFICE OF MINORITY AFFAIRS

The Office of Minority Affairs was established by joint resolution as a joint legislative agency to provide essential information necessary to the formulation of legislation and how it will specifically impact on minority citizens of the state; serve as a unique research unit to gather information pertinent to issues and legislation under discussion in the General Assembly; operate as a clearinghouse for information on enactments of the Tennessee General Assembly and the opportunities these enactments create for minorities; and further increase the ability of the Tennessee General Assembly to respond to the needs of minority residents.

To realize the above purposes, the Office of Minority Affairs (1) sponsors and coordinates seminars, hearings and meetings in an effort to surface issues, determine needs and identify aspirations of the minority community; (2) ranks critical concerns in order to establish minority legislative priorities; (3) develops, maintains and utilizes a valuable resource system which benefits legislators with input from minority constituency during creation and introduction of progressive legislation; (4) encourages greater minority interest and participation in the political and legislative processes through publications and communications; and, (5) provides legislative and other pertinent information relative to the affairs of minority groups.

The Office of Minority Affairs is open 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Barbara Nance is the Executive Assistant in Charge of Minority Affairs, 105 WMB, 741-3900.

CAPITOL PRINT SHOP

The Capitol Print Shop, located on the first floor of the legislative plaza parking garage, is part of the Comptroller's Office. It is our in-house printing agency and prints members newsletters, journals and the other publications mentioned under "Legislative Reference Materials", stationery, and bill and amendment copies, as well as various reports for the Constitutional Officers, including audits, the Public and Private Acts, and the Treasurer's report. The head of the print shop is Bobby Nicholson (741-2647).

PRESS SECRETARIES

The press secretary's role is one of facilitating the flow of information between representatives and the news media. Primary responsibilities include press releases, speech writing, newsletters and a periodic summary of the legislature's activities.

Press Secretaries currently are:

House Democratic Press Secretary -- Matt Little, 25 LP, 741- 6620.
House Republican Press Secretary -- Darlene Shlicher, 104 WMB, 741-1975.
Senate Democratic Press Secretary -- Jane Bauer, 10 LP, 741- 6682.
Senate Republican Press Secretary -- Jesse Hughes, 317 WMB, 741-6336.
House Broadcast Information Officer - Ron Campbell, 16A LP, 741-0907.
Senate Broadcast Information Officer -, 16A LP, 741-0907.

INTERNS

Interns are an integral part of the staff operation of the General Assembly when we are in session. Interns are generally divided into two categories: State interns and private interns.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

TCA 49-50-610 is the statutory authority for the legislative internship program which currently has 34 eligible institutions supplying up to 27 interns per year for the standing committees and leadership offices of the General Assembly. The Program Administrator is Tommy Milam (741-3299), Room 211 War Memorial Building.

Eligibility for the program is limited to upper division undergraduate and graduate students at participating institutions in Tennessee offering a program leading to a degree in law, political science, history, administration, social work, economics, sociology, journalism and related fields.

The Legislative Intern Committee is composed of eight (8) legislators (four (4) members of the Senate and four (4) members of the House of Representatives and the Program Administrator. The Committee is charged with selecting and meeting with the five (5) members of the Academic Intern Committee to review the progress of the program and to establish policies for the next academic year. The Academic Intern Committee consists of five (5) designated faculty members selected from among the various participating institutions. The Committee screens nominations for the program, interviews finalists, and makes recommendations relative to academic credit, course content, etc., of the program

Together the Academic Committee and the Legislative Intern Committee comprise the Sponsoring Committee which reviews policies, interviews candidates, fixes stipends, sets work schedules and hours, and assigns interns to appropriate committee and leadership offices. Currently 16 House Committee and Leadership Offices are provided with interns; 12 in the Senate. These students receive academic credit for their work and a stipend paid for by the State of Tennessee.

The Sponsoring Committee sets guidelines for the Internship Program, including policies for the Utilization of Interns by Legislators and Rules Governing the Conduct of Interns. These guidelines, listed below, are applicable to State and Private interns alike.

PRIVATE INTERNS

Several of the public educational institutions have made arrangements with their local legislative delegations to sponsor interns who are assigned to those members. In 1997, approximately 30 - 35 full-time private interns provided staff for the offices of the various legislators. These interns are paid with state and private moneys, e.g., alumni funds. Credit is offered for this internship just as with the State program. Private interns are required to register with the Program Administrator of the Tennessee Legislative Internship Program, must attend the orientation seminars, and are subject to the same guidelines for utilization and conduct as State interns.

A STATEMENT OF POLICY CONCERNING THE UTILIZATION OF LEGISLATIVE INTERNS

The Tennessee Legislative Internship Program was designed with the recognition of the educational value of the legislative experience. The college students to be recruited as legislative interns were to be Tennesseans who would benefit the most from a thorough knowledge of state government and who would use the experience to further the best interests of their citizenship.

The internship experience should provide, apart from the technical or mechanical aspects of any assignment, an analytical function which sets it apart from the classroom. It is this special feature--the opportunity to see "real life" political-governmental activity and to become to some extent involved in that milieu--which gives classroom learning extra meaning and utility.

The diverse character of the general assembly, springing from the size and representative nature reflecting the state's population, affects the nature of possible assignments, which are many and varied. The pool of interns should also be varied in character and origins, united only by high academic and personal standards and a certain facility for research. Like all general assembly staff members, interns must cultivate flexibility and must be able to work well under a variety of circumstances and with many different people, including other staff members, constituents, and members of the general assembly.

The intent of the internship program, as expressed in Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 49-4701*, is to enrich the intern and to provide the general assembly with dedicated staff members. Clearly the fulfillment of that intent must be a cooperative effort involving the whole-hearted commitment and support of the intern, the members of the general assembly, and the permanent staff.

The intent of the program as expressed in statute should be borne in mind by legislators in determining intern assignments. Personal limitations or practical considerations may initially prevent a legislator or legislative staff head from allowing an intern to perform certain services. With those exceptions, which will vary among legislators, and with the confidence the legislator has in his intern, the following services should be generally within the intern's competence to perform:

Bill Analysis. Analysis of bills is generally interpreted as going beyond the summary of the bill's content, to touch upon fiscal, economic, and political impact.

Spot Research. The preparation of short memoranda or notes on particular issues, or the gathering of statistical data, may be of use to legislators and committees.

In-depth Research. The preparation of a report based upon studies over several weeks might be undertaken by an intern, including compilation of certain provisions of laws, rules, or regulations from other states, for example.

Maintenance of Special Files. Interns might be assigned the duty of compiling and maintaining files on subjects of interest to the legislator or committee.

Handling of Constituent Mail. A service of this sort might include the preparation and maintenance of constituent communications on various issues; contacting the appropriate offices for information; performing other necessary research to provide information; and preparing letters for the legislator's signature.

Preparing Newsletters and Press Releases. Legislators might assign interns to prepare newsletters containing a description of bills sponsored, a discussion of major legislative accomplishments, and a presentation of the legislator's views on current issues. The preparation of press releases for newspapers and other news media is a closely related function.

Bill Status Reports. An intern can perform a valuable service by keeping the legislator's or committee's bill status report current, determining when committee appearances are necessary, and providing special notice of dates for floor debate of the member's legislation.

Speech Writing. The research of the speech topic, identifying the nature and interest of the audience, and the actual writing of an appropriate speech or speech notes, might be assigned to an intern.

Attending Committee and Subcommittee Meetings and Floor Sessions. Interns might be directed to attend meetings in which the legislator has an interest but is himself unable to attend, to provide the legislator with a summary of the discussion or debate and the action taken.

Personal Agent or Liaison. Legislators might designate interns as agents to solicit information from legislative or administrative offices or to convey the legislators' interest in a given matter, as instructed.

The Sponsoring Committee recognizes that the intern is a novice, lacking in experience, and incapable of immediately performing all the foregoing services in an acceptable manner; by the same token, the foregoing services by no means exhaust the possibilities for intern assignment. Legislators and permanent staff will wish to evaluate the intern's relative proficiency in the several areas and use his demonstrated talents to the best advantage, wherever they might lie.

The Sponsoring Committee also recognizes that the cooperation of all employees of individual legislative offices is imperative if the goals of a particular office or committee are to be accomplished. Accordingly, work of a clerical or secretarial nature may, by necessity, have to be shared by secretaries, interns, research analysts, pages, and others. However, under no circumstances should those conditions precipitate an intern's being used totally or primarily for such assignments.

Adopted this, the 24th day of August, 1978.

*In the three-tier system instituted since the adoption of this policy, this section in the Tennessee Code Annotated is now 49-50-601.

UNIFORM POLICIES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF LEGISLATIVE INTERNS

Interns should recognize and appreciate that their conduct and deportment reflect not only on themselves but also on the General Assembly and that while serving as interns they are serving in the public gaze. Therefore, the following policies are adopted and applied to all students serving the General Assembly in the capacity of an intern:

1. Interns are required to attend the pre-session orientation seminars sponsored by the Office of Legislative Services.

2. Interns are expected to keep regular state business hours (8:00--4:30) during the term of their appointments. As legislative employees, interns are further advised that there may be occasions when they will need to work overtime to complete their work assignments, so they should plan to adjust their schedules accordingly.

3. Interns should report for work every day. If extreme circumstances necessitate an intern's absence or tardiness, the intern should advise the legislator's office, or staff member's office, as appropriate, before 8 a.m.

4. Interns will keep in strictest confidence any information which they acquire in the course of the internship that the legislator indicates is sensitive or confidential.

5. Interns should be advised to be alert to sensitive information if it has not been clearly labeled confidential and to ask about the information before relating it to anyone.

6. Interns should remember to behave in a courteous manner with any person they may come in contact with in performing their duties. Interns should keep in mind that others may well regard them as representatives of the legislators.

7. During the term of the internship, interns are discouraged from participating actively in partisan political activities, bearing in mind that they are representatives of the legislature, their colleges or universities, and their internship program.

8. Interns are reminded that the legal age in Tennessee for the consumption of alcoholic beverages is twenty-one (21) years of age.

9. All interns should avoid any conduct or activities which would cause embarrassment or which might ethically, legally, or morally compromise them, their sponsoring institution, or the General Assembly.

10. Interns shall not attend receptions or other functions held for the General Assembly unless they are specifically invited by the hosts to attend such functions.

11. Interns are not permitted or authorized to solicit or accept contributions or donations from legislators, lobbyists, or permanent staff for any purpose.

12. Interns are not permitted to lobby for or against legislation during the term of the internship.

13. Interns are not permitted to place long distance telephone calls from legislative offices, unless such calls are (1) approved in advance by the legislator and (2) recorded on Form DA-9 (Log of Long Distance Telephone Calls) which is available through the Office of Legislative Administration.

14. (a) Interns should recognize that most legislators have only one or two staff members and that interns are expected to share routine office work (filing, photocopying, answering the telephone, running errands, posting notices, etc.) with the full-time staff, if necessary, to expedite the work of a legislator, a committee, or a legislative office.

(b) Interns should also recognize that the limited size of the total legislative staff requires that all legislative employees, whether they be interns, secretaries, committee research analysts, administrative assistants, personal aides, or professional staff from a central agency of the legislature, demonstrate initiative, cooperation with each other, and a willingness to "pitch in" to meet the demands of a given legislative office. Interns, therefore, are encouraged to assist other interns and the full-time staff, if their schedules and workload permit.

15. Interns are advised that parking space is critical during the legislative session and strict compliance with all parking regulations is required of all legislative employees.

16. Interns are reminded that rules of the House and Senate prohibit legislative employees, including interns, from entering the chambers during floor sessions.

17. Interns will be furnished identification badges, which they will be expected to wear at all times they are at work for the General Assembly.

18. Failure to comply with these policies will result in disciplinary action by the Intern Program Coordinator and may result in dismissal from the Program. Each infraction shall be handled on a case-by-case basis.

(NOTE: These policies were adopted by the Sponsoring Committee of the Tennessee Legislative Internship Program on August 21, 1986, and were approved by the Joint Legislative Services Committee on September 11, 1986.)

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE MATERIAL

DAILY PUBLICATIONS

DAILY SERVICE. Available to each office on a daily basis during session (to be picked up at a pre-determined location), it gives an abbreviated account of all action taken in the House and the Senate for that day. Published by the Office of Legislative Information Services, information contained in the Service includes:

1) The current date of the Service and running count for the number of days of the regular session.

2) Order of Business for the day for the Senate and House including
   a) Resolutions introduced or considered and action taken
   b) List of bills introduced or passed on first consideration
   c) List of bills pre-filed for the next legislative day
   d) Bills passed on second consideration and committee of referral
   e) Bills withdrawn
   f) Sponsor additions to legislation
   g) Bills passed on third consideration
   h) Action taken on bills by the opposite House
   i) List of bills on committee calendars for next meeting
   j) List of bills on floor calendars for next legislative day
   k) Recommendations on bills heard in committee

FLOOR SUMMARY CALENDARS. Calendars for third and final reading in the House and Senate are prepared and distributed by the Office of Legislative Information Services. Copies of the Regular Calendar and the Consent Calendar are distributed to each member in a predetermined location so it can be reviewed in that office; a copy is also placed on each member's desk for consideration during the session. A Message Calendar is also distributed on each member's desk for that day's consideration.

Floor summary calendars are prepared from the list of bills provided by the Clerk's Offices and from the summaries of bills and amendments provided by the Office of Legal Services. Extra copies, though limited, are located in the House or Senate chambers.

MICROFICHE. An easily recognizable reference, used for its convenience and current day-to-day information on legislation. While also utilized by various legislative agencies, used primarily used by non-legislative, state government agencies, since they do not have on-line access. Microfiche are picked up at pre-determined locations. Published by the Office of Legislative Information Services, the microfiche provides, at a glance, the following information:

1) The companion bill number.
2) The name(s) of the sponsor(s).
3) An abstract, or brief description of the legislation.
4) An entry on each action taken on a proposal, including the date of the action and the chamber taking the action.

It is available in two distinct formats:

1) Subject Index. A compilation by subject matter of all bills introduced in either or both Houses.

2) Bill History. A numerical listing of all bills and resolutions introduced into the General Assembly.

WEEKLY PUBLICATIONS

JOURNALS. Senate Journals are published and distributed weekly. House Journals are available to members and staff through the computer. Printed copies are delivered upon request. The journals provide an official record of session activities -- motions, amendment text and votes, the identify of members making motions and a record of the votes on such, and passage or failure of a proposal by roll call vote of members voting.

WEEKLY COMMITTEE AGENDAS. Published by the House or Senate Clerk's Office, this booklet is a compilation of calendars of all committees scheduled to meet the following week. It includes the committee officers; bill numbers, sponsors, and abstracts of those bills placed on notice; and the meeting place and time of meeting. Also included are floor calendar listings for the coming week, to the extent they are known at that time.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD. Published by the Office of Legislative Information Services, in addition to bill history, the Record provides a listing of the officers of each chamber, leadership and committee officers and membership. The Record lists all legislation in numerical sequence, the primary sponsors, the subject and abstract of the legislation, a reference to the TCA section to which changes are proposed, the companion bill number, and the date and description of the most recent action taken on a proposal.

PAMPHLET COPIES OF PUBLIC ACTS. The Office of the Secretary of State (741-7411) prints in pamphlet form copies of public laws enacted. They are distributed to each member upon request.

PERIODIC PUBLICATIONS

BILL SUMMARIES. Summaries of the legislation introduced; usually filed with the member's bill copies. This reference provides a description of the proposal; a brief summary of the present law with reference to its location in the public or private acts, an outline of how the proposal will change present law, and often times an analysis of the effect of the proposed change on related laws. These summaries are prepared by the Office of Legal Services (741-3257).

FISCAL NOTES. Fiscal notes state the estimated amount of increase or decrease in revenue or expenditures and the fiscal implications of pending legislation. In the House, legislation having a positive or negative fiscal effect of over $100,000 must also be referred to the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means. In the Senate, legislation having a negative fiscal impact of over $50,000 must also be referred to the Finance, Ways and Means Committee. Fiscal notes are prepared and distributed by the Office of Fiscal Review.

THE UNOFFICIAL INDEX TO LEGISLATION. Similar in content to the Subject Index of the microfiche. Published by the Office of Legislative Information Services at the end of an annual session, this publication contains listings of public chapters passed during that session, a listing of bills by subject matter, code sections amended or repealed, and other pertinent statistical information.

BOUND JOURNALS. At the end of each legislative session, the House and Senate Journals are bound, with indexes, into volumes for permanent references and delivered to each member's office.

ABSTRACTS OF PUBLIC CHAPTERS PASSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. Published by the Office of Legal Services after session, this booklet contains, by subject listing, a description of all public chapters passed during that particular legislative session. It also includes code sections amended or repealed, original House and Senate bill numbers, and the Public Chapter numbers assigned.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE ACTS. At the end of session the Public Acts and Private Acts (published during session in pamphlet form on a weekly basis) are printed and bound into volumes for permanent reference.

LEGISLATIVE LIBRARY

The Legislative Library has an extensive selection of materials for legal and legislative research, as, well as a small general reference collection, reports from various state agencies, several newspapers and general interest magazines, and a variety of other materials.

Please ask the Librarian or the Library Assistant for assistance in checking out any of the materials. There is no time limit on the use of materials, but a record of the location of books and reference materials is required. Please photocopy and return original material as soon as possible so that others may also have access to all materials.

Tapes of certain Joint Committee and Select Committee hearings (based on the request of the Chairman).

GRAND DIVISIONS

There are three Grand Divisions of the State set out in the statutes (TCA 4-1-201--204): Eastern, Middle and Western. Some facets of state government are based on the grand divisions, such as the Supreme Court justices and others.

The Eastern Grand division counties are: Anderson, Bledsoe, Blount, Bradley, Campbell, Claiborne, Carter, Cocke, Cumberland, Grainger, Greene, Hancock, Hamilton, Hamblen, Hawkins, Jefferson, Johnson, Knox, Loudon, Marion, McMinn, Meigs, Monroe, Morgan, Polk, Rhea, Roane, Scott, Sevier, Sullivan, Unicoi, Union and Washington.

The Middle Grand division counties are: Bedford, Cannon, Cheatham, Clay, Coffee, Davidson, DeKalb, Dickson, Fentress, Franklin, Giles, Grundy, Hickman, Houston, Humphreys, Jackson, Lawrence, Lewis, Lincoln, Macon, Marshall, Maury, Montgomery, Moore, Overton, Perry, Pickett, Putnam, Robertson, Rutherford, Sequatchie, Smith, Sumner, Stewart, Trousdale, Van Buren, Warren, Wayne, White, Williamson and Wilson.

The Western Grand division counties are: Benton, Carroll, Chester, Crockett, Decatur, Dyer, Fayette, Gibson, Hardeman, Hardin, Haywood, Henderson, Henry, Lake, Lauderdale, McNairy, Madison, Obion, Shelby, Tipton and Weakley.

STATE SYMBOLS

State Flag

The State Flag was designed by LeRoy Reeves of the Third Regiment, Tennessee Infantry, who made the following explanation of his design:

The three stars are of pure white, representing the three grand divisions of the state. They are bound together by the endless circle of the blue field, the symbol being three bound together in one – an indissoluble trinity. The large field is crimson. The final blue bar relieves the sameness of the crimson field and prevents the flag from showing too much crimson when hanging limp. The white edgings contrast more strongly the other colors.

A description of the State Flag was set out in the Code in 1905 (TCA 4-1-301) and has only been altered once since then.

41-1-301. State flag or banner.- The flag or banner of the state of Tennessee shall be of the following design, colors, and proportions, to wit, an oblong flag or banner in length one and two thirds (1 2/3) times its width, the principal field of same to be of color red, but the flag or banner ending at its free or outer end in a perpendicular bar of blue, of uniform width, running from side to side, that is to say, from top to bottom of the flag or banner, and separated from the red field by a narrow margin or stripe of white of uniform width; the width of the white stripe to be one fifth (1/5) that of the blue bar; and the total width of the bar and stripe together to be equal to one eighth (1/8) of the width of the flag. In the center of the red field shall be a smaller circular field of blue, separated from the surrounding red field by a circular margin or stripe of white of uniform width and of the same width as the straight margin or stripe first mentioned. The breadth or diameter of the circular blue field, exclusive of the white margin, shall be equal to one half (1/2) of the width of the flag. Inside the circular blue field shall be three (3) five-pointed stars of white distributed at equal intervals around a point, the center of the blue field, and of such size and arrangement that one (1) point of each of the other two (2) around the center point of the field; and the two (2) outer points of each star shall approach as nearly as practicable without actually touching the periphery of the blue field. The arrangement of the three (3) stars shall be such that the centers of no two (2) stars shall be in a line parallel to either the side or end of the flag, but intermediate between the same; and the highest star shall be the one nearest the upper confined corner of the flag. [Acts 1905, ch. 498;Shan.,§ 92a1; Code 1932.,§ 101;T.C.A. (orig. ed.),§ 4-106.]

State Seal

Even though the provision for the Seal of the State of Tennessee was made in the Constitution in 1796, no action was taken until 1801 when a legislative commission was appointed to create a seal and a motto. In 1987 the description of the seal was placed into the statutes.

4-1-314. Great seal of the state of Tennessee.- (a) The great seal of the state of Tennessee shall be in the shape of a circle. The circumference of the circle shall bear the words "THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF TENNESSEE," and in the lower part of the circumference shall be the date "1796," being the year in which the constitution of Tennessee was adopted and Tennessee became one to the United States of America.

(b) Inside the upper semicircle of the circle shall be set the numerals "XVI," being the number of the state in chronological order within the United States; below the numerals shall be the figures of a plough, sheaf of wheat, and cotton plant, emblematic of agriculture within the estate; and under the base of the upper semicircle shall be the word "AGRICULTURE."

(c) Inside the lower semicircle of the circle shall be set the figure of a boat with sail, emblematic of commercial activity in the state; and below this figure the word "COMMERCE."

(d) The size of the seal embossed shall be not greater in diameter than two and one quarter inches (2 1/4") nor smaller in diameter than one and three quarter inches (1 3/4").

(e) The size of printed seals shall conform to the ranges of sizes as permitted by the rules of the state publication committee.

(f) Until a different rendering of this design is submitted by the governor to the secretary of state and approved by resolution by both houses of the general assembly, voting separately, the design currently in use is hereby validated and adopted, to wit. [Acts 1987, ch. 402,§ 1.]

State Tree

Chapter 204 of the Public Acts of the 1947 General Assembly designated the tulip poplar as the official State tree of Tennessee. (TCA 4-1-305)

State Reptile

The Eastern Box Turtle was designated official state reptile by Public Chapter 367 of the 99th General Assembly in 1995.

State Rock

Limestone was declared the official State rock by Chapter 42 of the Public Acts of 1979. (TCA 4-1-309) Earlier in 1969, the General Assembly adopted House Joint Resolution No. 42 which declared agate the state rock.

State Gem

The Pearl, taken from fresh water rivers of the State, was declared the official State gem by Chapter 192 of the Public Acts of 1979. (TCA 4-1-310)

State Songs

Tennessee has five state songs, adopted on various occasions, as indicated below: (TCA 4-1-302)

"My Homeland, Tennessee" by Nell Grayson Taylor and Roy Lamont Smith, adopted by House Joint Resolution 36, 1925;

"When It's Iris Time in Tennessee" by Willa Mae Waid, adopted by Chapter 154 of the Public Acts of 1935;

"My Tennessee" by Francis Hannah Tranum, adopted by Senate Joint Resolution 35, 1955, as the official public school song;

"The Tennessee Waltz" by Redd Stewart and Pee Wee King, adopted by Senate Joint Resolution 9, 1965; and,

"Rocky Top" by Boudleaux and Felice Bryant, adopted by Chapter 545 of the Public Acts of 1982.

"Tennessee" by Vivian Rorie adopted by House Joint Resolution 744 fo the 97th General Assembly.

State Slogan

The official slogan for Tennessee: "Tennessee--America at its Best" was adopted by Chapter 33 of the Public Acts of 1965 and may be used in advertising for the state and its attractions. (TCA 4-1-304)

State Motto

According to Chapter 402 of the Public Acts of 1987, the motto of the state of Tennessee is "Agriculture and Commerce", as proclaimed on the great seal of the state of Tennessee since 1801. (TCA 4-1-315)

State Poem

The Poem "Oh Tennessee, My Tennessee" by Admiral William Lawrence, was designated the official state poem by Chapter 111 of the Acts of 1973. (TCA 4-1-303)

State Folk Dance

The square dance was designated the state dance by Chapter 829 of the Public Acts of 1980. (TCA 4-1-312)

English was established as the official and legal language by Chapter 821 of the Public Acts of 1984. TCA 4-1-404 states: "All communications and publications, including ballots, produced by governmental entities in Tennessee shall be in English, and instruction in the public schools and colleges of Tennessee shall be conducted in English unless the nature of the course would require otherwise."

Poet Laureate

House Joint Resolution 133 of 1995 named Margaret "Maggi" Britton Vaughn as Poet Laureate of Tennessee.

Ambassador of Letters

Harriette Louise Bias Allen, was named "Tennessee's Ambassador of Letters" by House Joint Resolution No. 222 in 1977.

American Sign Language

By Public Chapter 121 of 1989 (effective April 18, 1989), American Sign Language was recognized and adopted as the official and native sign language of the deaf in Tennessee. (TCA 4-1-105).

CONGRESSIONAL REPRESENTATION

Congress, the federal Legislative Body, is bicameral, that is, there are two bodies or "Houses": the Senate and the House of Representatives.

There are 100 members in the Senate, two from each state in the union. The presiding officer, the Vice President of the United States, is called the President of the Senate in his role in the Senate. The position is currently held by Albert Gore, Jr., former Senator from Tennessee. Since the President of the Senate is not a member of that body, he votes only in the event of a tie.

The House of Representatives is composed of 435 members. The Representatives, or Congressmen as they are often called, each represent approximately 541,904 citizens in their home state. Tennessee, with a population of 4,877,185, has nine (9) Congressmen.

APPENDIX II

RULES OF ORDER

of the

TENNESSEE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

One-Hundredth General Assembly

1. SPEAKER TO CONVENE HOUSE. At the hour to which the House shall have been adjourned, the Speaker shall proceed to the dais and announce that the House is in session in accordance with the adjournment motion previously made. The Speaker shall then call the House to order and, after appropriate opening ceremonies, call for the regular order of business, beginning with a roll call to determine that a quorum is present. A quorum of the House of Representatives shall be as defined by the Constitution of the State of Tennessee: "Not less than two-thirds of all the members to which each house shall be entitled shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized, by law, to compel the attendance of absent members." Article 2, Section 11, Constitution of the State of Tennessee.

2. SPEAKER TO PRESERVE ORDER. The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum and may speak to points of order in preference to other members. The Speaker will have the authority to set the guidelines for decorum.

3. OTHER DUTIES OF SPEAKER. The Speaker shall supervise the preparation of the daily Journal and shall have general direction of the Representative Chamber in accordance with the authority granted under the Rules of the House.

4. ORDER IN GALLERY OR LOBBY. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the gallery or lobby, the Speaker or the Chair of the Committee of the Whole shall have power to order the same to be cleared.

5. FORMS OF QUESTIONS. Questions shall be put directly in this form: "Representatives in favor of (then state the proposition) say 'Aye' and, after the affirmative will be expressed, "Representatives who are opposed, say 'No'." If the Speaker doubt, or a roll call be requested, as provided in Rule 29, a roll call vote shall be taken.

6. SPEAKER TO APPOINT COMMITTEES. The Speaker shall appoint all committees, unless otherwise directed by the House, in which case they shall be elected by a vote of the House; and if, upon the first ballot, there be no election, a second ballot shall be taken, in which a plurality of votes shall elect. The Speaker shall, in appointing committees, give consideration to the abilities, preferences and seniority of the members and the political party representation in the House. No member shall be appointed to serve on more than two (2) standing committees, exclusive of the Committee on Calendar and Rules. Provided, however, for purposes of the 100th General Assembly, as many as fifteen (15) members may be appointed to serve on the Children and Family Affairs Committee, as well as to serve on two other standing committees.

7. SPEAKER TO APPOINT COMMITTEE OFFICERS. The Speaker shall appoint one (1) chair, one (1) vice-chair, and one (1) secretary for each of the standing committees and for the Committee on Calendar and Rules. Any officer of any committee, with the approval of the Speaker, may choose to be a member of only one (1) committee. In appointing committee officers, the Speaker shall consider the abilities, preferences and seniority of members and the political party representation in the House.

8. SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. A Speaker pro tempore of the House of Representatives shall be elected by the membership of the House during the organizational session of the General Assembly. The Speaker pro tempore shall serve until a successor is chosen or until the expiration of such speaker's term, whichever shall first occur. The Speaker pro tempore shall act during the absence of the Speaker, except that the Speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the Chair for a period not to exceed one (1) legislative day. In the absence of the Speaker and the Speaker pro tempore, it shall be the duty of the Clerk to call the House to order and call the roll for the election of a temporary Speaker. In the event of an interim vacancy of the office of Speaker, through death or resignation, or in the event of disability of the Speaker, the Speaker pro tempore shall conduct the necessary business of the House only until such time as an election can be held in the House to fill the vacancy.

9. CHIEF CLERK. There shall be a Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives who shall be appointed by the Speaker and who shall serve until a successor is chosen. The Chief Clerk shall keep open the Office of the Clerk during and between sessions of the General Assembly on a permanent basis and shall transact efficiently such business as is assigned or required by law or rules of the House, both during and between sessions. The Chief Clerk shall take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Tennessee and to truly and faithfully discharge the duties of the office to the best of such clerk's knowledge and ability.

10. APPOINTMENT OF HOUSE OFFICERS. The Speaker shall appoint such employees as clerks, sergeant-at-arms, pages, and other House employees as are necessary for the proper transaction of the business of the House.

11. VOTES REQUIRED FOR CHOICE. In all votes other than those specifically provided for herein, a majority of those present and voting shall be necessary to a choice, a quorum being present.

12. ORDER OF BUSINESS. The reading of the daily Journal for the preceding day shall not be required; provided, however, that upon appropriate motions, the House may direct that the same be read. Any corrections in the Journal shall be suggested by individual members under the order of Unfinished Business.

After appropriate opening ceremonies, the Speaker shall call for the following:

(1) Roll Call
(2) Personal Orders
(3) Introduction of Resolutions
(4) Senate Joint Resolutions (Congratulatory, Memorializing)
(5) Resolutions Lying Over
(6) Introduction of Bills
(7) Senate Bills on First Consideration
(8) Senate Bills on Second Consideration
(9) House Bills on Second Consideration
(10) Petitions and Memorials
(11) Reports from Standing Committees
(12) Reports from Select Committees
(13) Calendars
(14) Unfinished Business
(15) Announcements
(16) Roll Call

13. SPECIAL ORDER. It shall require an affirmative vote by two-thirds (2/3) of the members to which the House is entitled under the Constitution to set a special order of business; however, when a motion has been made to set for a special order any bill, resolution, or motion, the motion having failed for lack of a two-thirds majority but having received a majority vote of the members of the House present, it shall be in order, upon the demand of five (5) members of the House, for the Committee on Calendar and Rules to meet and report for the adoption or rejection by a majority vote of the House a rule or order fixing a time for the consideration of said bill or measure. It shall require a majority vote of the members of the House to postpone any special order set.

14. NUMBER OF SPECIAL ORDERS PERMISSIBLE WITHOUT RE-REFERRAL. After a bill has been scheduled for third consideration, the sponsor of any bill or resolution may before the House request another date for third consideration, and the bill or resolution shall be so scheduled, however, the sponsor of any bill or resolution shall only have the right to make such a request three (3) times on any particular bill or resolution. If the House does not consider the bill or resolution on or before the fourth such scheduled time, the bill or resolution shall be automatically re-referred to the Committee on Calendar and Rules.

15. PETITIONS AND MEMORIALS - BRIEF STATEMENT. Before any petition or memorial addressed to the House shall be received and read at the table, a brief statement of the contents of the petition or memorial shall be filed with the Chief Clerk.

16. SYSTEM ENTRY CODE. Before any bill or resolution can be accepted by the Chief Clerk for the purpose of pre-filing and assigning a number, or any committee amendment or any other amendment in the first degree can be accepted for the purpose of attaching it to a bill, the document in question shall have a system entry code affixed thereto by the Office of Legal Services.

17. RESOLUTIONS. Resolutions shall be pre-filed with the Office of the Chief Clerk by 4:00 p.m. for introduction the following day and referral to the appropriate standing committee. However, all congratulatory and memorializing resolutions shall automatically be introduced the day of filing or the first legislative day thereafter and placed on the next Consent Calendar in accordance with Rule No. 50.

Joint resolutions calling for joint conventions shall be referred by the Speaker to a committee consisting of the Speaker, the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader for immediate consideration. The committee shall report its recommendations concerning the proposed joint convention to the House.

18. DUTIES OF MEMBERS TOWARD SPEAKER. No member shall be recognized by the Speaker unless the member addresses the chair from such member's desk. In all cases the member who shall first rise shall be entitled to speak first; but when two (2) or more members shall rise at the same time, the Speaker shall name the member who shall speak first.

When any member is about to speak in debate or deliver any matter whatever to the House, such member shall rise, and respectfully address the chair and await the notice of the Speaker. After recognition by the Speaker, the member shall proceed with making remarks which strictly conform to the question under debate and avoid all personalities.

19. TRANSGRESSION OF RULES BY MEMBER. Any member who, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the Rules of the House, the Speaker shall, or any other member may, call such transgressing member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the House shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate. If there be no appeal, the decision of the Chair shall prevail. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, such member shall be permitted to proceed, without leave of the House. If otherwise, such member shall not be permitted to proceed. In case any member objects and continues, without leave of the House, and if the case require it, such member shall be liable to the censure of the House.

20. ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS REQUIRED. No member shall be absent from service in the House without leave first obtained; and in case a less number than the quorum of the House shall convene, the Speaker is hereby authorized to send the Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other person or persons, for any or all absent members. This shall be done at the expense of such absentees, respectively, unless such excuse for nonattendance shall be rendered as the House, when a quorum is convened, shall deem sufficient.

21. TIME LIMITS OF DEBATE. Each member shall be limited to fifteen (15) minutes in such member's opening remarks and shall be limited to ten (10) minutes in rejoinder in discussion upon the floor of the House, EXCEPT by a majority of the members present, the House may increase or decrease the limitations of time herein set out for debate on a particular bill, resolution or motion.

22. PERSONS ADMITTED ON FLOOR OF HOUSE. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall admit no person into the House Chamber thirty (30) minutes prior to and during any session except members of the General Assembly, employees of the House as designated by the Speaker of the House, employees of the Senate as designated by the Speaker of the Senate, employees of the Office of Legal Services, employees of the Office of Legislative Information Services, Fiscal Review Committee staff, as designated by the Speaker of the House, members of the Capitol Hill Press Corps as designated by the chair of the Corps and approved by the Speaker of the House, and the Chaplain and the Physician of the Day. All visitors and spectators shall have access to the gallery so long as they preserve order.

23. EVERY MOTION MUST BE SECONDED. Every motion must be seconded by some member of the House other than the proponent of the motion and upon failure of a second, the Speaker shall declare the motion failed for lack of a second.

24. MOTION REDUCED TO WRITING. The Speaker may require any motion to be reduced to writing and placed on the desk of the Clerk.

25. WHAT MOTION DEBATABLE. All motions shall be subject to debate except the following motions:

(1) To adjourn
(2) Lay on the table
(3) For the previous question

Provided, however, the proponent of any motion sought to be tabled shall have the right to be heard after the motion to table is made and before said motion to table is put to vote.

26. PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS. When any question or motion is under debate in the House, the following motions only shall be in order and may be entertained by the Speaker:

(1) To adjourn
(2) To lay on the table
(3) For the previous question
(4) To postpone to a day certain
(5) To commit or recommit
(6) To amend

Each of said motions shall take precedence in the order set out herein.

27. NO MOTION TO ADJOURN UNTIL FURTHER BUSINESS. When a motion to adjourn shall have been made and failed, the Speaker shall not entertain another motion to adjourn until some business has been transacted since the last motion to adjourn was voted upon.

28. WHEN MOTION NOT TO BE ENTERTAINED BY SPEAKER. After the Speaker has submitted a question or after there has been a roll call or count of the House, the Speaker shall not entertain or recognize a member on a point of personal privilege or otherwise until a decision of the House has been declared by the Chair. At any other time, a member may rise to a point of personal privilege but such member shall confine such remarks to questions affecting the rights, reputation and conduct of the member in such member's official capacity, and shall not address remarks to any question germane to substantive matters being considered.

29. DEMAND OF ROLL CALL. Any question or motion (except final passage of a bill) may be put to the House by a voice vote at the discretion of the Speaker; provided, however, that, as required by the Constitution of Tennessee, any five (5) members of the House may require a roll call of the membership of the House and said members desiring a roll call shall indicate their desire by raising their hands. All votes taken upon final passage on third consideration of a general bill and all votes taken on demand by any five (5) members as provided for shall be taken by the electronic roll call system, provided that the Speaker may require the calling of the names of the members in alphabetical order and each member shall then answer "Aye" or "No" when such member's name is called by the Clerk without debate. Whenever the electronic roll call system is used, the Clerk shall preserve the record of the votes of the members by making the printed roll call as authenticated by the roll call system a part of the rough journal. All members casting votes by the electronic roll call machine shall be at their proper desks at the time for voting with the exception of the Speaker and sponsor moving passage of the bill under consideration. In the event the electronic roll call system is inoperative, all questions shall be put to the House by voice vote or by calling the roll as circumstances may require.

30. EXPLANATION OF VOTE. Any member may have written into the Journal an explanation of such member's vote on any particular motion, resolution, or bill by presenting to the Clerk an appropriate explanation in typewritten form.

31. CHANGE OF VOTE. Any member's vote on a roll call vote may be changed if such member requests such change before the result of the roll call is announced by the Speaker. After the result of the roll call is announced by the Speaker, no member may change such vote and the Journal entry shall not be altered. However, any member not voting at the time the roll call was taken, or any member voting on the original question but wishing to express a desire to change such member's original stand, may, have entered on the Journal a typewritten statement of support of or opposition to the question upon which the vote was taken.

32. APPEALS TO HOUSE ON RULINGS OF SPEAKER. Any five (5) members of the House may appeal to the House from the ruling of the Speaker and a majority vote of the members present shall decide the appeal.

No member shall speak more than twice on the appeal except with the permission of the majority of the members present.

33. WHO MAY ADDRESS SPEAKER. No one may address the Speaker except a member of the House.

34. DIVISION OF QUESTION IN DEBATE. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but no bill shall be divided on third and final consideration.

35. OTHER PAPERS. When the reading of a paper is called for and the same is objected to by any member, it shall be decided by a vote of the House without debate. Distribution of other papers to the desks of the members can only be accomplished upon request of a member of the House and must reflect the name of the requesting member.

36. PREVIOUS QUESTION. The previous question shall only be admitted when demanded by two-thirds (2/3) of the members present. It may be applied to the main question, the main question and amendment, or to the main question and amendment to the amendment. If the question prevails on the main motion, its effect shall be to preclude all future amendments and terminate all debate. The proponent of the motion, amendment, resolution or bill shall have the right to close the debate thereon, and no call for the previous question shall cut off this right. However, when the demand for the previous question has been made and rejected under the foregoing provision but received a majority vote of the members of the House, it shall be in order, upon the demand of any five (5) members of the House, for the Committee on Calendar and Rules to meet and fix or limit the time in which debate on said question shall be closed, which decision shall be binding upon all membership of the House.

37. TABLED MOTION - HOW REMOVED, ETC. When any bill, resolution, or motion is laid on the table by a vote of the House, it shall require a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those members present to take it from the table; but it shall require only a majority of the votes (a quorum being present) to lift from the table a vote rejecting a bill, resolution, or a motion.

38. BILLS DISPLACED BY SUBSTITUTION TABLED. When a bill has been substituted for another bill, the bill displaced by the substitution shall be considered as tabled.

39. WHEN BILL OR RESOLUTION FAILS TO RECEIVE CONSTITUTIONAL MAJORITY. When any bill or resolution is voted upon, but fails to receive a constitutional majority, the same shall be automatically re-referred to the Committee on Calendar and Rules. Any bill so re-referred during the final seven (7) days of the session shall not be again placed on the calendar for consideration during that session unless called for by a favorable vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the members to which the House is entitled under the Constitution, in which case it shall be placed in the next available position on the calendar for a succeeding day. However, no bill or resolution may be voted on more than twice during this General Assembly.

40. MOTION TO RECONSIDER FOLLOWING FINAL PASSAGE. When a vote on final passage of a bill has been made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side to move for a reconsideration thereof, at any time the same day or the next succeeding day of actual session. If the member moving the reconsideration shall request that motion be entered upon the Journal, it shall be done, and such member shall have exclusive control of the motion during that day and the next succeeding day of actual session; providing the motion has been duly seconded; and the motion shall be a privileged motion, taking precedence, when called up, over all other business. Thereafter, it may be called up by any member and disposed of by the House; however, no motion to reconsider a reconsideration shall be in order. No motion to reconsider shall be placed upon the Journal during the last seven (7) legislative days of any annual session.

41. NO CROWDING ABOUT CLERK'S DESK. Members shall not crowd or stand about the Clerk's desk.

42. WHO ALLOWED IN ROOMS OF CLERKS. No persons other than members and employees of the General Assembly shall be allowed in the offices of the Chief Clerk and Chief Engrossing Clerk during the period the House is in floor session.

43. INFORMATION REQUIRED ON COVERS OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS. Every bill or resolution introduced shall be typewritten on not less than a full page of paper, in original and one copy and the copy shall have the following statement on the cover: "I certify that the within bill (resolution) is a true copy of the original which was introduced this date.

Date Signature."

Each bill or resolution and all copies shall be enclosed in manuscript covers and shall bear the signature(s) of the sponsor(s) on said covers and said covers shall also contain a succinct statement of the purpose or nature of said bill or resolution.

No member shall be permitted to be added as a sponsor to a bill or resolution without the written permission of the first prime sponsor; provided, however, if a piece of legislation purports to name a public facility (bridge, building, etc.), the member who represents the district in which said facility lies shall be allowed to be added as a prime sponsor. Only the first prime sponsor may request that a bill be put on notice. However, the first prime sponsor may designate in writing, filed with the office of the house clerk, such other prime sponsor(s) who shall have all the rights of the first prime sponsor as to action on a bill.

The Chief Clerk shall delete the name of any member who is not the only prime sponsor from any bill or resolution upon receipt of such request in writing.

When a member introduces a bill or resolution, the Clerk shall immediately give the same a House number. The copy shall remain on file with the Clerk's Office.

44. FILING OF BILLS FOR INTRODUCTION.

(a) Bills which have not been assigned a system entry code by the Office of Legal Services shall not be accepted for filing or pre-filing by the Office of the Chief Clerk.

(b) All bills for introduction shall be filed with the Chief Clerk no later than 4:00 p.m. on the day preceding the date of introduction.

(c) In the interim between sessions, any member of the House may pre-file a bill or resolution for introduction in the next session and the procedure shall be as follows:

(1) The bill or resolution shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House by the member in the number and form prescribed by the Rules of the House.

(2) The Chief Clerk shall number the bill or resolution and note thereon the date of the first day of the next session, on which the bill or resolution will be introduced and, in the case of bills, will pass first consideration.

(3) After written request of the sponsor of a pre-filed bill or resolution, the Speaker of the House may refer the bill or resolution to the appropriate committee to be studied and considered by the committee, or a subcommittee thereof, during the interim between sessions.

45. BILLS TO BE NUMBERED. Each bill introduced shall be numbered in numerical order by the Clerk and said bill shall bear said number and be designated by said number in all future considerations of the same in the House. No bill shall be assigned a number by the Clerk or be referred by the Speaker to a committee for consideration unless it contains a title or caption; an enacting clause stating, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee:" and language following the enacting clause purporting to state new law or to amend or repeal existing law. Further, no bill that has not been assigned a system entry code by the Office of Legal Services shall be accepted or numbered by the Office of the Chief Clerk.

46. ONE CONSIDERATION PER DAY'S SESSION. Only one (1) consideration of a bill may be had in the House in any day's session.

47. SECOND CONSIDERATION - REFERRED TO COMMITTEE. After the passage of a bill on second consideration, all general bills shall be referred by the Speaker to the appropriate committee. Any bill certified by its sponsor to be a caption bill or which is deemed so by the Speaker, shall receive first and second consideration and then shall be held on the Clerk's desk pending the filing of an amendment in proper form. After the filing of the amendment, the bill shall be referred by the Speaker to the proper committee.

48. LOCAL BILLS TO COMMITTEE - WHEN. Local bills may be referred by the Speaker to appropriate committees if, in the discretion of the Speaker, the nature and effect of said local bills shall require it. Other local bills, after having received the authorization of the local legislative delegation, shall automatically be placed on the Consent Calendar in accordance with Rule No. 50.

49. DUTIES OF COMMITTEE ON CALENDAR AND RULES CONCERNING CALENDAR. All bills having been considered and reported out of the standing committee to which referred shall be automatically transmitted to the Committee on Calendar and Rules without further reference by the Speaker; and no bill of general nature shall be considered for third and final passage until a written calendar, from the Committee on Calendar and Rules, giving notice of such bill, has been posted in a regular place in the House Chamber at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to such consideration. Not more than twenty-five (25) general bills shall be placed on the calendar for final consideration on any one (1) day, and this number shall include any bills carried over from previous calendars or any bills set for special order. Should the House not complete any day's calendar, all bills remaining unconsidered shall go to the top of the calendar on the next day that general bills are considered, provided that only so many of the said bills shall be carried over as will not cause the total to be considered on that day to exceed the aforesaid limit. Any bills remaining to be carried over in excess of that number shall be placed at the head of the calendar on a succeeding day or days, within the daily maximum of twenty-five (25). The foregoing maximum limitation on bills for daily consideration may be suspended by the Committee on Calendar and Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the total membership of said committee.

50. CONSENT CALENDAR. Any bills or resolutions which are not controversial in nature shall be placed on a Consent Calendar by the officers of the Committee on Calendar and Rules, except for those resolutions placed on the Consent Calendar pursuant to Rule No. 17. The Consent Calendar shall be printed and posted in a regular place in the House Chamber at least seventy-two (72) hours in advance of the time for such consideration.

Any member may object in writing to a bill or resolution on the Consent Calendar and if objection is raised, the bill or resolution shall be removed from the Consent Calendar and placed at the foot of the regular calendar for consideration on the day following removal from the Consent Calendar; provided, however, that any bill or resolution objected to and removed from the Consent Calendar on the final day of a session shall be placed at the foot of the regular calendar on that day.

Upon a motion for passage of the Consent Calendar pursuant to Rule 50, the appropriate language shall be spread in the Journal:

"all House Bills having companion Senate Bills and are on the Clerk's desk be conformed and substituted for the appropriate House Bill, all Senate and House Bills on the Consent Calendar be passed on third and final consideration, all House Resolutions and House Joint Resolutions be adopted, and all Senate Joint Resolutions on the Consent Calendar be concurred in."

51. SPONSOR OF BILL AND CHAIR OF STANDING COMMITTEE PROPOSING AMENDMENT TO BILL MUST BE PRESENT. No bill may be considered on third and final reading unless the sponsor of said bill and the chair, or the chair's designee, of a standing committee which has recommended any amendment or amendments to the bill shall be present in the House, unless such sponsor or chair shall have previously indicated in writing to the Speaker permission for same to be brought up in such member's absence. However, if such sponsor, the chair or the chair's designee is not present in the House within one (1) hour from the time the bill is reached on the calendar, or the calendar is completed, this requirement is waived and the House may proceed to consider the bill in the absence of such sponsor, the chair or the chair's designee.

52. SUBSTITUTE SPONSOR OF BILL. Upon the death or disability requiring the absence from the House of any sponsor of a bill, the Speaker may name one (1) of the cosigners of said bill as sponsor, and if only one (1) person shall have signed said bill as sponsor, and said sponsor becomes unable to be present in the House, the Speaker may name any person favorable to said bill as sponsor.

53. RECALL OF BILL FROM COMMITTEE. Except during the organizational session, after any bill or other matter shall have been in any committee for seven (7) days, the same may be called for by two-thirds (2/3) of the members to which the body is entitled under the Constitution and placed upon the calendar of the House. Such action shall be in order only after a signed notice giving the number of the bill to be called for has been filed with and announced by the Clerk at least one (1) day prior to offering a motion to withdraw said bill from the committee in which it is held. When a bill has been recalled from a committee to which it was assigned by the Speaker or from the Committee on Calendar and Rules, it shall be placed at the top of the calendar on the next day on which general bills are considered. Should such a bill be recalled from committee in the manner provided above on the final day of a session, it shall then be placed at the foot of the calendar on that day.

54. RECALL OF BILL OR RESOLUTION FROM SENATE OR GOVERNOR. Upon motion, the House acting by the written message of the Clerk may request the return of a bill or resolution from the Senate. If a bill has been transmitted to the Governor, upon motion, the forwarding body acting by written message of the Clerk may request the return of the bill or resolution from the Governor.

55. BILL MAY BE RECOMMITTED. After commitment and report thereof to the House, at any time before its passage, a bill may be recommitted, provided the recommitment of the bill during the last seven (7) days of a session shall prohibit further consideration of the bill during that session unless recalled under Rule 53.

56. PRECEDENCE OF SENATE BILLS. Bills coming from the Senate shall have precedence of bills in the House on the same subjects.

57. CERTIFIED BY CLERK. When a bill shall pass it shall be certified by the Clerk, noting the day of its passage at the foot thereof.

58. BILLS TO BE EXAMINED BY CHIEF ENGROSSING CLERK. All bills passed in the House shall, before they are sent to the Senate, be examined by the Chief Engrossing Clerk, whose duty it shall be to examine all bills, amendments, resolutions or motions, before they go out of the possession of the House, and to make report that they are correctly engrossed, which report shall be entered in the Journal. The Chief Engrossing Clerk shall correct any misspelled words in such documents prior to transmission.

59. CONCURRENCE OF HOUSE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS. When a House bill is returned from the Senate with an amendment or a substitute for the House bill, the "ayes" and "noes" shall be called for on the concurrence in the amendment or the passage of the substituted bill and entered on the Journal of the House. No said amendment or substituted bill shall be considered as concurred in or passed unless a majority of the members to which the House is entitled shall have voted affirmatively therefor and the said vote shall have been entered on the Journal. Any measure coming from the Senate with an amendment or a substitute for the House bill shall lie over one (1) day except on the final two (2) legislative days of a session.

No measure coming from the Senate with an amendment or any other Senate action requiring House concurrence or non-concurrence shall be acted on by the House until the Chief Clerk has announced that the measure has been returned from the Senate requiring further action by the House. This announcement shall be made on the legislative day prior to consideration of the measure by the House under the order of unfinished business except during the final four (4) legislative days of the session. The Chief Clerk will see that an impact summary of the Senate action on the measure as prepared by the Office of Legislative Information Services is placed on a special Senate Message Calendar to be printed and placed on the members' desks on the legislative day immediately following the announcement. The impact summaries will appear in numerical order regardless of the nature of the measure.

60. AMENDMENTS TO BILLS. No amendment beyond the second degree shall be entertained, that is, an amendment to an amendment; and in all such cases, the vote on the respective amendments shall be had in the reverse order in which the same were made.

61. TABLING OF AMENDMENT KILLS SAME. When a motion to lay on the table an amendment, in the first or second degree, to a pending bill, resolution or other matter, prevails, it shall be a final defeat of the tabled amendment, and the further consideration of such bill, resolution, or other matter, may be at once continued.

62. NO RIDER. No amendment by way of a rider shall be received.

63. MOTION TO REJECT. When a bill receives a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to pass on third and final consideration, or when a resolution receives a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to adopt or concur on final consideration, the Speaker, after the announcement of the vote by the Clerk, shall say "(document type and number), having received a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to pass on third and final consideration (or adopt or concur), I hereby declare the floor now open for a motion to reject." If a member makes the motion to reject, that motion and the bill or resolution in question will lie over the remainder of that legislative day and the Speaker will direct the Chief Clerk to place the bill or resolution in question at the heel of the regular calendar set for the next legislative day.

When a bill or resolution is considered on the next legislative day, no other motion shall be in order until the motion to reject has been disposed of and the Speaker has declared the final status of the bill or resolution in question. If the motion to reject passes, the Speaker, after the announcement of the vote by the Clerk, shall say "(document type and number), having received a constitutional majority in the negative on the motion to pass on third and final consideration (or adopt or concur), and having received a constitutional majority in the affirmative on the motion to reject, I hereby declare (document type and number) rejected under the terms set forth in Article II, Section 19, of the Constitution of the State of Tennessee."

If no motion to reject is made, or if a motion to reject is made and fails to receive a constitutional majority, the Speaker shall re-refer the bill or resolution in question to the Committee on Calendar and Rules.

If the motion to reject as provided for in this rule is passed, then (a) pursuant to Article II, Section 19, Tennessee Constitution, no bill containing the same substance shall be passed into a law during this General Assembly, and (b) the motion to reconsider shall be out of order.

Motions to reject shall not be in order except as provided above.

64. MOTION TO RECONSIDER EVERY BILL MUST BE ACTED UPON. The Clerk shall transmit to the Senate no bill, resolution, message, report, amendment, or motion nor shall the Chief Engrossing Clerk present any bill or resolution to the Governor for his action until the motion to reconsider shall have been acted upon and said action entered on the Journal.

65. STANDING COMMITTEES. There shall be the following standing committees, each of which the Speaker and the Speaker Pro Tempore shall be voting members, to wit:

(1) Agriculture
(2) Children and Family Affairs

(3) Commerce
(4) Conservation and Environment
(5) Consumer and Employee Affairs
(6) Education
(7) Finance, Ways and Means
(8) Government Operations
(9) Health and Human Resources
(10) Judiciary
(11) State and Local Government
(12) Transportation

Provided, however, the Speaker Pro Tempore shall only vote when the Speaker is not present and voting, except on those two (2) standing committees to which the Speaker Pro Tempore has been regularly assigned.

There shall be a committee on Calendar and Rules to be composed of the Speaker, the Speaker Pro Tempore, the Majority Leader or such leader's designee, the Majority Caucus Chair, the Minority Leader or such leader's designee, the Minority Caucus Chair, two members each of the majority and minority parties appointed by and to serve at the pleasure of the Speaker, one (1) chair, one (1) vice chair, and one (1) secretary appointed by the Speaker under House Rule 7; and the chair of each standing committee listed above. It shall set the calendar and establish hours and places of meeting of the various standing committees. In establishing the hours and places of meeting of the various standing committees, the Committee on Calendar and Rules shall, insofar as possible, establish regular meeting times and days which shall avoid conflict among the various standing committees. No standing committee shall have more than thirty (30) appointed members. No member shall serve on more than two (2) standing committees, exclusive of the Committee on Calendar and Rules, the Joint Legislative Services Committee, and the Fiscal Review Committee, except the Speaker and the Speaker Pro Tempore who shall be voting members of all standing committees as stated in the rule (65). Provided, however, as set out in Rule 6, for purposes of the 100th General Assembly, as many as fifteen (15) members may be appointed to serve on the Children and Family Affairs Committee, as well as to serve on two other standing committees.

66. NO SPECIAL COMMITTEES - WHEN. No special committee shall be appointed for any purpose when there is a standing committee on the same subject.

67. MEETING OF COMMITTEES - WHEN. No committee of this House shall remain in session during the sessions of the House, unless by permission of a majority of members present. All committee meetings, except meetings held when the House is in recess or adjourned, shall be announced in open session by the Chair, and the time and place of meeting shall be designated at the same time and shall conform with the schedule established by the Committee on Calendar and Rules under House Rule 65. Committee meetings held on days when the House is in recess or adjourned shall be announced in open session or by written notice, furnished to each member of the House not less than seventy-two (72) hours prior to the meeting time. Committee meetings may be called by the Chair of the Standing Committee, upon approval by the Speaker of the House when the House is in recess or adjourned and shall be called by the Committee Chair when petitioned in writing, signed by a majority of the members of the Committee.

68. COMMITTEE OF WHOLE. In forming a Committee of the Whole, the Speaker shall leave the chair, and the Speaker shall appoint a Chair of the Committee of the Whole to preside.

69. PROCEEDINGS IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE. Upon a bill being committed to a Committee of the Whole, the bill shall be read throughout by the Clerk, if demanded by any member, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the preamble to be last considered. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined; but all amendments, noting the page and the line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the Committee, and so reported to the House. After report, the bill shall again be debated and amended by clauses before its final passage. The rules of the House shall be observed in Committee of the Whole so far as applicable, but no member shall speak twice to any question until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

70. AMENDMENTS IN COMMITTEE OF WHOLE. All amendments made to a report committed to a Committee of the Whole shall be noted and reported, as in the case of bills.

71. AMENDMENTS IN STANDING COMMITTEES AND BILLS INITIATED BY STANDING COMMITTEES. The standing committees may initiate legislation as a committee in addition to acting upon legislation referred to such standing committees. Such legislation initiated by the committee shall be introduced by the chair or the chair's designee and such other members of the committee as may wish to join therein.

When a standing committee recommends a bill for passage only with the adoption of an amendment or amendments approved by a majority vote of the standing committee, the committee chair shall cause such committee amendment or amendments to be prepared in proper typewritten form and filed with the Chief Clerk of the House. Bills reported out of standing committees with committee amendments cannot be considered by the Committee on Calendar and Rules unless the committee amendment is attached thereto. No committee amendments shall be accepted by the Chief Clerk for filing unless said amendment is labeled with a system entry code assigned by the Office of Legal Services. The Chair of said standing committee shall cause said committee amendment to be prepared and filed with the Chief Clerk within twenty-four (24) hours from the time the bill was reported out. The preceding two (2) sentences shall not apply to the General Appropriations Bill.

No later than twenty-four (24) hours prior to the time the bill recommended for amendment is scheduled for consideration on the floor of the House, the Chief Clerk shall cause the recommended amendment or amendments to be reproduced and a copy to be placed upon the desk of each member of the House. After the bill has been explained and its passage moved by the sponsor, the chair of the standing committee recommending the amendment, or chair's designee, shall then be recognized for the explanation of and debate on such amendment or amendments. It shall be the responsibility of the Chief Clerk to ensure that the foregoing procedures are observed in the consideration of amendments recommended by standing committees. It shall also be the responsibility of the Chief Clerk to denote clearly that such amendment or amendments were recommended in a standing committee and to write on the face of the amendment the committee which made the recommendation and the date on which the recommendation was made.

72. FISCAL MEASURES. Any bill or resolution having a fiscal effect of $100,000.00 or more shall be referred to the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means after consideration by the appropriate standing committee. The Committee on Finance, Ways and Means may offer committee amendments relating to fiscal concerns only, and shall not offer amendments relating to other substantive portions of the bill. If the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means recommends the bill or resolution for passage, the bill or resolution shall be referred to the Committee on Calendar and Rules. No bill or resolution having a fiscal effect of $100,000.00 or more shall be put upon final passage until the same has been referred to and recommended by the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means.

Should a standing committee recommend a bill for passage with an amendment or amendments which create a fiscal effect of $100, 000.00 or more then, the chair of the standing committee shall refer the bill along with the recommended committee amendment or amendments to the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means.

Should a floor amendment or amendments to a bill be adopted which cause a bill to have a fiscal effect of $100, 000.00 or more and the bill not have been previously considered by the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means, then the bill shall be automatically referred from the floor to the Committee on Finance, Ways and Means.

73. CONFERENCE COMMITTEES. A motion for the appointment of a conference committee shall be in writing and shall state the purpose or purposes for which the committee is created. Every conference committee report shall refer to the motion by which the committee was created and shall set forth the instructions contained therein followed by the recommendations of the committee which shall conform to such motion and its instructions. No report of a conference committee or any part thereof shall be adopted and incorporated into pending legislation unless the same shall have received the affirmative vote of a majority of the members to which the House is entitled under the Constitution and a motion to reconsider shall have been acted upon and entered on the Journal.

74. CHANGE AND SUSPENSION OF RULES. The rules of the House may be altered, amended, or suspended by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members to which the House is entitled; a motion to alter or amend, but not suspend, the rules shall in all cases lie over one (1) day. This rule (Rule 74) may not be suspended on motion to alter, amend, or suspend the rules. A motion to suspend the rules shall be for a stated purpose and subsequent suspension of the rules shall be limited to that stated purpose.

75. ADJOURNMENT. Adjournment shall be to the hour of 12:30 p.m. on the following day unless otherwise specified by the majority of those members present and voting. During the last two (2) weeks of a session, the House shall convene at 9:00 a.m., recess at 12:00 noon, reconvene at 2:00 p.m., and adjourn on or before 7:00 p.m., unless otherwise specified by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those present and voting.

76. ENTER RULINGS. The Clerk of the House shall enter on the Journal all rulings by the Speaker on points of order. The Clerk or any member may request that the Speaker submit such ruling in writing at the close of the day on which the ruling was made.

77. ACTION ON BILLS INTRODUCED AFTER 10th DAY. Any general bill introduced after the tenth (10th) legislative day the House convenes for the transaction of business in any regular legislative session, shall be prefiled for introduction and referred to the delayed bills committee. If approved by unanimous consent of the delayed bills committee, the bill shall be introduced.

Any bill prefiled but not receiving unanimous consent of the delayed bills committee may be called for by two-thirds (2/3) majority of the members to which the body is entitled under the Constitution, in which case it shall be introduced.

The Delayed Bills Committee shall consist of the Speaker, the Majority Leader, and the Minority Leader and shall meet at the call of the Speaker.

78. VETO. Upon receipt of a veto message and return of a bill or resolution from the Governor, or a receipt of a message from the Senate advising the House that a bill or joint resolution has been passed by the Senate, the Governor's veto to the contrary notwithstanding, the Clerk shall read the message and cause the same to be spread at large upon the Journal. Thereafter, the sponsor of the bill or resolution may, upon twenty-four (24) hours typewritten notice and within three (3) legislative days after the filing of said notice, except the last legislative day of any annual session such notice shall not be required, move the House under the item of Unfinished Business to pass the bill or resolution, notwithstanding the objections of the Executive. If the motion shall prevail by a favorable vote of a majority of the members to which the House is entitled under the Constitution, the bill or joint resolution shall then be transmitted to the Senate unless the same was originally received from the Senate subsequent to its prior approval.

Nothing in this rule shall serve to prohibit the filing of subsequent notices to move the House to pass the bill or resolution, notwithstanding the objections of the Executive, if affirmative action is not taken on the motion first noticed.

79. MASON'S MANUAL OF LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE TO GOVERN. If any question shall arise which is not provided for in these rules, the same shall be governed by Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure (latest edition existing on date of adoption of these rules), which is hereby adopted.

COMMITTEE RULES

of the

80. UNIFORM RULES OF COMMITTEES.

(1) The Chair, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, shall set the calendars for hearings before the standing committee, taking into consideration the necessity and importance of the legislation before the committee. Those bills and resolutions requested by the sponsors to go on the calendars shall first be placed on the calendars, provided that the chair, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, shall set the calendar for hearings on a reasonable number of bills or resolutions at each committee meeting. The requests by sponsors for their bills to be heard in the standing committees shall be filed with the standing committee or subcommittee as soon as practicable, but not later than 3:00 p.m. (CST) on the Wednesday preceding the next regularly scheduled meeting of the standing committee. The chair, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, shall have the authority to set on the calendars additional bills or resolutions not requested by the sponsors if, in the opinion of such officers, a reasonable number of measures has not been set for hearing. The standing committee shall electronically transmit the committee calendar (bills to be heard) for its next regularly scheduled meeting as early as practicable but not later than 4:30 p.m. (CST) on the same day. The Clerk's office shall publish these calendars as early as possible on the day following so that the sponsor of each bill or resolution scheduled for hearing shall be notified.

These notice provisions shall not apply to a bill or resolution transmitted by a standing committee to the Committee on Calendar and Rules for recommendation.

(2) Prior to any scheduled standing committee meeting, the sponsor of any bill or resolution scheduled for hearing before said standing committee may request in writing that the chair of the standing committee set another hearing date, and the bill or resolution shall be rescheduled for hearing.

No bill or resolution can be considered in a standing committee without a sponsor as reflected in the House Journal.

Should the sponsor of a bill or resolution fail to appear before the standing committee when the bill or resolution has been scheduled two (2) times for a hearing, then the bill or resolution shall be returned to the desk of the Clerk of the House. After a bill or resolution has been sent back to the Clerk's desk, the sponsor of the legislation may appeal to the Speaker to re-refer the proposed legislation; and the Speaker shall have the discretion as to what action shall be taken.

(3) All bills or resolutions not considered controversial in nature may be placed on the committee consent calendar by the chair, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, provided the sponsor does not object. Any member of the standing committee may object to bill or resolution placed on the Committee Consent Calendar, and if objection is raised, the bill or resolution shall be removed from the Committee Consent Calendar and thereafter shall be acted upon by the standing committee.

The Committee Consent Calendar shall be printed and posted in regular places at least seventy-two (72) hours in advance of the time set for consideration of such calendar so that each member of the House may know the status of the legislation pending before the standing committee.

(4) Standing committees of the House shall meet at the times and places specified in the official committee schedule adopted pursuant to House Rule 65.

(5) A standing committee may hold a special committee meeting with approval of the Speaker at a time and place other than that specified in the official schedule of committee meetings. All special meetings, except meetings held when the House is in recess or adjourned, shall be announced in open session by the chair of the committee. Special meetings held on days when the House is in recess or adjourned shall be announced in advance in open session or by written notice furnished to each member of the House not less than seventy-two (72) hours prior to the meeting time.

(6) If a regular scheduled meeting of a standing committee is canceled, the chair shall announce such cancellation in open session of the House prior to the time fixed for the meeting if possible. If it is not possible for the chair to announce such cancellation in open session, all members of the House shall be given written notice or shall direct the committee staff to make every effort to notify each member of the committee and any other members of the House likely to have business before the committee of such cancellation.

(7) A quorum shall consist of a majority of the members of a given standing committee.

(8) Committee meetings shall be open to the public at all times unless the business of the committee concerns itself with matters of national or state security or the investigation of a proposed impeachment, which, in each separate instance, shall be determined by a three-fourths (3/4) majority of the committee members present and voting.

(9) When a standing committee recommends a bill for passage only with the adoption of an amendment or amendments approved by a majority vote of the standing committee, the committee chair shall cause such committee amendment or amendments to be prepared in proper typewritten form and filed with the Chief Clerk of the House as soon as is practicable. The amendment or amendments should be properly designated as having been recommended in committee and should be signed by the committee chair or the chair's designee before being presented to the Chief Clerk who shall then observe the rules of the House in causing such amendment or amendments to be printed and distributed to all members of the House. No committee amendments shall be accepted by the Chief Clerk for filing unless said amendment is labeled with a system entry code assigned by the Office of Legal Services. The Calendar and Rules Committee shall not consider any bill recommended by a standing committee until any amendment or amendments adopted by the standing committee have been attached to the bill. The chair shall be responsible for having such amendments delivered within twenty-four (24) hours in typewritten form to the Chief Clerk, who shall attach such amendments to the bill.

(10) No bill or resolution shall be reported from a standing committee unless it shall have received a recommendation for passage as written or for passage with a recommended amendment by a majority of those members of the committee present and voting thereon, a quorum being present. All votes constituting final action on any bill or resolution shall be by roll call vote, and a roll call vote shall be taken at the request of the sponsor of the bill or resolution under consideration or at the request of any three (3) members of the committee. Every bill or resolution reported out of the committee shall contain on the cover a notation in ink, signed by the chair, or other presiding officer, recommending the measure for passage as written or recommending it for passage with an amendment or amendments recommended by the committee. If a motion to recommend a bill or resolution has been voted on by a standing committee two (2) times and has failed to pass, then the same shall not be considered by the committee again during that annual session. This rule shall also apply to the Committee on Calendar and Rules.

(11) A written report of the action taken in reporting bills or resolutions out of committee shall be prepared under the direction of the committee chair and submitted promptly together with the bills and resolutions and committee amendments, if any, to the Chief Clerk of the House.

(12) The Chief Clerk shall be responsible for the safe delivery of bills to any meeting of the committee and for their return following the meeting but may delegate such responsibility to one of the Chief Clerk's Office staff.

(13) A standing committee chair may create such continuing or ad hoc subcommittees as the chair considers necessary and appropriate to deal with designated subjects within the scope of the subject jurisdiction of the committee. But there shall be no more than four standing subcommittees in each standing committee. No ad hoc committee shall have the power to kill a bill. The committee chair shall appoint members to any subcommittee so authorized and shall name the chair thereof, however no such subcommittee shall have fewer than five (5) members.

A subcommittee of a standing committee shall have authority to consider only such bills, resolutions, or subjects as may be assigned to it by the standing committee which created it. Such a subcommittee shall report only to the standing committee chair unless directed otherwise by the House. No subcommittee may meet while the standing committee of which it is a part is in session without the consent of the standing committee.

If the chair of a standing committee deems it appropriate after advising with the vice chair and secretary, to assign a bill to a subcommittee, said bill must be assigned to such subcommittee within five (5) legislative days after its passage on second consideration and referral to standing committee, or following the receipt of a fiscal note if said bill is referred to the committee on finance, ways and means unless otherwise provided by law.

If the chair of a standing committee deems it appropriate, after advising with the vice chair and secretary, to assign a bill or resolution which has been referred to it after recommendation for passage by another standing committee to a subcommittee, said bill must be assigned to such subcommittee within seven (7) calendar days of its receipt.

When a bill or resolution is assigned to a subcommittee by the chair of a standing committee, the subcommittee chair, the sponsor, the chief clerk, and the director of legislative information services shall be notified electronically by the chair of the assignment, of said bill, the date of assignment, and the name of the subcommittee.

The request of the sponsor for a bill or resolution to be heard by a committee or subcommittee shall be filed with the standing committee. The chair of the standing committee shall electronically notify the chair of the subcommittee that the sponsor has requested the bill or resolution to be heard. The chair of said subcommittee shall set and publish the date and the calendar of bills to be heard and shall electronically and by printed calendar notify the sponsor of bills or resolutions to be heard, the chief clerk, and the director of the Office of Legislative Information Services.

The chair of the standing committee or the subcommittee shall provide copies of the calendar and electronic notice of bills to be heard to the chief clerk and the director of legislative information services.

An electronic report of the action taken by a subcommittee on each bill or resolution which it considers shall be prepared by the chair of said subcommittee and submitted to the chair of the standing committee, the chief clerk, and the director of the Office of Legislative Information Services.

When a bill or resolution is reported from a subcommittee, said bill or resolution shall be placed by the chair of the standing committee on the calendar of the next scheduled meeting of the standing committee unless the sponsor of said bill or resolution requests in writing that the chair of the standing committee set another hearing date.

At any time after a bill or resolution has been acted upon by a subcommittee any member of the standing committee may move to recall the bill or resolution from the subcommittee by presenting the motion in writing to the committee chair. The motion shall be scheduled to be heard at the beginning of the standing committee's next meeting, provided the notice is timely filed under Rule 80(1) so it can be printed on the committee calendar. If the motion carries by a majority of the members entitled to vote at a meeting of the committee then the bill or resolution shall be placed on calendar for the next meeting of the committee. No such motion shall be considered during the final meeting of a committee during a session.

(14) A motion to reconsider any committee action shall be determined by a majority of the committee members entitled to vote at a meeting of the committee. It shall be treated as a simple motion to reconsider, and its effect shall be the same.

(15) No proxy votes shall be permitted in a standing committee for any purpose.

(16) The vote of the chair of a standing committee shall be recorded in the manner and time as any other member of the committee.

(17) If a member of a standing committee will be unable to attend said meeting, that member shall request an excused absence from the chair. If any appointed member of a standing committee is absent from two (2) regularly scheduled meetings of the committee without being excused by the chair, the chair shall report such absences to the Speaker of the House.

(18) In the absence of a quorum, the chair or other presiding officer shall have authority to direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to secure the presence of a sufficient number of members to constitute a quorum.

(19) In the absence of any express designation or appointment of any officers of a joint committee or joint subcommittee, the members thereof shall elect a chair and such other officers as are considered necessary by the committee.

(20) All committee minutes shall reflect attendance of members. Members shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of the law governing payment of per diem allowance to members of the General Assembly. The chair of each standing committee is charged with the duty and responsibility of providing and certifying to the Speaker the roll call vote of such committee and a listing of those sponsors appearing before the committee seeking action on their bills or resolutions.

(21) Except as stated in the foregoing rules, the Rules of Order of the House of Representatives shall apply. Other special rules shall not be adopted by committees.

APPENDIX III: REGISTERED LOBBYISTS

Representatives of many organizations are present during the session for the purpose of looking after the interests of their various groups. They keep track of pending legislation and attempt to educate and inform legislators about their clients' interests in legislation.

Lobbyists are often useful sources of information on pending legislation, as well as being spokesmen for the groups they represent. They are often referred to as the third House of the legislature because of their importance to the legislative process.

Lobbyists are required by law to register with the Registry of Election Finance. "Citizen" lobbyists are not required to register with the Registry. Only those lobbyists who receive compensation for their services are required to register. A list of the currently registered lobbyists along with their clients follows. Updated lists are available from the Registry of Election Finance. (741-7959)

The following list was furnished by the Registry of Election Finance on December 4, 1997.

Alphabetical by Lobbyist Name

Please Note:  Client X means lobbyist is no longer employed by that client

APPENDIX V

TENNESSEE CONSTITUTION*

The first Constitution of the state of Tennessee was written in Knoxville during the winter of 1796, the year the state was created from the geographic area known as the Southwest Territory. The first constitution was not put to a vote of the citizens of the new state for ratification, but was approved by Congress. It gave almost complete control of state government to the legislative branch, thus abrogating the fundamental "balance of power" principle. This fact, among others, led to the calling of a new constitutional convention.

The second convention met in Nashville during the Spring of 1834. A new constitution was approved by the people in March, 1835.

The 1835 document stood until 1870, five years after the ending of the War Between the States. Delegates elected in December, 1869, met in Nashville on January 10, 1870, wrote a new constitution and adjourned on February 23, 1870. The new constitution was ratified by the people on the fourth Saturday in March, 1870.

The 1870 constitution stood unchanged until 1953, when it was first amended. Further amendments followed in 1960, 1966, 1972 and 1978.

Preamble and Declaration of Rights

Whereas, The General Assembly of the said state of Tennessee, (pursuant to the third section of the tenth article of the Constitution,) by an act passed on the Twenty-seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, entitles, "An Act" to provide for the calling of a convention, passed in obedience to the declared will of the voters of the state, as expressed at the general election of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-three, did authorize and provide for the election by the people of delegates and representatives, to meet at Nashville, in Davidson County, on the third Monday in May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, for the purpose of revising and amending, or changing, the Constitution, and said convention did accordingly meet and form a Constitution which was submitted to the people, and was ratified by them, on the first Friday in March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, and,

Whereas, The General Assembly of said state of Tennessee, under and in virtue of the first section of the first article of the Declaration of Rights, contained in and forming a part of the existing Constitution of the state, by an act passed on the fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, did provide for the calling of a convention by the people of the state, to meet at Nashville, on the second Monday in January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and for the election of delegates for the purpose of amending or revising the present Constitution, or forming and making a new Constitution; and, Whereas, The people of the state, in the mode provided by said Act, have called said convention, and elected delegates to represent them therein; now therefore,

We, the delegates and representatives of the people of the state of Tennessee, duly elected, and in convention assembled, in pursuance of said act of Assembly have ordained and established the following Constitution and form of government for this state, which we recommend to the people of Tennessee for their ratification: That is to say

Article I - Declaration of Rights

Section 1. That all power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, and happiness; for the advancement of those ends they have at all times, an unalienable and indefeasible right to alter, reform, or abolish the government in such manner as they may think proper.

Section 2. That government being instituted for the common benefit, the doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Section 3. That all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own conscience; that no man can of right be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship, or to maintain any minister against his consent; that no human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience; and that no preference shall ever be given, by law, to any religious establishment or mode of worship.

Section 4. That no political or religious test, other than an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and of this state, shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under this state.

Section 5. The elections shall be free and equal, and the right of suffrage, as hereinafter declared, shall never be denied to any person entitled thereto, except upon a conviction by a jury of some infamous crime, previously ascertained and declared by law, and judgment thereon by court of competent jurisdiction

Section 6. That the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, and no religious or political test shall ever be required as a qualification for jurors.

Section 7. That the people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from unreasonable searches and seizures; and that general warrants, whereby an officer may be commanded to search suspected places, without evidence of the fact committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offences are not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty and ought not be granted.

Section 8. That no man shall be taken or imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties or privileges, or outlawed, or exiled, or in any manner destroyed or deprived of his life, liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land.

Section 9. That in all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath the right to be heard by himself and his counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof, to meet the witnesses face to face, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and in prosecutions by indictment or presentment, a speedy public trial, by an impartial jury of the county in which the crime shall have been committed, and shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

Section 10. That no person shall, for the same offence, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb.

Section 11. That laws made for the punishment of acts committed previous to the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are contrary to the principles of a free government; wherefore no ex post facto law shall be made.

Section 12. That no conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate. The estate of such persons as shall destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death. If any person be killed by casualty, there shall be no forfeiture in consequence thereof.

Section 13. That no person arrested and confined in jail shall be treated with unnecessary rigor.

Section 14. That no person shall be put to answer any criminal charge but by presentment, indictment or impeachment.

Section I5. That all prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offences, when the proof is evident, or the presumption great. And the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in case of rebellion or invasion, the General Assembly shall declare the public safety requires it.

Section 16. That excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Section 17. That all courts shall be open; and every man, for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay. Suits may be brought against the state in such manner and in such courts as the Legislature may by law direct.

Section 18. The Legislature shall pass no law authorizing imprisonment for debt in civil cases.

Section 19. That the printing press shall be free to every person to examine the proceedings of the Legislature; or of any branch or officer of the government, and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts and opinions, is one of the invaluable rights of man and every citizen may freely speak, write, and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty. But in prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers, or men in public capacity, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libel, the jury shall have a right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other criminal cases.

Section 20. That no retrospective law, or law impairing the obligations of contracts, shall be made.

Section 21. That no man's particular services shall be demanded, or property taken, or applied to public use, without the consent of his representatives, or without just compensation being made therefore.

Section 22. That perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free state, and shall not be allowed.

Section 23. That the citizens have a right, in a peaceable manner, to assemble together for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to those invested with the powers of government for redress of grievances, or other proper purposes, by address of remonstrance.

Section 24. That the sure and certain defense of a free people, is a well regulated militia; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to freedom, they ought to be avoided as far as the circumstances and safety of the community will admit; and that in all cases the military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil authority.

Section 25. That no citizen of this state, except such as are employed in the army of the United States, or militia in actual service, shall be subjected to punishment under the martial or military law. That martial law, in the sense of the unrestricted power of military officers, or others, to dispose of the persons, liberties or property of the citizen, is inconsistent with the principles of free government, and is not confided to any department of the government of this state.

Section 26. That the citizens of this state have a right to keep and to bear arms for their common defense; but the Legislature shall have power, by law, to regulate the wearing of arms with a view to prevent crime.

Section 27. That no soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner prescribed by law.

Section 28. That no citizen of this state shall be compelled to bear arms, provided he will pay an equivalent, to be ascertained by law.

Section 29. That an equal participation in the free navigation of the Mississippi, is one of the inherent rights of the citizens of this state; it cannot, therefore, be conceded to any prince, potentate, power, person or persons whatever.

Section 30. That no hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors, shall ever be granted or conferred in this state.

Section 31. That the limits and boundaries of this state be ascertained, it is declared they are as hereafter mentioned, that is to say: Beginning on the extreme height of the Stone Mountain, at the place where the line of Virginia intersects it, in latitude thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes north; running thence along the extreme height of the said mountain, to the place where Watauga river breaks through it; thence a direct course to the top of the Yellow Mountain, where Bright's road crosses the same; thence along the ridge of said mountain, between the waters of Doe river and the waters of Rock creek, to the place where the road crosses the Iron Mountain; from thence along the extreme height of said mountain, to the place where Nolichucky river runs through the same; thence to the top of the Bald Mountain; thence along the extreme height of said mountain to the Painted Rock on French Broad river; thence along the highest ridge of said mountain, to the place where it is called the Great Iron or Smoky Mountain; thence along the extreme height of said mountain to the place where it is called Unicoi or Unaka Mountain, between the Indian towns of Cowee and Old Chota; thence along the main ridge of the said mountain to the southern boundary of this state, as described in the act of cession of North Carolina to the United States of America; and that all the territory, lands and waters lying west of said line, as before mentioned, and contained within the chartered limits of the state of North Carolina, are within the boundaries and limits of this state, over which the people have the right of exercising sovereignty, and the right of soil, so far as is consistent with the Constitution of the United States, recognizing the Articles of Confederation, the Bill of Rights and Constitution of North Carolina, the cession act of the said state, and the ordinance of Congress for the government of the territory north west of Ohio; Provided, nothing herein contained shall extend to affect the claim or claims of individuals to any part of the soil which is recognized to them by the aforesaid cession act; And provided also, that the limits and jurisdiction of this state shall extend to any other land and territory now acquired, or that may hereafter be acquired, by compact or agreement with other states, or otherwise, although such land and territory are not included within the boundaries herein before designated.

Section 32. That the erection of safe and comfortable prisons, the inspection of prisons, and the humane treatment of prisoners, shall be provided for.

Section 33. That slavery and involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, are forever prohibited in this state.

Section 34. The General Assembly shall make no law recognizing the right of property in man.

Article II - Distribution of Powers

Section 1. The powers of the government shall be divided into three distinct departments: legislative, executive, and judicial.

Section 2. No person or persons belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any of the powers properly belonging to either of the others, except in the cases herein directed or permitted.

Legislative Department

Section 3. The legislative authority of this state shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives, both dependent on the people. Representatives shall hold office for two years and senators for four years from the day of the general election, except that the speaker of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives each shall hold his office as speaker for two years or until his successor is elected and qualified provided however, that in the first general election after adoption of this amendment senators elected in districts designated by even numbers shall be elected for four years and those elected in districts designated by odd numbers shall be elected for two years. In a county having more than one senatorial district, the districts shall be numbered consecutively.

Section 4. The apportionment of senators and representatives shall be substantially according to population. After each decennial census made by the Bureau of Census of the United States is available the General Assembly shall establish senatorial and representative districts. Nothing in this Section nor in this Article II shall deny to the General Assembly the right at any time to apportion one House of the General Assembly using geography, political subdivisions, substantially equal population and other criteria as factors; provided such apportionment when effective shall comply with the Constitution of the United States as then amended or authoritatively interpreted. If the Constitution of the United States shall require that legislative apportionment not based entirely on population be approved by vote of the electorate, the General Assembly shall provide for such vote in the apportionment act.

Section 5. The number of representatives shall be ninety-nine and shall be apportioned by the General Assembly among the several counties or districts as shall be provided by law. Counties having two or more representatives shall be divided into separate districts. In a district composed of two or more counties each county shall adjoin at least one other county of such district; and no county shall be divided in forming such a district.

Section 5a. Each district shall be represented by a qualified voter of that district.

Section 6. The number of senators shall be apportioned by the General Assembly among the several counties or districts substantially according to population, and shall not exceed one-third the number of representatives Counties having two or more senators shall be divided into separate districts. In a district composed of two or more counties, each county shall adjoin at least one other county of such district; and no county shall be divided in forming such a district.

Section 6a. Each district shall be represented by a qualified voter of that district.

Section 7. The first election for senators and representatives shall be held on the second Tuesday in November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy; and forever thereafter, elections for members of the General Assembly shall be held once in two years, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Said elections shall terminate the same day.

Section 8. Legislative sessions-governor's inauguration-the General Assembly shall meet in organizational session on the second Tuesday in January next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Representatives, at which session, if in order, the governor shall be inaugurated. The General Assembly shall remain in session for organizational purposes not longer than fifteen consecutive calendar days, during which session no legislation shall be passed on third and final consideration. Thereafter, the General Assembly shall meet on the first Tuesday next following the conclusion of the organizational session unless the General Assembly by joint resolution of both houses sets an earlier date.

The General Assembly may by joint resolution recess or adjourn until such time or times as it shall determine. It shall be convened at other times by the governor as provided in Article III, Section 9, or by the presiding officers of both Houses at the written request of two-thirds of the members of each House.

Section 9. No person shall be a representative unless he shall be a citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, and shall have been a citizen of this state for three years, and a resident in the county he represents one year, immediately preceding the election.

Section 10. No person shall be a senator unless he shall be a citizen of the United States, of the age of thirty years, and shall have resided three years in this state, and one year in the county or district, immediately preceding the election. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be eligible to any office or place of trust, the appointment to which is vested in the executive or the General Assembly, except to the office of trustee of a literary institution.

Section 11. The Senate and House of Representatives, when assembled shall each choose a speaker and its other officers; be judges of the qualifications and election of its members, and sit upon its own adjournments from day to day. Not less than two-thirds of all the members to which each house shall be entitled shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized, by law, to compel the attendance of absent members.

Section 12. Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same offence, and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the Legislature of a free state.

Section 13. Senators and representatives shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

Section 14. Each House may punish, by imprisonment, during its session, any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the House, by any disorderly or any contemptuous behavior in its presence.

Section 15. Vacancies. When the seat of any member of either House becomes vacant, the vacancy shall be filled as follows:

(a) When twelve months or more remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor shall be elected by the qualified voters of the district represented, and such successor shall serve the remainder of the original terms. The election shall be held within such time as provided by law. The legislative body of the replaced legislator's county of residence at the time of his or her election may elect an interim successor to serve until the election.

(b) When less than twelve months remain prior to the next general election for legislators, a successor shall be elected by the legislative body of the replaced legislator's county of residence at the time of his or her election. The term of any senator so elected shall expire at the next general election for legislators, at which election a successor shall be elected.

(c) Only a qualified voter of the district represented shall be eligible to succeed to the vacant seat.

Section 16. Neither house shall, during its session, adjourn without the consent of the other for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 17. Bills may originate in either House; but may be amended, altered or rejected by the other. No bill shall become a law which embraces more than one subject, that subject to be expressed in the title. All acts which repeal, revive or amend former laws, shall recite in their caption, or otherwise, the title or substance of the law repealed, revived or amended.

Section 18. A bill shall become law when it has been considered and passed on three different days in each House and on third and final consideration has received the assent of a majority of all the members to which each House is entitled under this Constitution, when the respective speakers have signed the bill with the date of such signing appearing in the journal, and when the bill has been approved by the governor or otherwise passed under the provisions of this Constitution.

Section 19. After a bill has been rejected, no bill containing the same substance shall be passed into a law during the same session.

Section 20. The style of the laws of this state shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Tennessee. " No law of a general nature shall take effect until forty days after its passage unless the same or the caption thereof shall state that the public welfare requires that it should take effect sooner.

Section 21. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish it, except such parts as the welfare of the state may require to be kept secret; the ayes and noes shall be taken in each House upon the final passage of every bill of a general character, and bills making appropriations of public moneys; and the ayes and noes of the members on any question, shall, at the request of any five of them, be entered on the journal.

Section 22. The doors of each House and of committees of the whole shall be kept open, unless when the business shall be such as ought to be kept secret.

Section 23. Each member of the General Assembly shall receive an annual salary of $1,800.00 per year payable in equal monthly installments from the date of his election, and in addition, such other allowances for expenses in attending sessions or committee meetings as may be provided by law. The senators, when sitting as a Court of Impeachment, shall receive the same allowances for expenses as have been provided by law for the members of the General Assembly. The compensation and expenses of the members of the General Assembly may from time to time be reduced or increased by laws enacted by the General Assembly; however, no increase or decrease in the amount thereof shall take effect until the next general election for representatives to the General Assembly. Provided, further, that the first General Assembly meeting after adoption of this amendment shall be allowed to set its own expenses. However, no member shall be paid expenses, nor travel allowances for more than ninety Legislative days of a regular session, excluding the organization session, nor for more than thirty Legislative days of any extraordinary session.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption so that any member of the General Assembly elected at a general election wherein this amendment is approved shall be entitled to the compensation set herein.

Section 24. No public money shall be expended, except pursuant to appropriations made by law. Expenditures for any fiscal year shall not exceed the state's revenues and reserves, including the proceeds of any debt obligation, for that year. No debt obligation, except as shall be repaid within the fiscal year of issuance, shall be authorized for the current operation of any state service or program, nor shall the proceeds of any debt obligation be expended for a purpose other than that for which it was authorized.

In no year shall the rate of growth of appropriations from state tax revenues exceed the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy as determined by law. No appropriation in excess of this limitation shall be made unless the General Assembly shall, by law containing no other subject matter, set forth the dollar amount and the rate by which the limit will be exceeded.

Any law requiring the expenditure of state funds shall be null and void unless, during the session in which the act receives final passage, an appropriation is made for the estimated first year's funding.

No law of general application shall impose increased expenditure requirements on cities or counties unless the General Assembly shall provide that the state share in the cost.

An accurate financial statement of the state's fiscal condition shall be published annually.

Section 25. No person who heretofore hath been, or may hereafter be, a collector or holder of public moneys, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or hold any other office under the state government, until such person shall have accounted for, and paid into the Treasury, all sums for which he may be accountable or liable.

Section 26. No judge of any court of law or equity, secretary of state, attorney general, register, clerk of any Court of Record, or person holding any office under the authority of the United States, shall have a seat in the General Assembly; nor shall any person in this state hold more than one lucrative office at the same time; provided, that no appointment in the Militia, or to the Office of Justice of the Peace, shall be considered a lucrative office, or operative as a disqualification to a seat in either House of the General Assembly.

Section 27. Any member of either House of the General Assembly shall have liberty to dissent from and protest against, any act or resolve which he may think injurious to the public or to any individual, and to have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals.

Section 28. In accordance with the following provisions, all property real, personal or mixed shall be subject to taxation, but the Legislature may except such as may be held by the state, by counties, cities or towns, and used exclusively for public or corporation purposes, and such as may be held and used for purposes purely religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational, and shall except the direct product of the soil in the hands of the producer, and his immediate vendee, and the entire amount of money deposited in an individual's personal or family checking or savings accounts. For purposes of taxation, property shall be classified into three classes, to wit: Real property, tangible personal property and intangible personal property.

Real property shall be classified into four (4) subclassifications and assessed as follows:

(a) Public utility property, to be assessed at fifty-five (55%) percent of its value;

(b) industrial and commercial property, to be assessed at forty (40%) percent of its value

(c) residential property, to be assessed at twenty five (25%) percent of its value; provided that residential property containing two (2) or more rental units is hereby defined as industrial and commercial property; and

(d) farm property, to be assessed at twenty-five (25%) percent of its value. House trailers, mobile homes, and all other similar movable structures used for commercial, industrial, or residential purposes shall be assessed as real property as an improvement to the land where located.

The Legislature shall provide, in such a manner as it deems appropriate, tax relief to elderly, low-income taxpayers through payments by the state to reimburse all or part of the taxes paid by such persons on owner-occupied residential property, but such reimbursement shall not be an obligation imposed, directly or indirectly, upon counties, cities or towns.

The Legislature may provide tax relief to home owners totally and permanently disabled, irrespective of age, as provided herein for the elderly.

Tangible personal property shall be classified into three (3) subclassifications and assessed as follows:

(a) Public utility property, to be assessed at fifty-five (55%) percent of its value;

(b) industrial and commercial property, to be assessed at thirty (30%) percent of its value; and

(c) all other tangible personal property, to be assessed at five (5%) percent of its value; provided, however, that the Legislature shall exempt seven thousand five hundred ($7,500) dollars worth of such tangible personal property which shall cover personal household goods and furnishings, wearing apparel and other such tangible property in the hands of a taxpayer.

The Legislature shall have power to classify intangible personal property into subclassifications and to establish a ratio of assessment to value in each class or subclass, and shall provide fair and equitable methods of apportionment of the value of same to this state for purposes of taxation. Banks, insurance companies, loan and investment companies, savings and loan associations, and all similar financial institutions, shall be assessed and taxed in such manner as the Legislature shall direct; provided that for the year 1973, or until such time as the Legislature may provide otherwise, the ratio of assessment to value of property presently taxed shall remain the same as provided by law for the year 1972; provided further that the taxes imposed upon such financial institutions, and paid by them, shall be in lieu of all taxes on the redeemable or cash value of all of their outstanding shares of capital stock, policies of insurance, customer savings and checking accounts, certificates of deposit, and certificates of investment, by whatever name called, including other intangible corporate property of such financial institutions.

The ratio of assessment to value of property in each class or subclass shall be equal and uniform throughout the state, the value and definition of property in each class or subclass to be ascertained in such manner as the Legislature shall direct. Each respective taxing authority shall apply the same tax rate to all property within its jurisdiction.

The Legislature shall have power to tax merchants, peddlers, and privileges, in such manner as they may from time to time direct, and the Legislature may levy a gross receipts tax on merchants and businesses in lieu of ad valorem taxes on the inventories of merchandise held by such merchants and businesses for sale or exchange. The portion of a merchant's capital used in the purchase of merchandise sold by him to nonresidents and sent beyond the state, shall not be taxed at a rate higher than the ad valorem tax on property. The Legislature shall have power to levy a tax upon incomes derived from stocks and bonds that are not taxed ad valorem.

This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January, 1973.

Section 29. The General Assembly shall have power to authorize the several counties and incorporated towns in this state, to impose taxes for county and corporation purposes respectively, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law; and all property shall be taxed according to its value, upon the principles established in regard to state taxation. But the credit of no county, city or town shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any person, company, association or corporation, except upon an election to be first held by the qualified voters of such county, city or town, and the assent of three-fourths of the votes cast at said election. Nor shall any county, city or town become a stockholder with others in any company, association or corporation except upon a like election, and the assent of a like majority. But the counties of Grainger, Hawkins, Hancock, Union, Campbell, Scott, Morgan, Grundy, Sumner, Smith, Fentress, Van Buren, and the new county herein authorized to be established out of fractions of Sumner, Macon and Smith Counties, White, Putnam, Overton, Jackson, Cumberland, Anderson, Henderson, Wayne, Cocke, Coffee, Macon, Marshall, and Roane shall be excepted out of the provisions of this section so far that the assent of a majority of the qualified voters of either of said counties voting on the question shall be sufficient when the credit of such county is given or loaned to any person, association or corporation; provided, that the exception of the counties above named shall not be in force beyond the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty: and after that period they shall be subject to the three-fourths majority applicable to the other counties of the state.

Section 30. No article manufactured of the produce of this state, shall be taxed otherwise than to pay inspection fees.

Section 31. The credit of this state shall not be hereafter loaned or given to or in aid of any person, association, company, corporation or municipality; nor shall the state become the owner in whole or in part of any bank or a stockholder with others in any association, company, corporation or municipality.

Section 32. No convention or general assembly of this state shall act upon any amendment of the Constitution of the United States proposed by Congress to the several states; unless such convention or general assembly shall have been elected after such amendment is submitted.

Section 33. No bonds of the state shall be issued to any rail road company which at the time of its application for the same shall be in default in paying the interest upon the state bonds previously loaned to it or that shall hereafter and before such application sell or absolutely dispose of any state bonds loaned to it for less than par.

Article III - Executive Department

Section 1. The supreme executive power of this state shall be vested in a governor.

Section 2. The governor shall be chosen by the electors of the members of the General Assembly, at the time and places where they shall respectively vote for the members thereof. The returns of every election for governor shall be sealed up, and transmitted to the seat of government, by the returning officers, directed to the speaker of the Senate, who shall open and publish them in the presence of a majority of the members of each House of the General Assembly. The person having the highest number of votes shall be governor; but if two or more shall be equal and highest in votes, one of them shall be chosen governor by joint vote of both Houses of the General Assembly. Contested elections for governor shall be determined by both Houses of the General Assembly, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

Section 3. He shall be at least thirty years of age, shall be a citizen of the United States, and shall have been a citizen of this state seven years next before his election.

Section 4. The governor shall be elected to hold office for four years and until a successor is elected and qualified. A person may be eligible to succeed in office for additional four year terms, provided that no person presently serving or elected hereafter shall be eligible for election to more than two terms consecutively, including an election to a partial term.

One succeeding to the office vacated during the first eighteen calendar months of the term shall hold office until a successor is elected for the remainder of the term at the next election of members of the General Assembly and qualified pursuant to this Constitution. One succeeding to the office vacated after the first eighteen calendar months of the term shall continue to hold office for the remainder of the full term.

Section 5. He shall be commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy of this state, and of the Militia, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States. But the Militia shall not be called into service except in case of rebellion or invasion, and then only when the General Assembly shall declare, by law, that the public safety requires it.

Section 6. He shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons, after conviction, except in cases of impeachment.

Section 7. He shall, at stated times, receive a compensation for his services, which shall not be increased or diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected.

Section 8. He may require information in writing, from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

Section 9. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the General Assembly by proclamation, in which he shall state specifically the purposes for which they are to convene; but they shall enter on no legislative business except that for which they were specifically called together.

Section 10. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

Section 11. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of the state of the government, and recommend for their consideration such measures as he shall judge expedient.

Section 12. In case of the removal of the governor from office, or of his death, or resignation, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve on the speaker of the Senate; and in case of the death, removal from office, or resignation of the speaker of the Senate, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve on the speaker of the House of Representatives.

Section 13. No member of Congress, or person holding any office under the United States, or this state, shall execute the office of governor.

Section 14. When any officer, the right of whose appointment is by this Constitution vested in the General Assembly, shall, during the recess, die, or the office, by the expiration of the term, or by other means, become vacant, the governor shall have the power to fill such vacancy by granting a temporary commission, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Legislature.

Section 15. There shall be a seal of this state, which shall be kept by the governor, and used by him officially, and shall be called the Great Seal of the State of Tennessee.

Section 16. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the state of Tennessee, be sealed with the State Seal, and signed by the governor.

Section 17. A secretary of state shall be appointed by joint vote of the General Assembly, and commissioned during the term of four years; he shall keep a fair register of all the official acts and proceedings of the governor; and shall, when required lay the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before the General Assembly; and shall perform such other duties as shall be enjoined by law.

Section 18. Every bill which may pass both Houses of the General Assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor for his signature. If he approve, he shall sign it, and the same shall become a law; but if he refuse, to sign it, he shall return it with his objections thereto, in writing, to the house in which it originated; and said House shall cause said objections to be entered at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider the bill. If after such reconsideration, a majority of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, notwithstanding the objections of the executive, it shall be sent, with said objections, to the other House, by which it shall be likewise reconsidered. If approved by a majority of the whole number elected to that House, it shall become a law. The votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of all the members voting for or against the bill shall be entered upon the journals of their respective Houses.

If the governor shall fail to return any bill with his objections in writing within ten calendar days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law without his signature. If the General Assembly by its adjournment prevents the return of any bill within said ten-day period, the bill shall become a law, unless disapproved by the governor and filed by him with his objections in writing in the office of the secretary of state within said ten-day period.

Every joint resolution or order (except on question of adjournment and proposals of specific amendments to the Constitution) shall likewise be presented to the governor for his signature, and on being disapproved by him shall in like manner, be returned with his objections; and the same before it shall take effect shall be repassed by a majority of all the members elected to both houses in the manner and according to the rules prescribed in case of a bill.

The governor may reduce or disapprove the sum of money appropriated by any one or more items or parts of items in any bill appropriating money, while approving other portions of the bill. The portions so approved shall become law, and the items or parts of items disapproved or reduced shall be void to the extent that they have been disapproved or reduced unless repassed as hereinafter provided. The governor, within ten calendar days (Sundays excepted) after the bill shall have been presented to him, shall report the items or parts of items disapproved or reduced with his objections in writing to the House in which the bill originated, or if the General Assembly shall have adjourned, to the office of the secretary of state. Any such items or parts of items so disapproved or reduced shall be restored to the bill in the original amount and become law if repassed by the General Assembly according to the rules and limitations prescribed for the passage of other bills over the executive veto.

Article IV - Elections

Section 1. Every person, being eighteen years of age, being a citizen of the United States, being a resident of the state for a period of time as prescribed by the General Assembly, and being duly registered in the county of residence for a period of time prior to the day of any election as prescribed by the General Assembly, shall be entitled to vote in all federal, state, and local elections held in the county or district in which such person resides. All such requirements shall be equal and uniform across the state, and there shall be no other qualification attached to the right of suffrage.

The General Assembly shall have power to enact laws requiring voters to vote in the election precincts in which they may reside, and laws to secure the freedom of elections and the purity of the ballot box.

All male citizens of this state shall be subject to the performance of military duty, as may be prescribed by law.

Section 2. Laws may be passed excluding from the right of suffrage persons who may be convicted of infamous crimes.

Section 3. Electors shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest or summons, during their attendance at elections and in going to and returning from them.

Section 4. In all elections to be made by the General Assembly, the members thereof shall vote viva voce, and their votes shall be entered on the journal. All other elections shall be by ballot.

Article V - Impeachments

Section 1. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Section 2. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate. When sitting for that purpose the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation, and the chief justice of the Supreme Court, or if he be on trial, the senior associate judge, shall preside over them. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators sworn to try the officer impeached.

Section 3. The House of Representatives shall elect from their own body three members, whose duty it shall be to prosecute impeachments. No impeachment shall be tried until the Legislature shall have adjourned sine die, when the Senate shall proceed to try such impeachment.

Section 4. The governor, judges of the Supreme Court, judges of the inferior courts, chancellors, attorneys for the state, treasurer, comptroller, and secretary of state, shall be liable to impeachment, whenever they may, in the opinion of the House of Representatives, commit any crime in their official capacity which may require disqualification but judgment shall only extend to removal from office, and disqualification to fill any office thereafter. The party shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law. The Legislature now has, and shall continue to have, power to relieve from the penalties imposed, any person disqualified from holding office by the judgment of a Court of Impeachment.

Section 5. Justices of the peace, and other civil officers not herein before mentioned, for crimes or misdemeanors in office, shall be liable to indictment in such courts as the Legislature may direct; and upon conviction, shall be removed from office by said court, as if found guilty on impeachment; and shall be subject to such other punishment as may be prescribed by law.

Article VI - Judicial Department

Section 1. The judicial power of this state shall be vested in one Supreme Court and in such Circuit, Chancery and other Inferior Courts as the Legislature shall from time to time, ordain and establish; in the judges thereof, and in justices of the peace. The Legislature may also vest such jurisdiction in Corporation Courts as may be deemed necessary. Courts to be holden by justices of the peace may also be established.

Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of five judges, of whom not more than two shall reside in any one of the grand divisions of the state. The judges shall designate one of their own number who shall preside as chief justice. The concurrence of three of the judges shall in every case be necessary to a decision. The jurisdiction of this court shall be appellate only, under such restrictions and regulations as may from time to time be prescribed by law; but it may possess such other jurisdiction as is now conferred by law on the present Supreme Court. Said court shall be held at Knoxville, Nashville and Jackson.

Section 3. The judges of the Supreme Court shall be elected by the qualified voters of the state. The Legislature shall have power to prescribe such rules as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of section two of this article. Every judge of the Supreme Court shall be thirty-five years of age, and shall before his election have been a resident of the state for five years. His term of service shall be eight years.

Section 4. The Judges of the Circuit and Chancery Courts, and of other Inferior Courts, shall be elected by the qualified voters of the district or circuit to which they are to be assigned. Every judge of such courts shall be thirty years of age, and shall before his election, have been a resident of the state for five years, and of the circuit or district one year. His term of service shall be eight years.

Section 5. An attorney general and reporter for the state, shall be appointed by the judges of the Supreme Court and shall hold his office for a term of eight years. An attorney for the state for any circuit or district, for which a judge having criminal jurisdiction shall be provided by law, shall be elected by the qualified voters of such circuit or district, and shall hold his office for a term of eight years, and shall have been a resident of the state five years, and of the circuit or district one year. In all cases where the attorney for any district fails or refuses to attend and prosecute according to law, the court shall have power to appoint an attorney pro tempore.

Section 6. Judges and attorneys for the state may be removed from office by a concurrent vote of both Houses of the General Assembly, each House voting separately; but two-thirds of the members to which each House may be entitled must concur in such vote. The vote shall be determined by ayes and noes, and the names of the members voting for or against the judge or attorney for the state together with the cause or causes of removal, shall be entered on the journals of each House respectively. The judge or attorney for the state, against whom the Legislature may be about to proceed, shall receive notice thereof accompanied with a copy of the causes alleged for his removal, at least ten days before the day on which either House of the General Assembly shall act thereupon.

Section 7. The judges of the Supreme or Inferior Courts, shall, at stated times, receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the time for which they are elected. They shall not be allowed any fees or perquisites of office nor hold any other office of trust or profit under this state or the United States.

Section 8. The jurisdiction of the Circuit, Chancery and other Inferior Courts, shall be as now established by law, until changed by the Legislature.

Section 9. The judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the testimony and declare the law.

Section 10. The judges or justices of the Inferior Courts of Law and Equity, shall have power in all civil cases, to issue writs of certiorari to remove any cause or the transcript of the record thereof, from any inferior jurisdiction, into such court of law, on sufficient cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

Section 11. No judge of the Supreme or Inferior Courts shall preside on the trial of any cause in the event of which he may be interested, or where either of the parties shall be connected with him by affinity or consanguinity, within such degrees as may be prescribed by law, or in which he may have been of counsel, or in which he may have presided in any Inferior Court, except by consent of all the parties. In case all or any of the judges of the Supreme Court shall thus be disqualified from presiding on the trial of any cause or causes, the court or the judges thereof, shall certify the same to the governor of the state, and he shall forthwith specially commission the requisite number of men, of law knowledge, for the trial and determination thereof The Legislature may by general laws make provision that special judges may be appointed, to hold any courts the judge of which shall be unable or fail to attend or sit; or to hear any cause in which the judge may be incompetent.

Section 12. All writs and other process shall run in the name of the state of Tennessee and bear test and be signed by the respective clerks. Indictments shall conclude, "against the peace and dignity of the state."

Section 13. Judges of the Supreme Court shall appoint their clerks who shall hold their offices for six years. Chancellors shall appoint their clerks and masters, who shall hold their offices for six years. Clerks of the Inferior Courts holden in the respective counties or districts, shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof for the term of four years. Any clerk may be removed from office for malfeasance, incompetency or neglect of duty, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Section 14. No fine shall be laid on any citizen of this state that shall exceed fifty dollars, unless it shall be assessed by a jury of his peers, who shall assess the fine at the time they find the fact, if they think the fine should be more than fifty dollars.

Article VII - State and County Officers

Section 1. The qualified voters of each county shall elect for terms of four years a legislative body, a county executive, a sheriff, a trustee, a register, a county clerk and an assessor of property. Their qualifications and duties shall be prescribed by the General Assembly. Any officer shall be removed from malfeasance or neglect of duty as prescribed by the General Assembly.

The legislative body shall be composed of representatives from districts in the county as drawn by the county legislative body pursuant to statutes enacted by the General Assembly. Districts shall be reapportioned at least every ten years based upon the most recent federal census. The legislative body shall not exceed twenty-five members, and no more than three representatives shall be elected from a district. Any county organized under the consolidated government provisions of Article XI, Section 9, of this Constitution shall be exempt from having a county executive and a county legislative body as described in this paragraph.

The General Assembly may provide alternate forms of county government including the right to charter and the manner by which a referendum may be called. The new form of government shall replace the existing form if approved by a majority of the voters in the referendum.

No officeholder's current term shall be diminished by the ratification of this article.

Section 2. Vacancies in county offices shall be filled by the county legislative body, and any person so appointed shall serve until a successor is elected at the next election occurring after the vacancy is qualified.

Section 3. There shall be a treasurer or treasurers and a comptroller of the treasury appointed for the state, by the joint vote of both Houses of the General Assembly, who shall hold their offices for two years.

Section 4. The election of officers, and the filling of all vacancies not otherwise directed or provided by this Constitution, shall be made in such manner as the Legislature shall direct.

Section 5. Elections for judicial and other civil officers shall be held on the first Thursday in August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and forever thereafter on the first Thursday in August next preceding the expiration of their respective terms of service. The term of each officer so elected shall be computed from the first day of September next succeeding his election. The term of office of the governor and other executive officers shall be computed from the fifteenth of January next after the election of the governor. No appointment or election to fill a vacancy shall be made for a period extending beyond the unexpired term. Every officer shall hold his office until his successor is elected or appointed, and qualified. No special election shall be held to fill a vacancy in the office of judge or district attorney, but a the time herein fixed for the biennial election of civil officers, and such vacancy shall be filled at the next biennial election recurring more than thirty days after the vacancy occurs.

Article VIII - Militia

Section 1. All militia officers shall be elected by persons subject to military duty, within the bounds of their several companies, battalions, regiments, brigades and divisions, under such rules and regulations as the Legislature may from time to time direct and establish.

Section 2. The governor shall appoint the adjutant-general and his other staff officers; the major generals, brigadier-generals, and commanding officers of regiments, shall respectively appoint their staff officers.

Section 3. The Legislature shall pass laws exempting citizens belonging to any sect or denomination of religion, the tenets of which are known to be opposed to the bearing of arms, from attending private and general musters.

Article IX - Disqualifications

Section 1. Whereas ministers of the Gospel are by their profession, dedicated to God and the care of souls, and ought not to be diverted from the great duties of their functions; therefore, no minister of the Gospel, or priest of any denomination whatever, shall be eligible to a seat in either House of the Legislature.

Section 2. No person who denies the being of God, or a future state of rewards and punishments, shall hold any office in the civil department of this state.

Section 3. Any person who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, fight a duel, or knowingly be the bearer of a challenge to fight a duel, or send or accept a challenge for that purpose, or be an aider or abettor in fighting a duel, shall be deprived of the right to hold any office of honor or profit in this state, and shall be punished otherwise, in such manner as the Legislature may prescribe.

Article X - Oaths, Bribery of Electors, New Counties

Section 1. Every person who shall be chosen or appointed to any office of trust or profit under this Constitution, or any law made in pursuance thereof, shall, before entering on the duties thereof, take an oath to support the Constitution of this state, and of the United States, and an oath of office.

Section 2. Each member of the Senate and House of Representatives, shall before they proceed to business take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of this state, and of the United States and also the following oath: I _____do solemnly swear (or affirm) that as a member of this General Assembly, I will, in all appointments, vote without favor, affection, partiality, or prejudice; and that I will not propose or assent to any bill, vote or resolution, which shall appear to me injurious to the people, or consent to any act or thing, whatever, that shall have a tendency to lessen or abridge their rights and privileges, as declared by the Constitution of this state.

Section 3. Any elector who shall receive any gift or reward for his vote, in meat, drink, money or otherwise, shall suffer such punishment as the laws shall direct. And any person who shall directly or indirectly give, promise or bestow any such reward to be elected, shall thereby be rendered incapable, for six years, to serve in the office for which he was elected, and be subject to such further punishment as the Legislature shall direct.

Section 4. New Counties may be established by the Legislature to consist of not less than two hundred and seventy five square miles, and which shall contain a population of seven hundred qualified voters; no line of such county shall approach the court house of any old county from which it may be taken nearer than eleven miles, nor shall such old county be reduced to less than five hundred square miles. But the following exceptions are made to the foregoing provisions viz: New counties may be established by the present or any succeeding Legislature out of the following territory to wit: Out of that portion of Obion County which lies west of the low water mark of Reel Foot Lake: Out of fractions of Sumner, Macon and Smith Counties; but no line of such new county shall approach the court house of Sumner or of Smith Counties nearer than ten miles, nor include any part of Macon County lying within nine and a half miles of the court house of said County nor shall more than twenty square miles of Macon County nor any part of Sumner County lying due west of the western boundary of Macon County, be taken in the formation of said new county: Out of fractions of Grainger and Jefferson Counties but no line of such new county shall include any part of Grainger County north of the Holston River; nor shall any line thereof approach the court house of Jefferson County nearer than eleven miles. Such new county may include any other territory which is not excluded by any general provision of this Constitution: Out of fractions of Jackson and Overton Counties but no line of such new county shall approach the court house of Jackson or Overton Counties nearer than ten miles, nor shall such county contain less that four hundred qualified voters, nor shall the area of either of the old counties be reduced below four hundred and fifty square miles: Out of fractions of Roane, Monroe, and Blount Counties, around the town of Loudon; but no line of such new county shall ever approach the towns of Maryville, Kingston, or Madisonville, nearer than eleven miles, except that on the south side of the Tennessee River, said lines may approach as near as ten miles to the court house of Roane County.

The counties of Lewis, Cheatham, and Sequatchie, as now established by Legislative enactments are hereby declared to be constitutional counties. No part of Bledsoe County shall be taken to form a new county or a part thereof or be attached to any adjoining county. That portion of Marion County included within the following boundaries, beginning on the Grundy and Marion County line at the Nickajack trace and running about six hundred yards west of Ben Poseys, to where the Tennessee Coal Rail Road crosses the line, running thence southeast through the Pocket near William Summers crossing the Battle Creek Gulf at the corner of Thomas Wootons field, thence running across the Little Gizzard Gulf at Raven Point, thence in a direct line to the bridge crossing the Big Fiery Gizzard, thence in a direct line to the mouth of Holy Water Creek, thence up said Creek to the Grundy County line, and thence with said line to the beginning; is hereby detached from Marion County, and attached to the county of Grundy. No part of a county shall be taken off to form a new county or a part thereof without the consent of two-thirds of the qualified voters in such part taken off; and where an old county is reduced for the purpose of forming a new one, the seat of justice in said old county shall not be removed without the concurrence of two-thirds in both branches of the Legislature, nor shall the seat of justice of any county be removed without the concurrence of two-thirds of the qualified voters of the county. But the foregoing provision requiring a two-thirds majority of the voters of a county to remove its county seat shall not apply to the counties of Obion and Cocke. The fractions taken from old counties to form new counties or taken from one county and added to another shall continue liable for their pro rata of all debts contracted by their respective counties prior to the separation, and be entitled to their proportion of any stocks or credits belonging to such old counties.

Section 5. The citizens who may be included in any new county shall vote with the county or counties from which they may have been stricken off, for members of Congress, for governor and for members of the General Assembly until the next apportionment of members to the General Assembly after the establishment of such new county.

Article XI - Miscellaneous Provisions

Section 1. All laws and ordinances now in force and use in this state, not in consistent with this Constitution, shall continue in force and use until they shall expire, be altered or repealed by the Legislature; but ordinances contained in any former Constitution or schedule thereto are hereby abrogated.

Section 2. Nothing contained in this Constitution shall impair the validity of any debts or contracts, or affect any rights of property or any suits, actions, rights of action or other proceedings in Courts of Justice.

Section 3. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays thereon, and referred to the General Assembly then next to be chosen; and shall be published six months previous to the time of making such choice; and if in the General Assembly then next chosen as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people at the next general election in which a governor is to be chosen. And if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of all the citizens of the state voting for governor, voting in their favor, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of this Constitution. When any amendment or amendments to the Constitution shall be proposed in pursuance of the foregoing provisions the same shall at each of said sessions be read three times on three several days in each house.

The Legislature shall have the right by law to submit to the people, at any general election, the question of calling a convention to alter, reform, or abolish this Constitution, or to alter, reform or abolish any specified part or parts of it; and when, upon such submission, a majority of all the voters voting upon the proposal submitted shall approve the proposal to call a convention, the delegates to such convention shall be chosen at the next general election and the convention shall assemble for the consideration of such proposals as shall have received a favorable vote in said election, in such mode and manner as shall be prescribed. No change in, or amendment to, this Constitution proposed by such convention shall become effective, unless within the limitations of the call of the convention, and unless approved and ratified by a majority of the qualified voters voting separately on such change or amendment at an election to be held in such manner and on such date as may be fixed by the convention. No such convention shall be held oftener than once in six years.

Section 4. The Legislature shall have no power to grant divorces; but may authorize the Courts of Justice to grant them for such causes as may be specified by law; but such laws shall be general and uniform in their operation throughout the state.

Section 5. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale of lottery tickets in this state.

Section 6. The Legislature shall have no power to change the names of persons, or to pass acts adopting or legitimatizing persons, but shall, by general laws, confer this power on the courts.

Section 7. The General Assembly shall define and regulate interest, and set maximum effective rates thereof.

If no applicable statute is hereafter enacted, the effective rate of interest collected shall not exceed ten (10%) percent per annum.

All provisions of existing statutes regulating rates of interest and other charges on loans shall remain in full force and effect until July 1, 1980, unless earlier amended or repealed.

Section 8. The Legislature shall have no power to suspend any general law for the benefit of any particular individual, nor to pass any law for the benefit of individuals inconsistent with the general laws of the land; nor to pass any law granting to any individual or individuals, rights, privileges, immunitie [immunities, or exemptions other than such as may be, by the same law extended to any member of the community, who may be able to bring himself within the provisions of such law. No corporation shall be created or its powers increased or diminished by special laws but the General Assembly shall provide by general laws for the organization of all corporations, hereafter created, which laws may, at any time, be altered or repealed, and no such alteration or repeal shall interfere with or divest rights which have become vested.

Section 9. The Legislature shall have the right to vest such powers in the Courts of Justice, with regard to private and local affairs, as may be expedient.

The General Assembly shall have no power to pass a special, local or private act having the effect of removing the incumbent from any municipal or county office or abridging the term or altering the salary prior to the end of the term for which such public officer was selected, and any act of the General Assembly private or local in form or effect applicable to a particular county or municipality either in its governmental or its proprietary capacity shall be void and of no effect unless the act by its terms either requires the approval of a two-thirds vote of the local legislative body of the municipality or county, or requires approval in an election by a majority of those voting in said election in the municipality or county affected.

Any municipality may by ordinance submit to its qualified voters in a general or special election the question: "Shall this municipality adopt home rule?"

In the event of an affirmative vote by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, and until the repeal thereof by the same procedure, such municipality shall be a home rule municipality, and the General Assembly shall act with respect to such home rule municipality only by laws which are general in terms and effect.

Any municipality after adopting home rule may continue to operate under its existing charter, or amend the same, or adopt and thereafter amend a new charter to provide for its governmental and proprietary powers, duties and functions, and for the form, structure, personnel and organization of its government, provided that no charter provision except with respect to compensation of municipal personnel shall be effective if inconsistent with any general act of the General Assembly and provided further that the power of taxation of such municipality shall not be enlarged or increased except by general act of the General Assembly. The General Assembly shall by general law provide the exclusive methods by which municipalities may be created, merged, consolidated and dissolved and by which municipal boundaries may be altered.

A charter or amendment may be proposed by ordinance of any home rule municipality, by a charter commission provided for by act of the General Assembly and elected by the qualified voters of a home rule municipality voting thereon or, in the absence of such act of the General Assembly, by a charter commission of seven (7) members, chosen at large not more often than once in two (2) years, in a municipal election pursuant to petition for such election signed by qualified voters of a home rule municipality not less in number than ten (10%) percent of those voting in the then most recent general municipal election.

It shall be the duty of the legislative body of such municipality to publish any proposal so made and to submit the same to its qualified voters at the first general state election which shall be held at least sixty (60) days after such publication and such proposal shall become effective sixty (60) days after approval by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon.

The General Assembly shall not authorize any municipality to tax incomes, estates, or inheritances, or to impose any other tax not authorized by Sections 28 or 29 of Article II of this Constitution. Nothing herein shall be construed as invalidating the provisions of any municipal charter in existence at the time of the adoption of this amendment.

The General Assembly may provide for the consolidation of any or all of the governmental and corporate functions now or hereafter vested in municipal corporations with the governmental and corporate functions now or hereafter vested in the counties in which such municipal corporations are located; provided, such consolidations shall not become effective until submitted to the qualified voters residing within the municipal corporation and in the county outside thereof, and approved by a majority of those voting within the municipal corporation and by a majority of those voting in the county outside the municipal corporation.

Section 10. A well regulated system of internal improvement is calculated to develop, the resources of the state, and promote the happiness and prosperity of her citizens, therefore it ought to be encouraged by the General Assembly.

Section 11. There shall be a homestead exemption from execution in an amount of five thousand dollars or such greater amount as the General Assembly may establish. The General Assembly shall also establish personal property exemptions. The definition and application of the homestead and personal property exemptions and the manner in which they may be waived shall be as prescribed by law.

Section 12. The state of Tennessee recognizes the inherent value of education and encourages its support. The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance, support and eligibility standards of a system of free public schools. The General Assembly may establish and support such post-secondary educational institutions, including public institutions of higher learning, as it determines.

Section 13. The General Assembly shall have power to enact laws for the protection and preservation of game and fish, within the state, and such laws may be enacted for and applied and enforced in particular counties or geographical districts, designated by the General Assembly.

Section 14. [Repealed.]

Section 15. No person shall in time of peace be required to perform any service to the public on any day set apart by his religion as a day of rest.

Section 16. The declaration of rights hereto prefixed is declared to be a part of the Constitution of the state, and shall never be violated on any pretense whatever. And to guard against transgression of the high powers we have delegated, we declare that everything in the bill of rights contained, is excepted out of the general powers of the government, and shall forever remain inviolate.

Section 17. No county office created by the Legislature shall be filled otherwise than by the people or the County Court.

Schedule

Section 1. That no inconvenience may arise from a change of the Constitution, it is declared that the governor of the state, the members of the General Assembly and all officers elected at or after the general election of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy, shall hold their offices for the terms prescribed in this Constitution.

Officers appointed by the courts shall be filled by appointment, to be made and to take effect during the first term of the court held by judges elected under this Constitution.

All other officers shall vacate their places thirty days after the day fixed for the election of their successors under this Constitution.

The secretary of state, comptroller and treasurer shall hold their offices until the first session of the present General Assembly occurring after the ratification of this Constitution and until their successors are elected and qualified.

The officers then elected shall hold their offices until the fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and seventy three.

Section 2. At the first election of judges under this Constitution there shall be elected six judges of the Supreme Court, two from each grand division of the state, who shall hold their offices for the term herein prescribed.

In the event any vacancy shall occur in the office of either of said judges at any time after the first day of January one thousand eight hundred seventy three; it shall remain unfilled and the court shall from that time be constituted of five judges. While the court shall consist of six judges they may sit in two sections, and may hear and determine causes in each at the same time, but not in different grand divisions at the same time.

When so sitting the concurrence of two judges shall be necessary to a decision. The attorney general and reporter for the state shall be appointed after the election and qualification of the judges of the Supreme Court herein provided for.

Section 3. Every judge and every officer of the executive department of this state, and every sheriff holding over under this Constitution, shall, within twenty days after the ratification of this Constitution is proclaimed, take an oath to support the same, and the failure of any officer to take such oath shall vacate his office.

Section 4. The time which has elapsed from the sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and sixty one until the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty seven shall not be computed, in any cases affected by the statutes of limitation, nor shall any writ of error be affected by such lapse of time.

TENNESSEE BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
1148 Foster Avenue
Nashville, TN 37210-4406

Legislative Liaison – Special Agent in Charge David Jennings – 726-7809

The TBI was created in March 1951 as the Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification and placed within the Department of Safety as a result of the Tennessee Press Association bringing to the attention of the Tennessee General Assembly the need for a state law enforcement agency to assist local agencies with difficult criminal investigations.

In 1980 the TBI was re-established as an independent department and renamed the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation with the purpose to effectively carry out investigations of any kind which the District Attorneys General determine to be of major importance, and where the legislature or a governor's executive order mandates investigations considered important to the citizens of Tennessee.
