ERRATA

On April 27, 1978 (page 3536), the following amendment was inadvertently omitted from the Report of the Conference Committee on Senate Bill No. 1350 which was adopted and made the action of the House:

Section 2(b) of Senate Bill No. 1350 is hereby deleted in its entirety, and amended to read as follows so as to exclude coal or other solid minerals and to limit the provisions of this Section in duration:

> (b) For a period of one (1) year after the ten (10) year period provided for in Subsection (a) has expired; the term "production" as used in Subsection (a) of this chapter shall include the actual production of minerals under any lease hereof or by the owner of any mineral interest, or when operations are being conducted by any owner of a lease or mineral interest for injection, withdrawal, storage, or disposal of water, gas, or other fluid substances, or when rentals or royalties are being paid by the owner of such leases for the purpose of delaying or enjoying the use of exercise of the rights thereunder or when the same is being carried out on any tract with which such leasehold interest may be unitized or pooled for production purposes. During said one (1) year period provided for herein, any act by the owner of any leasehold or mineral interest pursuant to or authorized by the instrument creating such interest shall be effective to continue in force all rights granted by such instrument, notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (a) of this chapter.

This amendment shall apply to a drilling unit of no more than the number of acres provided for under the pooling clause of the lease and provided there is compliance with the Rules of the Tennessee Oil & Gas Board as set forth in Paragraph 1040-2-4-01 (well spacing).

Sections 2(c), 2(d), and 2(e) are hereby deleted in their entirety.
