Assumptions:

- The federal law governing the ability for a retired officer to carry a firearm is 18 U.S.C. § 926C(d), or the Law Enforcement Officer Safety Act (LEOSA).
- Pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. § 38-8-123, the POST Commission is required to determine a retired law enforcement officer's eligibility to carry a firearm under federal law.
- Federal LEOSA certification requires annual renewal. Both the initial and renewal certification require a $10 fee remitted to the POST Commission.
- According to the POST Commission, there are approximately 1,100 applicants currently certified under the LEOSA program.
- Pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. § 38-8-123(c), eligibility of an applicant is determined by a background check of the applicant's fingerprints through both the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI) and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).
- A national criminal background check cost $35.15.
- The disbursement of this fee are as follows:
  - TBI: $13.25;
  - FBI: $13.25; and
  - Applicable vendor: $8.65.
- According to the POST Commission's application for initial and renewal LEOSA certification, an applicant is required to submit a national criminal background check upon both initial and renewal of their LEOSA certification.

- A recurring decrease in state revenue to the TBI of $14,575 (1,100 certifications x $13.25) beginning in FY20-21.
- It is assumed that the decrease in revenue to the TBI to conduct fewer background checks offsets equally with the expenditure to perform them.
- A recurring decrease in state expenditures to the TBI of $14,575 beginning in FY20-21.
- A recurring decrease in state revenue due to annual renewal certification fees of $11,000 (1,100 x $10) beginning in FY20-21.
- According to the POST Commission, postage and printing expenditures to administer the application and issuance process is $1,275.
- A recurring decrease in state expenditures of $1,275 beginning in FY20-21.
