GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Governor Wilder, Speaker Murray, members of the General Assembly, Governor Alexander, members of the Supreme Court, Constitutional

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1987--INAUGURATION

Officers, members of the Congressional Delegation and fellow Tennesseans:

There is no amount of gratitude that can be adequate for the honor you have given me.

Permit me to begin with a special word to two people.

First, to my mother. I am here today because of you. You taught me right from wrong. In the good times and in the hard times, you are always there. For everything, I thank you from the heart.

To Governor Alexander. For eight years you worked to move this state in the right direction. For all you have done for Tennessee you have my respect, my appreciation and my friendship.

Today is a special day for Tennesseans. It is a day to renew our hope. It is a day to dedicate ourselves to what Tennessee can do and to what Tennessee can be. We stand here on a plaza dedicated to those Tennesseans who died for what we believe. It is appropriate today that we pause to remember who we are, where we came from and what we have been taught.

That the son of a sharecropper could stand here today is not a personal story. It is the story of all of us.

When I was a child, the majority of Tennesseans were struggling just to survive. A half-century later our sons and daughters are astronauts, ambassadors and winners of the Nobel Prize. Throughout the world, Tennessee's voice is heard among the leaders of business and government.

The success we have enjoyed in Tennessee is a source of pride. But it must be much more. As we approach our third century, our success must serve as a challenge to finish the task left undone.

During the past year, I listened to the hopes and frustrations of thousands of Tennesseans. From the rural communities to the neighborhoods of our great urban centers, one message came back again and again. Tennesseans feel good about themselves. They do think our state is moving in the right direction.

But Tennesseans also see enormous changes taking place in our society. In their eyes and in their handshakes, you can sense the concern that not all of Tennessee is sharing in our prosperity. In one town after another, communities have been shaken by the closing of industries that will never reopen. They are worried by the sight of family farms being sold and the large numbers of people who cannot find work.

It there is one challenge to confront in the close of the century, it will be to see that no area of Tennessee -- urban or rural -- is left on its own because of economic forces beyond its control. No family that favored its strong children or failed to help a child in trouble would be worthy of the name. No state that chooses to ignore its troubled regions and people while watching others thrive can call itself justified.

My message to the people of Tennessee will be that we are all family. No group or region will be favored. And none will be forgotten.

In 95 counties, I made a simple pledge to the citizens of this state. I promised to be honest and to be fair. And I promised to offer the people of Tennessee a government as hard-working and realistic as they are.

Most Tennesseans believe they have all the government they want and probably more than they need. I agree.

But let us not forget that for two centuries we have been a people of compassion. A state as blessed as ours can provide adequate, reasonable and affordable health care. We are capable of being a society in which families can live in decent housing. It is not beyond our reach to have an educational system that enables each young man and woman to go as far as they can on their own. And it is within our vision to live in a land where the water is clean and the environment is a sacred trust for our children.

The challenges before us are enormous. They will not be solved with good intentions. And they will not be solved with "government as usual."

Our future demands that we bring a new generation of leadership to state government. It demands young men and women who are not afraid to question old notions, who are not afraid to try new ideas just because they might fail.

But our future in Tennessee also demands that we look not upon government as the answer to all our problems. Despite all the parades and all the marble halls, it is not the government that makes this state what it is. Government cannot eliminate poverty. It cannot provide the community pride that gives us quality schools and safe neighborhoods. And government certainly cannot legislate goodness.

Government can inspire and government can provide us with vision. But there is one thing we must teach our children well. In business, in the classroom or on the athletic field, our greatness will always lie in the spirit and energy that make us Tennesseans.

In a few moments you will give me a great responsibility. To stay close to you. To be worthy of you. To reflect what you are. To be one of you.

I hope when my time as governor has ended, people might remember this about our administration.

That we were wise enough to address our problems without spending ourselves into bankruptcy.

That we were strong enough to accommodate order with justice.

And brave enough to bring opportunity and hope to those who had neither.

My predecessors have laid the foundation for a Tennessee beyond the imagination of those who stood here only a generation ago. After more than a century of war, struggle and sacrifice, the sun is once again rising and shinning on Tennessee. From the mountains in the east to the banks of the river in the west, the future is ours for the taking.

As I take this solemn pledge, I say to every Tennessean: Our day is here. Our time is now. Our best is yet to come!

OATH OF OFFICE

The Honorable Ray L. Brock, Jr., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, administered the Oath of Office to Governor Ned McWherter, as prescribed by law.

Governor Ned McWherter and Chief Justice Ray L. Brock, Jr. signed the Oath of Office.

Thereupon, Mr. President Wilder declared that the Honorable Ned McWherter was duly, legally and constitutionally inaugurated the Governor of the State of Tennessee for the ensuing four years.

The Tennessee National Guard gave the Governor's Salute.

The benediction was given by Reverend Jimmy Terry, Pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church of Clarksville, Tennessee.

A member of the Tennessee National Guard served Governor McWherter vanilla wafers and coffee.

16. RESOLUTIONS. All resolutions must be prefiled with the Office of the Chief Clerk by 4:00 p.m. the day preceding date of introduction. RESOLUTIONS WHICH HAVE NOT BEEN ASSIGNED A SYSTEM ENTRY CODE BY THE OFFICE OF LEGAL SERVICES SHALL NOT BE ACCEPTED FOR PREFILING BY THE OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK.

Congratulatory and memorializing resolutions shall automatically be referred to the Committee on Calendar and Rules to be placed by the officers on the Consent Calendar pursuant to Rule No. 49.

Joint resolutions calling for joint conventions shall be referred by the Speaker to a committee consisting of the Speaker, the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader for immediate consideration. The committee shall report its recommendations concerning the proposed joint convention to the House.

All other House resolutions shall be referred to the appropriate committee for consideration.

26. NO MOTION TO ADJOURN UNTIL FURTHER BUSINESS. When a motion to adjourn shall have been made and failed, the Speaker shall not entertain another motion to adjourn until some business has been transacted since the last motion to adjourn was voted upon.

28. DEMAND OF ROLL CALL. Any question or motion (except final passage of a bill) may be put to the House by a voice vote at the discretion of the Speaker; provided, however, that, as required by the Constitution of Tennessee, any five (5) members of the House may require a roll call of the membership of the House and said members desiring a roll call shall indicate their desire by raising their hands. All votes taken upon final passage on third consideration of a general bill and all votes taken on demand by any five (5) members as provided for shall be taken by the electronic roll call system, provided that the Speaker may at his discretion require the calling of the names of the members in alphabetical order and each member shall then answer "Aye" or "No" when his name is called by the Clerk without debate. Whenever the electronic roll call system is used, the Clerk shall preserve the record of the votes of the members by making the printed roll call as authenticated by the roll call system a part of his rough journal. All members casting votes by the electronic roll call machine shall be at their proper desks at the time for voting with the exception of the Speaker and the sponsor moving passage of the bill under consideration. In the event the electronic roll call system is inoperative, all questions shall be put to the House by voice vote or by calling the roll as circumstances may require.

38. WHEN A BILL OR RESOLUTION FAILS TO RECEIVE CONSTITUTIONAL MAJORITY. When any bill or resolution is voted upon, but fails to receive a constitutional majority, the same shall be automatically re-referred to the Committee on Calendar and Rules. Any bill so re-referred during the final seven (7) days of the session shall not be again placed on the calendar for consideration during that session unless called for by a favorable vote of two-thirds (2/3) of the members to which the House is entitled under the Constitution, in which case it shall be placed in the next available position on the calendar for a succeeding day. However, no bill or resolution may be voted on more than twice during the 95th General Assembly.

41. WHO ALLOWED IN ROOMS OF CLERKS. No persons other than members and employees of the General Assembly shall be allowed in the offices of the Chief Clerk and Chief Engrossing Clerk during the period the House is in floor session.

43. FILING OF BILLS FOR INTRODUCTION. (A) BILLS WHICH HAVE NOT BEEN ASSIGNED A SYSTEM ENTRY CODE BY THE OFFICE OF LEGAL SERVICES SHALL NOT BE ACCEPTED FOR FILING OR PREFILING BY THE OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK.

(b) All bills for introduction shall be filed with the Chief Clerk no later than 4:00 p.m. on the day preceding the date of introduction.

(c) In the interim between sessions, any member of the House may pre-file a bill or resolution for introduction in the next session and the procedure shall be as follows:

(1) The bill or resolution shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the House by the member in the number and form prescribed by the Rules of the House.

(2) The Chief Clerk shall number the bill or resolution and note thereon the date of the first day of the next session, on which the bill or resolution will be introduced and, in the case of bills, will pass first consideration.

(3) All general bills or resolutions of general interest shall be printed and distributed in the same manner as bills and resolutions introduced during a session.

(4) After written request of the sponsor of a pre-filed bill or resolution, the Speaker of the House may in his discretion refer the bill or resolution to the appropriate committee to be studied and considered by the committee, or a subcommittee thereof, during the interim between sessions.

(5) Legal analyses of bills shall be prepared and distributed in the same manner as during sessions.

(6) Fiscal notes shall be prepared for pre-filed bills in the same manner as during sessions.

44. BILLS TO BE NUMBERED. Each bill introduced shall be numbered in numerical order by the Clerk and said bill shall bear said number and be designated by said number in all future considerations of the same in the House. No bill shall be assigned a number by the Clerk or be referred by the Speaker to a committee for consideration unless it contains a title or caption; an enacting clause stating, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee", and language following the enacting clause purporting to state new law or to amend or repeal existing law. FURTHER, NO BILL THAT HAS NOT BEEN ASSIGNED A SYSTEM ENTRY CODE BY THE OFFICE OF LEGAL SERVICES SHALL BE ACCEPTED OR NUMBERED BY THE OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CLERK.

58. CONCURRENCE OF HOUSE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS. When a House bill is returned from the Senate with an amendment or a substitute for the House bill, the "ayes" and "noes" shall be called for on the concurrence in the amendment or the passage of the substituted bill and entered on the journal of the House. No said amendment or substituted bill shall be considered as concurred in or passed unless a majority of the members to which the House is entitled shall have voted affirmatively therefor and the said vote shall have been entered on the journal. Any measure coming from the Senate with an amendment or a substitute for the House bill shall lie over one (1) day except on the final two (2) legislative days of a session. No measure coming from the Senate with an amendment or any other Senate action requiring House concurrence or non-concurrence shall be acted on by the House until the sponsor of the measure has announced that the measure has been returned from the Senate requiring further action by the House, stating what action the Senate has taken, and briefly explaining what effect the Senate action will have on the measure. This announcement shall be made on the legislative day prior to consideration of the measure by the House under the order of unfinished business except during the final four (4) legislative days of the session. The Chief Clerk will see that an impact summary of the Senate action on the measure as prepared by Legislative Services is placed on a special Senate Message Calendar to be printed and placed on the members' desks on the legislative day immediately following the announcement. The impact summaries will appear in numerical order regardless of the nature of the measure.

62. BILLS -- HOW KILLED. The adoption of a motion to reject shall have the effect of killing a bill. When said motion is made on first or second consideration, then the bill or resolution and motion shall lie over one (1) day.

When a bill receives a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to pass on third and final consideration, or when a resolution receives a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to adopt or concur on third and final consideration, the Speaker, after the announcement of the vote by the Clerk, shall say "(document type and number), having received a constitutional majority in the negative on a motion to pass on third and final consideration (or adopt or concur), I hereby declare the floor now open for a motion to reject." If a member makes the motion to reject, that motion and the bill or resolution in question will lie over the remainder of that legislative day and the Speaker will direct the Chief Clerk to place the bill or resolution in question at the heel of the regular calendar set for the next legislative day.

When a bill or resolution is considered on the next legislative day, no other motion shall be in order until the motion to reject has been disposed of and the Speaker has declared the final status of the bill or resolution in question. If the motion to reject passes, the Speaker, after the announcement of the vote by the Clerk, shall say "(document type and number), having received a constitutional majority in the negative on the motion to pass on third and final consideration (or adopt or concur), and having received a constitutional majority in the affirmative on the motion to reject, I hereby declare (document type and number) rejected under the terms set forth in Article II, Section 19, of the Constitution of the State of Tennessee."

If no motion to reject is made, or if a motion to reject is made and fails to receive a constitutional majority, the Speaker shall re-refer the bill or resolution in question to the Committee on Calendar and Rules.

If the motion to reject as provided for in this rule is passed, then (a) pursuant to Article II, Section 19, Tennessee Constitution, no bill containing the same substance shall be passed into a law during this General Assembly, and (b) the motion to reconsider shall be out of order.

64. STANDING COMMITTEES. There shall be the following standing committees, each of which the Speaker and the Speaker Pro Tempore shall be voting members, to wit:

(10) State and Local Government
(11) Transportation

Provided, however, the Speaker Pro Tempore shall only vote when the Speaker is not present and voting, except on those two (2) standing committees to which the Speaker Pro Tempore has been regularly assigned.

There shall be a committee on Calendar and Rules to be composed of the Speaker, the Speaker Pro Tempore, the Majority Leader or his designee, the Majority Caucus Chairman, the Minority Leader or his designee, the Minority Caucus Chairman, A MEMBER OF THE MAJORITY AND MINORITY PARTIES APPOINTED BY AND TO SERVE AT THE PLEASURE OF THE SPEAKER, one (1) chairman, one (1) vice chairman, and one (1) secretary appointed by the Speaker under House Rule 7; and the chairman, vice chairman, and secretary of each standing committee listed above. It shall set the calendar and establish hours and places of meeting of the various standing committees. In establishing the hours and places of meeting of the various standing committees, the Committee on Calendar and Rules shall, insofar as possible, establish regular meeting times and days which shall avoid conflict among the various standing committees. No standing committee shall have more than thirty (30) appointed members. No member shall serve on more than two (2) standing committees, exclusive of the Committee on Calendar and Rules, the Joint Legislative Services Committee, and the Fiscal Review Committee, except the Speaker and the Speaker Pro Tempore who shall be voting members of all standing committees.

70. AMENDMENTS IN STANDING COMMITTEES AND BILLS INITIATED BY STANDING COMMITTEES. The standing committees may initiate legislation as a committee in addition to acting upon legislation referred to such standing committees. Such legislation initiated by the committee shall be introduced by the chairman or his designee and such other members of the committee as may wish to join therein.

When a standing committee recommends a bill for passage only with the adoption of an amendment or amendments approved by a majority vote of the standing committee, the committee shall cause such committee amendment or amendments to be prepared in proper typewritten form and filed with the Chief Clerk of the House. Bills reported out of standing committees with committee amendments cannot be considered by the Committee on Calendar and Rules unless the committee amendment is attached thereto. NO COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS CAN BE ACCEPTED BY THE CHIEF CLERK FOR FILING UNLESS SAID AMENDMENT IS LABELED WITH A SYSTEM ENTRY CODE ASSIGNED BY THE OFFICE OF LEGAL SERVICES. The Chairman of said standing committee shall prepare said committee amendment and file same with the Chief Clerk within twenty-four (24) hours from the time the bill was reported out. The preceding two (2) sentences shall not apply to the General Appropriations Bill. No later than twenty-four (24) hours prior to the time the bill recommended for amendment is scheduled for consideration on the floor of the House, the Chief Clerk shall cause the recommended amendment or amendments to be reproduced and a copy to be placed upon the desk of each member of the House. After the bill has been explained and its passage moved by the sponsor, the chairman of the standing committee recommending the amendment, or his designee, shall then be recognized for the explanation of and debate on such amendment or amendments. It shall be the responsibility of the Chief Clerk to ensure that the foregoing procedures are observed in the consideration of amendments recommended by standing committees. It shall also be the responsibility of the Chief Clerk to denote clearly that such amendment or amendments were recommended in a standing committee and to write on the face of the amendment the committee which made the recommendation and the date on which the recommendation was made.

79. ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER TO GOVERN. If any question shall arise which is not provided for in these rules, the same shall be governed by Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (latest edition existing on date of adoption of these rules), which is hereby adopted.

80. UNIFORM RULES OF COMMITTEES.

(9) When a standing committee recommends a bill for passage only with the adoption of an amendment or amendments approved by a majority vote of the standing committee, the committee shall cause such committee amendment or amendments to be prepared in proper typewritten form and filed with the Chief Clerk of the House as soon as is practicable. The amendment or amendments should be properly designated as having been recommended in committee and should be signed by the committee chairman or his designee before being presented to the Chief Clerk who shall then observe the rules of the House in causing such amendment or amendments to be printed and distributed to all members of the House. NO COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS CAN BE ACCEPTED BY THE CHIEF CLERK FOR FILING UNLESS SAID AMENDMENT IS LABELED WITH A SYSTEM ENTRY CODE ASSIGNED BY THE OFFICE OF LEGAL SERVICES. The Calendar and Rules Committee shall not consider any bill recommended by a standing committee until any amendment or amendments adopted by the standing committee have been attached to the bill. The chairman shall be responsible for delivering within twenty-four (24) hours such amendments in typewritten form to the Chief Clerk, who shall attach such amendments to the bill.

Proposed New Rule - This rule shall be numbered as Rule 16 and the following rules shall be renumbered accordingly.

16. SYSTEM ENTRY CODE. Before any bill or resolution can be accepted by the Chief Clerk for the purpose of prefiling and assigning a number, or any committee amendment or any other amendment in the first degree can be accepted for the purpose of attaching it to a bill, the document in question shall have a system entry code affixed thereto by the Office of Legal Services.
