

FISCAL NOTE

SB 3862 - HB 3801

February 14, 2008

SUMMARY OF BILL: Limits the definition of “injury” as it applies to workers’ compensation claims by stating that if an injury occurs while an employee is at their residence, unless the employee is actively engaged in a defined work activity within an established immediate work area, the injury shall not apply to workers’ compensation claims.

ESTIMATED FISCAL IMPACT:

Decrease State Expenditures – Not Significant/Risk Management Fund

Decrease Local Expenditures – Not Significant

Assumptions:

- Very few, if any, such workers’ compensation claims would apply to state or local government employees.
- Any decrease in state or local government expenditures associated with fewer qualifying workers’ compensation claims is estimated to be not significant.
